Afridi Warrior Army Fought

Four-Pound in Attempt to Hold Drive on Peshawar as City Mans Defenses

Weapons Used by Thousands of Tribesmen Traced to Arsenals of Russia

PESHAWAR (India) Aug. 8. (AP) ...ritish troops went into action today against Afridi tribesmen advancing on Peshawar.

The strength of the horde of Afghan warriors is estimated variously at 5000 to 10,000. The fighting thus far, two advance guard skirmishes, has not been of a general nature and the casualties have not been divided.

In the city, which is in the path of the attempted invasion, it is believed only a few on either side have been wounded.

Airplanes continued bombing all day and reconnoitering over the hilly country in which hostile tribesmen have concentrated in what is believed to be the greatest effort to attempt to cross the border yearly.

Every possible precaution has been taken in Peshawar to guard the safety of residents.

A defensive line of troops has been formed between the city and the advancing enemy.

British airplanes, said to number a total of fifty, many of them bombers and all equipped with machine guns, are held in readiness to sweep over the opposing lines if any considerable movement is detected by scouts who are constantly patrolling the area by air and land.

There is actual fear for the safety of the city as fast, military and police authorities are ready for any emergency.

[illegible] USED IN RAID
[illegible] BACK TO RUSSIA

LONDON, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—The British government has been conducting a search for the source of the arms used by the rebellious Afridi tribes on the Afghan border, and is in the process of elimination that is certain to end in the certainty that the arms came from Russia.

Ammunition for the Afridis is of arms from India as the border was closely guarded and the Maharajah of Kashmir was co-operating with the British in preventing gun running. The Baluchistan border also was effectively closed, having only two sources—through Persia on the west and India on the north.

The fact that trouble has arisen in Northern Afghanistan points to Russia, however, even if arms were smuggled over Persia the southern tribesmen who want them as much as do the northerners, would have never been able to get through. When the city of Turangzai made his first raids on Peshawar, British airmen spotted large dumps of arms and munitions near the Russian border.

The motor railway system now makes it possible to transport arms from Moscow to within two days march of the Afghan border, and it is certain that Russia was the source of arms used by the raiders against the British.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Aug. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Been reading a lot lately and seeing movie films of the French evacuating the Rhine. That's all fine away over in Europe, but what about the Republicans evacuating the South? They are moving back to the Democrats. They have been holding down foreign territory for ten years. This being an off-Presidential year the Democrats look great. The Republicans always look bad on three years out of four. But when they look good is election year. A voter don't expect much. If you give him one good year he is satisfied.

BROTHER OF MARY WILL WED AGAIN

Jack Pickford and Former New York Stage Actress File Notice of Intention

SALINAS, Aug. 8. (AP)—Jack Pickford, screen luminary, and Miss Mary Mulhern, former New York stage actress, filed notice of intention to marry today at the Monterey County Clerk's office here. Pickford gave his age as 33 years, Miss Mulhern, 22. Both gave their residence as Hollywood.

Friends said the couple will be married at Del Monte Lodge in Pebble Beach immediately after obtaining the marriage license. Under California law three days must intervene between the application for and the issuance of the necessary document.

MARRIAGE OF FAIR FORECAST BY "TIMES"

The marriage of Jack Pickford and Mary Mulhern, former New York stage actress, will mark the former's third matrimonial venture. His last wife was Marilyn Miller, musical comedy star. His first, Olive Thomas, died in Paris a number of years ago.

Marriage of Pickford, who is a brother of Mary Pickford, was exclusively forecast in The Times last April. At that time Pickford maintained they were merely "good friends," but their many acquaintances in Hollywood predicted they would marry eventually.

The wedding will culminate a friendship of long standing which began in New York, where they met. Miss Mulhern recently came here for talking pictures and their friendship was renewed.

CHINA FORCE MUTINIES

Hankow Defense Weakened

Nationalists Dealt Blow from Within as Reds March Against City

Revolters Quickly Disarmed, but Situation Admitted to be Critical

HANKOW, Aug. 8. (AP)—A blow from within—mutiny of a portion of the Hankow garrison—struck the Nationalist government tonight as preparations were rushed to defend the city against an expected attack of converging Communist bands.

The mutineers, who include the commander's bodyguard, were promptly disarmed but the defending force is weakened and the situation is considered critical. Strict military discipline prevails, as guards patrol streets and walk their beats in front of public utilities, communication offices and public buildings.

Continuing their rigid policy of reprisals against Communists, Nationalist troops tonight executed twelve captured Reds. The execution took place at Wuchang, across the Yangtse River. Six other Communists were executed here earlier today.

Meanwhile the influx of Chinese from the countryside continues in Hankow as well as sister cities of Wuchang and Hanyang, also under Communist threat.

WARSHIPS STAND BY

The foreign districts of the three cities are crowded. Foreign warships are standing by in the Yangtze River to protect their nationals and foreign property.

Military authorities captured two Reds in the plant of the Hankow Light and Power Company, disrupting what they say was a Communist plot to seize the plant and throw the city into darkness. An attempt to disable telephone service also was frustrated.

A Red threat to enter Hankow unless $100,000 (Mexican) is paid Communist agents was received by the local branch of the American National City Bank.

MINING CENTER TAKEN

From other sections come reports of Communist activity, especially in Southeast Hupeh Province where Tayeh, important iron-mining center, has been captured. Unconfirmed reports say the important city of Chanteh in Hunan Province has fallen to Reds. Chinese banks in Kiangsi Province is closed on receipt of word of the approach of Communist bands.

Kiukiang, important port on the Yangtze, is believed to be marked by the Reds as dispatches express belief it will be the first objective in a drive for Kiangsi cities. There was an exodus of foreigners there recently when approach of a strong band of Communists was reported.

British naval authorities further increased naval strength here today by ordering a second 10,000-ton cruiser, the Berwick, up the river from Weihaiwei. The cruiser Cumberland already is stationed here.

HUGE ROUND-UP OF REBELS REPORTED

SHANGHAI, Aug. 8. (AP)—Twenty thousand Northern Alliance rebels, according to Nationalist government dispatches tonight, were captured in Shantung Province during the past week in important victories.

Taian City was reported captured in operations south of Tsinanfu, while east of that city insurgents were forced to withdraw westward.

In counter-claims, Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang asserts his northerners have overwhelmed Nationalists in Honan Province.

Changhsa advices tonight said Rev. Allen N. Cameron, American missionary reported to have been stabbed to death in the Communist-dominated city, is safe. The advices were not confirmed. No details were given.

NEW MODES BOOTLEGGED, SAYS PARIS

"Ring" to Steal Styles Uncovered by Police in Arrest of American

PARIS, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—A huge ring of counterfeiters stealing dress designs for American consumption was discovered in Paris today. Police raids on the home of Mrs. Caroline G. Davis, 38 years of age, of East Orange, N. J., as well as several French associates, will lead to her prosecution for stealing and counterfeiting dress designs from the leading Paris couturiers.

The protests of several dressmakers led to a rigorous investigation terminating in the raid on the apartment of Mrs. Davis. A large number of designs and samples and a considerable number of copies destined for immediate shipment to America were found.

The police also discovered a secret code which the correspondents used to cable descriptions of models while drawings were mailed.

An examination of the accounts of the organization disclosed that most of the correspondents are earning wages averaging $1600 to $2000 a month.

According to police reports, more than 1000 dress designs were seized in Mrs. Davis's apartment and more discoveries are expected. The police believe that other Americans are involved.

RIVERS RUN BANK FULL IN ARIZONA

Arroyos Normally Dry Become Wild Torrents as Rains Still Sweep State

PHOENIX, Aug. 8. (AP)—Rivers ran bank-full tonight and arroyos, normally dry at this season, are raging torrents as the most severe summer rains in recent years continue to sweep Arizona and the northern portion of Sonora, Mex.

Several communities are waterbound.

A nine-hour storm at Ray, in Southeastern Arizona, flooded a shaft of a copper mine, wrecked one building and flooded basements.

Rain continued at Safford, also in Southeastern Arizona, where houses and stores were inundated to a depth of a foot yesterday.

Fear was expressed by searchers for drivers of two oil trucks washed from the highway near Mayer, Ariz., today. No trace of the men have been found.

Most of the highways in the State are impassable due to landslides and washouts. Railroad traffic has been interrupted, and resumed in several sections. Air transportation is at a standstill, several airports being damaged.

At Mormon Flat Dam, near Phoenix, 4.49 inches of rain fell in less than twenty-four hours. The Gila River has added thousands of acre feet of water to the store in Coolidge Dam reservoir.

HUGE PLANE FLIES 'BLIND' WITH 'BEAM'

Ten Passengers on Board Craft Flown During Test From Chicago to Detroit

DETROIT, Aug. 8. (AP)—A transport pilot brought a trimotor plane loaded with ten passengers from Chicago to Detroit last night flying "blind," guided only by his instruments and directed radio beams.

The pilot, W. E. (Slim) Larned, of the Stout Air Lines, was sealed up in his cabin in front of the plane while over the municipal airport, Chicago, leaving only a small space for his observer to watch for approaching planes. Keeping his plane balanced by instruments, he guided his course by a Federal government air-mail radio beam as far as Laporte, Ind. From there he flew by compass until he picked up a directional beam from the Ford Airport near Jackson, Mich. The cabin was sealed until he arrived above the Detroit landing-field.

Reece Victory in Tennessee Fight Indicated

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Aug. 8. (AP) Although returns are incomplete, Representative Reese apparently was renominated to Congress in the First District Republican primary. Unofficial returns from 178 out of 240 precincts give Reece 17,388; Sam R. Price, 16,105.

J. Will Taylor, Republican, Second District, easily won the nomination to Congress from Judd Acuff, Knoxville.

The Reece-Price contest attracted attention when Reece made public a letter from President Hoover defending his legislative stand against the Norris plan for the operation of Muscle Shoals.

Rescue Device for Submarine Proves Success

CARTAGENA (Spain) Aug. 8. (AP) The Ministry of Marine announces a submarine rescue device invented by Capt. Arturo Genova has proved successful in tests.

His device is described as a type of "submarine elevator" in which a single man is sheltered each time it rises to the surface. It is said to be a special type of buoy in which a member of a sunken submarine crew can find refuge. The buoy rises to the surface, the man is taken aboard the rescue ship and the buoy is hauled back to the submarine.

Two series of tests were conducted during successive weeks.

NEWSPAPER TYPE SET BY TELEGRAPH

Latest Invention Serves Journals by Displacing Linotype Operator

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—Setting type by telegraph in a series of distant newspaper offices by the operation of a machine in a central office has been accomplished in the past month on newspapers served by the news wire of Westchester County Publishers, Inc., of this city. Announcement of the first practical use of the teletypesetter was made today by J. Noel Macy, president of the Westchester Newspaper Company.

A news dispatch may be cut or edited to a limited degree at the receiving end.

Rolls of tape, similar to that now widely in use on teletype machines, are the medium upon which the teletypesetter makes its impression. The operator depresses the keys of the transmitter and impressions are made on the tape as it passes through the machine. The tape looks like a perforated music roll. It passes through a device which reproduces in the receiving offices the identical impressions appearing on the punched tape at the transmitting end, and these actuate the typesetting machines.

KARUIZAWA (Japan) Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—Mt. Asama, eight miles from here, erupted at 10:20 this evening. This summer resort was shaken by a violent explosion which followed rumbling lasting several minutes. The explosion was followed by a rain of ashes and small stones which continued to fall heavily.

This is the third eruption of Asama since June, and is the most severe known here in many years.

More than 800 foreigners, mostly Americans, are spending the summer here. No danger is anticipated for Karuizawa unless the volcano emits larger stones.

If they are still up next Wednesday morning they will set a new record. Then they hope to continue for another week to round out a month or a 720-hour record.

HOOVER CALLS GOVERNORS FOR PARLEY ON DROUGHT

Relief Measures to be Planned for Twelve States Reported as Suffering Most

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—After another day in which his time and energies were devoted almost exclusively to the drought situation, President Hoover this afternoon summoned the governors of the twelve States worst affected to meet with him here next Thursday to outline plans for definite relief.

Wires were sent to the executives of Missouri, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Montana, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and Virginia. The President said that unless conditions improve in several other States not quite so badly stricken their governors also will be asked to attend the meeting.

Mr. Hoover expects the conference to develop effective State and local relief organizations with which the Federal government can co-operate to prevent suffering and hardship among farm families in so far as possible, and lessen the sacrifice of live stock. Such organizations, the President believes, must first be undertaken in the States and local communities.

President Hoover views the situation with deep concern. He expects the people of the nation to stand as one in assisting the distressed sections.

A million farm families are in the acutely affected area of blistering sun, dried-up streams and burned-out pastures. Two and a quarter million horses and mules, 6,000,000 cattle and 12,000,000 hogs and sheep are endangered. This is approximately 12 per cent of the farm animals in the United States.

Despite the tremendous crop losses assurance was given from the White House that the food supply of the nation is not seriously imperiled at this time. Prices of daily table commodities are not expected by the President to be materially boosted.

CONFERENCE CALLED

Announcing the calling of the conference of governors, the President said:

"As a result of conferences of the last few days which embraced the Cabinet, members of the Farm Board and the Farm Loan Board together with Presidents Thompson, Taber and Huff of the farm organizations, I have decided to ask the governors of the States most acutely affected by the drought to meet with us in Washington next Thursday in order to consider definite plans for organization of relief.

"Such organization will necessarily be undertaken by the States, and through them the counties with whom the various Federal agencies can co-operate.

"I now have the preliminary survey of the Department of Agriculture of the situation as of the 1st inst. It shows that the shortage of animal feed crops is most acute in Southeastern Missouri, Northern Arkansas, Southern Illinois, Southern Indiana, Southern Ohio, Kentucky, Northern West Virginia and Northern Virginia, with spots of less dimensions in Montana, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska—the latter three States having been the less acutely affected.

"I shall ask the governors of those States to attend.

"The feed crops in some other States are also reduced, the amount of ultimate reduction depending upon rain during the next two weeks. It may develop that we shall need to ask the governors of one or two other States also to attend.

ORGANIZE RELIEF

"In any event in the most acute areas we should now lay the foundation for effective local and State organization, the object of which is to prevent suffering amongst farm families deprived of support, and to prevent the sacrifice of live stock more than is necessary.

"In the acutely affected area, which I have mentioned, there are approximately 1,000,000 farm families who possess approximately 2,250,000 horses and mules, 6,000,000 cattle and 12,000,000 hogs and sheep.

"This represents approximately 12 per cent of the animals in the country. Obviously the individual farmers in the acute areas are differently affected. Their losses run all the way from a few per cent up to their entire animal feed crops. The actual numbers who are in distress will, therefore, be less than those gross figures.

"Secretary Hyde has instructed the county agents to make a further

Drought Unbroken Except in Parts of North Dakota and Minnesota

Mercury Tops 100 in Many Places in Middle West; Ohio Badly Affected

CHICAGO, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—Dispatches from everywhere in the midwestern and eastern States today reiterated the same woeful weather story—blistering heat and unbroken drought, except in portions of North Dakota and Minnesota, where heavy showers fell.

Southern Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Ohio, Maryland and West Virginia remained prostrate by the prolonged drought.

Carbondale, Ill., led the Midwest heat roster with a maximum of 111. John Hobbs, a chicken raiser, asserted that a nest of eggs deserted by a hen a week ago was hatching nevertheless.

Other high marks reported include:

HAIL IN INDIANA

While most of Indiana baked a hailstorm broke in the vicinity of Hudson, flattening grain. A deluge of rain fell west of Hudson and near Auburn, Ind., turning highways into running streams and marooning motorists for a time. This, however, was only a local storm.

Northern Iowa, Northern Nebraska, Southwestern South Dakota and Southwestern Minnesota continued to parch. The corn crop damage in that vicinity ranged from 25 to 70 per cent of the average yield.

At Annapolis, Md., State capital and seat of the Naval Academy, measures were taken against a water famine, the available supply being sufficient only for a week.

Except for scattered showers in Central Ohio that State's crops drooped further today under continued drought and extreme temperatures. The corn crop generally is lost, but heavy rains may still save potatoes, grapes and late apples in Ohio, according to the director of the State experimental station at Wooster. Water supplies were described as dangerously low at Canton and in two Cleveland suburbs, South Euclid and Mayfield Heights.

SEVEN DIE IN OHIO

Typical of conditions throughout the Middle West were reports coming from Columbus describing conditions in Ohio where 100 deg. readings were recorded throughout the State.

Seven lives were lost in Ohio during the day which could be attributed directly or indirectly to the heat, when four were drowned, two died from being overcome by heat

EAGLE'S WORDS STAY HOME

Storms Prevent Lindbergh's Voice from Spanning Sea, but Second Address Heard in America

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP)—Storms at sea, which could not keep Col. Charles A. Lindbergh from accomplishing his famous flight across the ocean, today prevented his voice from making a trans-Atlantic journey through the air. Just as he was ready to send his words on a longer voyage than he or any other man has ever made in a plane, a terrific electrical storm broke over the Atlantic and the most ambitious arrangements ever made for a world broadcast all went for naught. It was his first formal radio address, and it was to have been heard in the far corners of the world: Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia.

Luckily Col. Lindbergh knew nothing of the sudden opposition of the atmosphere and so was not aware until it was all over that his words had not reached their goal.

"Are you nervous?" some one asked in the little chilled room at the studios of the Columbia Broadcasting System just before the flying colonel began to speak.

He looked briefly about the soundproof cubicle, the two cylindrical microphones on their high pedestals, the officials huddled in a corner, his wife quietly smiling from a wicker chair, the voice testers going through their preparatory litany: "One, two, one, two, one, two."

"Why should I be nervous about going on the air?" asked the man to whom the air is home.

And then he proceeded to read his prepared address, unmindful that all his vast and waiting audience was deafened by the storm.

Fortunately two separate broadcasts of the Lindbergh speech had been arranged. The first, the one the storm destroyed, was a short-wave broadcast intended purely for other lands. That was at 3:30 p.m. E.S.T. The other, at 10 o'clock, was for domestic listeners, and also carried by short wave, so that if disappointed listeners in other continents cared to stay up until the

HOOVER PLANS AID ON DROUGHT

Governors of Twelve States Called to Capital

Relief Measure Survey to be Made Thursday

more searching and definite report upon later progress of the drought and the nature of the relief that will be necessary in the different counties. We are in hopes that we shall have this information in hand ready for the meeting of the Governors.

"The situation is one to cause a great deal of concern, but it must be borne in mind that the drought has mainly affected animal feed, the bulk of the direct human food production of the country being abundantly in hand.

"Nevertheless, there will be a great deal of privation among families in the drought areas due to the loss of income and the financial difficulties imposed upon them to carry their animals over the winter.

PROUD TO ASSIST

"The American people proudly take care of the necessities of their countrymen in time of stress or difficulty. Our first duty is to succor our suffering countrymen that this will be done, that their courage and spirit shall be maintained, and our second duty is to assure an effective organization for its consummation."

For the first time in many days the Federal Weather Bureau saw some relief in sight. It was not prepared to say how extensive this might be.

Another ray of hope was a report from the Agricultural Department this afternoon. It showed this crop to be affected less than had been anticipated and was so favorable under the circumstances that the stockmarket reaction was to send cotton prices down slightly. A cotton crop of 14,363,000 bales is indicated with acreage yield a little above that of last year.

NO FOOD SHORTAGE

There were still other hopeful signs scattered through a preliminary report on conditions submitted to the President today by the Department of Agriculture. There is as yet no prospect of a national food shortage.

"The winter wheat crop already harvested is ample," Secretary Hyde said. "The spring wheat crop, while it has undoubtedly deteriorated, perhaps as much as 10 per cent during the month of July should still be nearly equal to domestic four requirements.

"While the crop of potatoes in the intermediate States is not large, the late crop in commercial section of the northern States gives promise of a fair to good yield. The rice crop has not been seriously affected. Most of the acreage of edible beans is outside the drought area. The winter supply of fresh vegetables from southern sources will not be planted for some time.

CALIFORNIA HAS FRUIT

"The crop of canning tomatoes, while short, is not seriously so. The crop of canning peas has already been harvested and was produced north of the Gulf area. The early crop of canning beans was only fair; the late canning bean crop is produced outside the drought area.

"Fruit crops are not large but are not small enough to constitute a shortage, particularly since the California and other Pacific States fruit crops give good promise.

However, damage from drought to farm gardens and other crops grown for home food supply is causing some hardship."

With regard to animal feed, Secretary Hyde said the outlook in late July pointed to a production of about 90 per cent of an average crop of the feed grains, corn, oats, barley and grain sorghum; about 85 per cent of an average production of hay; or a combined feed production of approximately 86 per cent.

CRITICAL IN AREAS

"For the country as a whole," he said, "prospective feed supply at this date considered by itself does not appear to be particularly alarming, but is critical in certain areas indicated on the maps attached to this report.

"A further serious aspect of the situation is the fact that pastures have been unusually short in these areas and are steadily becoming worse, and that farmers who did sow will produce some feed grain and forage have been compelled to utilize it for summer feeding, thereby depleting their supplies for the coming winter.

"An analysis by counties indicates that up to the present time the situation has not become critical in the more important livestock-producing areas of the country."

ROCKEFELLER ESTATE STREAMS DRIED UP

TARRYTOWN (N. Y.) Aug. 8. (AP)—So depleted by drought is the 2,000,000-gallon water reservoir on the Pocantico Hills estate of John D. Rockefeller that permission was given today for the tapping of the Tarrytown municipal system to supply the estate.

Orders have been issued on the Rockefeller acres to curtail the use of water. Several artificial streams on the estate are dry. The estate consumes more than 100,000 gallons of water a day.

The Federal government took steps to aid Ohio farmers when conditions appeared the worst in years. In Columbus a score of water wagons were made ready at Fort Hayes to haul water for live stock in the drought-stricken south section of the State.

From St. Louis came reports that the temperature climbed again today, making seventeen days this summer on which the mercury has been at 100 deg. or more. Only one more day of 100 or more temperature will be needed to equal the record established in 1881.

Three weather records already have been established — a ninety-four-year record for a dry month, a twenty-nine-year record for a hot month and a sixty-year record for a hot day. Official temperatures have been recorded only since 1870.

Firebugs Cause Heavy Losses

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—Twelve per cent of the 900 forest, brush and grass fires that have occurred in California this year have been of incendiary origin, State Forester Pratt announced today. He declared the principal purposes of the 109 incendiary fires have been to burn off brush to improve grazing and to provide work fighting fire for idle men. The set fires have occurred in Butte, Humboldt, Nevada, Shasta, Calaveras, Fresno and San Luis Obispo counties.

Pratt said that in some instances men employed to fight fire have set other blazes in order to have work for a longer period. For this reason, he has adopted a policy of hiring local men to fight fires rather than to employ the "floater class."

Children See Father Drown

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 8. (AP)—John Nan Ek, 38 years of age, of Oakland, was drowned at Donner Lake today while his three children witnessed the tragedy, and Harold Werner, 22, also of Oakland, died from the effects of immersion after he had been rescued by Francis (Tony) Beard, State traffic inspector.

Werner and Nan Ek were swimming in the lake when Nan Ek collapsed. He obtained a strangle-hold on Werner and prevented him from swimming to shore. Beard swam to the drowning men, and managed to separate Nan Ek from Werner and tow the latter to shore. Attempts to revive Werner were abandoned after two hours.

WILBUR PRAISES HOOVER'S WORK

Secretary Points with Pride to Achievements

London Pact and Diplomacy Foreign Successes

Domestic Accomplishments Cited at Length

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8. (AP)—An outline of the accomplishments of the Hoover administration in its first seventeen months was given to the Commonwealth Club here today by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur.

In what he termed a "progress report" the Interior Secretary prefaced a discussion on the wastage of natural gas with the resume of the Hoover regime accomplishments, topped by the negotiation of the London naval pact. Other achievements enumerated included "settlement of the periodic Mexican difficulties in only two months," the Haitian trouble in a unique way, use of the Kellogg pact to compose the Russian-Chinese dispute, selection of envoys who know their business and have put under way a program of friendly foreign relations.

DOMESTIC GAINS

As domestic accomplishments Secretary Wilbur cited Boulder Dam, the new Tariff Act, which he predicted will keep the tariff out of politics; reorganization of agriculture through the Federal Farm Board, which has made a start in easing wide co-operation can do, and the work of the Federal Power Commission in selecting hydroelectric sites and providing for the recapture of utilities.

"I see a steady, well-conceived program put forward by a man who knows how to succeed," the Secretary concluded. "He put a feather bed under us which we went down in the stock market crash last fall, prevented a general panic, helped avert lowering of wages and instituted $308,000,000 additional construction work to relieve unemployment."

PARTIES BROKEN

Party government "gradually is being broken down by the direct primary system through the destruction of party loyalty," Secretary Wilbur said and asserted that a new coalition group is being formed as a result.

Gas wastage now evident in the Kettleman Hills was referred to as "criminal" by the Secretary. The social and economic future of San Francisco and all of California depends on the harnessing of this excess flow of natural gas, he declared.

The conservation program which he has fostered has been opposed by "only a few—a small minority," which has enlisted some sympathy by crying that the government's program is aiding the big fellow and oppressing the little one, he said.

DESERT VALLEYS PLEDGE SUPPORT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—A group of men from the Imperial and Coachella valleys visited Secretary of the Interior Wilbur today pledging their support to any measures which will expedite construction and financing of the $40,000,000 all-American canal, which is part of the Boulder Dam project.

The party included Mark Rose, Earl C. Pound of Brawley, Charles L. Childers and M. J. Bowd, El Centro; R. W. Blackburn, Indio; Thomas C. Yager, W. O. Blair, Calipatria; Chester Sperry, Robin Russell and W. A. Metzler, Indio.

MARATHON DANCERS' FEE HARDLY PAYS PIPER OFF

CHICAGO, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—The answer to why is a marathon dancer seemed even more remote today with the release of statistics on the money earned by Mike Gouvas and Ann Gerry, who last night were awarded the crown of the world's champions at this peculiar form of exertion. The pair danced—at least they called it dancing—2831h. 4 1-2m. They were awarded the crown when the male half of the only other couple left, one Jack Ritof, developed a sore foot and he and his partner, Miss Theresa Zito, were ruled off.

The cash prize amounted to $2600. About $700 was picked up by Mike and Ann in tips during the grind, which started April 14, last. Dividing this money would give each $1650, which amounts to 58 cents an hour, or less than a penny a minute.

But they did not work an eight-hour day; their labors were on a twenty-four-hour basis, or 168 hours a week. There was no overtime and they paid for their own shoes and clothes.

In answer to the suggestion that they could cash in on their feat with theatrical engagements, it was said that one local booking agency might offer them $150 a week for six or seven weeks. Other agencies approached on the subject were not interested.

NEW G.O.P. CHIEF DEFENDS TARIFF

Fess Predicts Rebuke for Democrats at Polls

Retaliation Against Law in Other Countries Denied

Chairman Loses Little Time Getting into Action

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—The reorganized Republican National Committee, through its new chairman, Senator Fess of Ohio, opened its campaign today with a defense of the new tariff act and a prediction of a rebuke for the Democrats at the polls on this issue.

Losing little time getting into campaign action, Chairman Fess belittled Democratic contentions that hoisting of tariffs by foreign countries is in retaliation against the Hawley-Smoot law, said establishment of American industrial plants abroad may be the subject of legislation, and added:

REBUKE FORECAST

"The subtle campaign methods now in vogue to stir foreign antagonism toward recent legislation in the interests of the American workman and American agriculture, almost entirely confined to American citizens at home and abroad, and for partisan and selfish purposes, will be rebuked when the inevitable resentment of our people will surely be forthcoming."

"We will continue to import our needs we cannot produce," he continued, "two-thirds of which, under the present law, will come in duty free. We will also continue to supply the world with the goods they must import in increased quantities. This is the simple lesson of all protection measures, which in this, as in former cases, is the answer to the partisan statements couched in identical terms of former utterances against former protective measures."

RETALIATION SCOUTED

Arguing that more than thirty nations have adopted the protective principle in some form or another to stimulate production and employment, Fess said this "has no more reference to retaliation against us than has our legislation any retaliatory element against them."

He predicted the "recent propaganda in Canada as a partisan issue will have no more effect there than the similar propaganda for the same purpose in this country will have here."

WOMEN WANT MRS. DODSON RETAINED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—Republican National Committee women may appeal to President Hoover to retain Mrs. Louise M. Dodson as director of the women's division of the Republican party.

Hope was expressed today that under the new chairman, Senator Fess, of Ohio, Mrs. Dodson will be given a freer hand in carrying out her ideas than under the old regime. Dissatisfaction with what she considered lack of authority given her by Claudius H. Huston was described in some circles as the reason for Mrs. Dodson's resignation. It is believed a request from the President will retain her in her old position.

Eight committee women, representing as many different States, turned a farewell dinner to which Mrs. Dodson had invited them into a unanimous demand for her to reconsider her resignation. Failing, however, thus far to swerve her from her decision, the women are likely to appeal to the President.

"The women's executive committee is unanimous in its belief Mrs. Dodson's resignation should not be accepted," said Mrs. Virginia White Speel, national committee woman and chairman of the Republican women's activities for the District of Columbia.

"She is held in the highest regard by every member of the committee. We feel her resignation as director would be a public calamity."

ACCUSED GOLFER WINS WITH DETECTIVE CADDY

GREAT NECK (L. I.) Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—With a perspiring detective as his caddy, Arthur (Ducky) Yates, 290 pound golfer, won a match here today that linksmen with less abdominal adequacy might have tossed away through sheer nervousness. When "Ducky" sank his final putt for a par 73 in the second round of the New York State Amateur tournament on the Lakeville course, he turned to Detective McKettrick and told him he was ready to go with him.

Henry L. Weatherwax, whom the burly ex-Yale football star had beaten, 6 up and 3 to go, mopped his brow, and said admiringly:

"What a man!"

As Yates, one of the foremost amateur golfers of the Metropolitan district, waggled his driver on the first tee earlier in the day, McKettrick approached him with a warrant for his arrest. Miss Madeline McKay of New York City had Yates indicted for grand larceny in connection with a $3200 stock deal a year ago. Yates bought stock for her on margin when she wanted it outright and she lost her money, Miss McKay charged.

Yates, rather than default his match and drop out of the tournament, which he is conceded a good chance to win, persuaded McKettrick to act as his caddy. He then proceeded to turn in one of the best scores of the day.

Asst. Dist.-Atty. Hastings agreed over the telephone to accept $2500 bail.

TWIN CITIES AID FLOOD SUFFERERS

Search Made at Border for Bodies of More Persons Listed as Missing

NOGALES (Ariz.) Aug. 8. (AP)—While Mexican officials continued to search for additional bodies in the ruins of adobe structures, relief agencies today were busy aiding sufferers made destitute by the disastrous flood which raged through the twin cities of Nogales, Ariz., and Sonora Wednesday night, claiming the lives of at least four persons and causing property damage estimated at $175,000.

Rains which last night and early today hampered the work of rehabilitation, were followed by clearing skies and the main streets of both cities have been cleared of debris. Business houses, flooded by five feet of water during the storm, again are opened for trading. No distress was reported on the American side of the international line, and the city apparently has recovered from the effects of the flood.

Although it is reported several persons are missing from the Mexican Nogales, no additional bodies have been recovered. It is feared some of the victims were swept down the raging arroyo and carried for miles in the swollen Santa Cruz River. Two of the four bodies recovered were found entangled in debris two miles downstream.

EAGLE'S WORDS REMAIN HOME

small hours of the morning they could get another chance to hear.

In his address, which took just eight minutes to deliver, Col. Lindbergh spoke of the close alliance between developments of transportation and the general improvement of civilization.

"If we accept the principle," he said, "that life today is preferable to that of ancient times then it is logical to assume that any future improvement in transportation will result in a corresponding advance in methods of living."

UNIFORMITY URGED

He spoke of the great continental air systems of today and predicted that within a few years transoceanic lines will link these into a world-wide network. In closing he urged the necessity of internationally uniform air regulations so that the intercontinental flyers of the future will not be impeded by national restrictions.

"To realize the full significance of this development, however," he said, "it must be considered as a part of the whole system of modern transportation. For unless some radical scientific discovery revolutionizes our present aircraft we cannot compete with ships and railroads in the movement of most articles of commerce. The airplane augments rather than replaces ground transport. Its mission is to simplify intercourse between countries by rapid transportation of passengers and documents; to bring us in closer contact with other people and to facilitate the negotiations necessary for mutual understanding and trade."

"Throughout history," Col. Lindbergh said, "the progress of civilization has been dependent upon the development of transportation. Every great advance in transportation has forecast a greater unity in world government.

POLICIES CHANGING

"Aviation has not gripped the imagination of the world solely because at last man found a way of flying. Its fascination lies far more in the changes it is bringing about in existing methods and policies. Possibly the most important effect will be on international relations. When measured in hours of flying time the great distances of the old world no longer exist. Nations and races are not separated by the traditional obstacles of earthbound travel. There are no inland cities of the air and no natural obstructions to its commerce."

Saying that the distance of places has been judged by their accessibility, Col. Lindbergh expressed the belief that aviation will replace former false impressions of geography with a true order of location.

"The ease of travel between Canada, Mexico and the United States, for instance," he said, "will undoubtedly bring about still closer co-operation among them."

Trade Commissar's Aide to be Ousted at Orders of Stalin as One Sequel

(Copyright, 1930, Chicago Tribune)

RIGA, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—Threatening the officials of the government co-operative trust with severe punishment unless the food supply in Russian cities and industrial districts is immediately improved, Commissar Stalin has ordered the reorganization of the interior trade monopoly and personally ordered the removal of Deputy Commissar of Trade Grodzinski.

Commissar of Trade Mikojan, who attends to the soviet foreign trade, has not been affected by this latest decree.

Stalin has remarked that while there is a vegetable famine in the cities, the villages have a good crop, showing that there is criminal negligence on the part of the food supply officials. The Moscow Isvestia is pessimistic about the improvement of provisioning in the towns, stating that the peasants are responsible, since they refuse to sell produce for paper money, but demand silver and copper coins, which have disappeared from circulation during the past six weeks.

Nation's Total Census Class Officially to Public

Growth of 1920-30 Period Greatest Ever Known

Report First of Many to Come from Bureau

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—The nation's population was officially announced today by the Census Bureau as 122,698,190, representing the largest numerical growth since the census of any decade in its history.

The population total issued today was 31,263 under the figure previously compiled by the Associated Press from the supervisors' reports. It is subject to revision by the Census Bureau, but no major changes are expected.

Census officials said completion of this population count represents only the first step of the 1930 census and that already they have begun to build upon this basic figure other totals ranging from an enumeration of existing radio sets to a count of the country's hogs, cattle and farms.

The figure announced for the forty-eight States and District of Columbia showed a gain in population of 16,987,970 persons, or 16 per cent, since 1920.

Adding in the nation's possessions, exclusive of the Philippines, for which the census law does not apply, the grand total was set by the Census Bureau at 124,646,501.

Some indication of the volume of additional figures still to be issued by the bureau was given in a prediction by a census official that when statistics are completed on such subjects as immigration, old age, homes, and spread of telephones in each State, together with the numbers of mines, farms and factories in each section, the total will still more than fifteen close-set volumes.

This information will be made for each State as it is completed by census workers. Officials indicated it would be available much earlier than in 1920, since the work of the present census was completed twice as fast as a decade ago.

NAVY DISPUTES WITH COOLIDGE

Issue Taken on Statement About Air Motors

Ex-President Says Europe Makes Best Engines

Officials Term America's Finest in World

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—American airplane engines are the best in the world, officials of the Navy Department asserted today in taking exception to a recent article by former President Calvin Coolidge, which conveyed the impression that the United States has been forced to accept a second position in aircraft engine development. In his statement released today, Mr. Coolidge said a naval officer reports that the best aircraft engine is made abroad." He added that the United States can not afford any second place.

In their comments naval officers revealed that the bureau of aeronautics is experimenting on a heavy engine to have it ready for installation in the second of the two dirigibles the Navy is planning to build.

AIR-COOLED MOTOR PRAISED

"My attention has been called to Mr. Coolidge's statement concerning aviation engines," Acting Secretary Jahncke of the Navy said. "I believe the Navy is regarded as largely responsible for the creation and success of the air-cooled motor, which made Lindbergh's flight possible, together with the numerous advances in aviation engines. These engines are the most powerful anywhere in the world and are produced in quantity by several American aircraft engine manufacturing concerns."

"There are only two possible exceptions wherein this country may possibly lead in aircraft engines," Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, said. "The Germans have concentrated on improving their engines, and have a better one—the Maybach—than any other air-cooled engine available at the present time in this or any other country.

NOW EXPERIMENTING

"However, the Navy Department has in the substitution of a heavy-oil engine for gasoline engines for use in airships and has, therefore, been experimenting since 1927 on such engines and hopes that one of these engines will be ready for use in the second airship, the ZRS-5. With heavy-oil engines instead of gasoline, and using helium, fire hazard will be practically eliminated.

"There are in existence abroad several engines of 1000 horsepower or more which are superior to any. However, in the lower horsepower class for everyday usage, the American water-cooled engines are no superiors."

EX-MEMBER OF SHIPPING BOARD DIES

Philip S. Teller, Leader in State G.O.P. and Former Harbor Chief, Succumbs

ALAMEDA, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—Philip S. Teller, 60 years of age, former member of the United States Shipping Board, former State harbor commissioner and for many years active in the affairs of the Republican party in California, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alice Teller Weinman, here today. He had been ill for several months.

Teller's health failed not long after his retirement from the Shipping Board in 1928, following two years of strenuous effort for establishment of the first direct passenger service from Pacific ports to South America.

Teller was a native of San Francisco and descendant of a pioneer California family. He retired from membership in the commission organization of Norton-Teller & Co. in 1924 and was named to the Shipping Board two years later. He was harbor commissioner here during the administration of Gov. Gillett, and later was chairman of the Republican State Central Committee. He also had been president of the San Francisco Commercial Club.

Funeral services are to be conducted here Monday afternoon.

TWENTY-NINE HURT IN WRECK

Angelenos Among Injured in Santa Fe Fatality

Hopi Limited Engine Crew Meets Instant Death

Train Goes Through Bridge Weakened by Flood

WINSLOW (Ariz.) Aug. 8. (AP)—Santa Fe Railroad officials today reported twenty-nine passengers were injured slightly in the wreck last night of the Hopi Limited, eastbound passenger train, which plunged through a storm-weakened bridge one mile east of Joseph City, Ariz., and carried to their deaths R. E. Bixby, 42 years of age, engineer, and M. E. Burney, 41, fireman, in the flood-swollen Little Colorado River. None of the passengers was hurt seriously.

Bixby and Burney are believed to have been killed instantly when the train went through a five-span bridge at Tanner Wash, where flood waters from recent heavy rains undermined the structure's foundations. The engine, an express car loaded with figs and a mail storage car piled into the raging stream. An empty baggage car also left the tracks, but did not go into the waters.

None of the passenger cars left the tracks, and railroad officials said injuries to passengers consisted of bruises, sprains and slight cuts caused by the sudden stopping of the train. Passengers, they said, were transferred to other trains and proceeded with their journey.

Wrecking crews from Belen, N. M., Prescott and Ashfork were busy today clearing away the wreckage, and through train service is expected to be resumed tomorrow. Meanwhile Santa Fe trains were being detoured at Belen for Los Angeles, via El Paso, Tex., and Phoenix, Ariz. Eastbound trains were being routed via Phoenix and El Paso.

Unit Basis for Columbia Basin Project Urged

SEATTLE, Aug. 8. (AP)—Early development of the Columbia Basin project in Eastern Washington on a unit basis was advocated by Dr. Elwood Mead, United States Commissioner of Reclamation, in an address before the Engineers' Club here last night.

Dr. Mead favors bringing in units aggregating 100,000 to 200,000 acres, preferably with power generated at the same time the land is irrigated, to help pay construction costs. It is desirable, he said, to formulate a program of construction which "will not bring panic to farmers of the Middle West, with threats of enormous new acreages of land, and with an initial outlay which will not frighten Congress, which must provide the money."

RICH WIDOW DENIES SHE WILL BE NUN

Mrs. Nicholas Brady Nips Story that She Plans to Enter German Convent

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP)—Mrs. Nicholas Brady today called her New York representative by trans-Atlantic telephone from London and asked that he unequivocably deny that she plans to become a nun.

Reports had been published here that Mrs. Brady, widow of the New York utilities executive and one of the wealthiest women in the United States, planned to enter a German convent shortly for her novitiate.

The reports said she was believed to have discussed the matter in a recent audience with Pope Pius XI, and it was possible she might found and endow a religious order of her own in the Catholic church.

Mrs. Brady is sole legatee under her husband's will, disposing of an estate estimated in value at $50,000,000. He died last March.

Court to Hear Billings After Lock-up Time

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8. (AP)—California's Supreme Court will listen to Warren K. Billings's reasons for its granting him a pardon recommendation after "lock-up" time at Folsom prison, Chief Justice Waste said today.

The time of day for the informal hearing within prison walls of the convicted bomber's story was fixed as a precautionary measure. There are 2200 second and third-time losers in the big house, and it is the opinion of Charles Neumiller, chairman of the prison directors, it would be safer to have the hearing convene after the inmates have retired for the night, he informed Chief Justice Waste at a conference today.

Howard Hughes Man Who Sought to Ride in R-100

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP)—The "American millionaire" who offered $100,000 yesterday for a ride from Montreal to New York in the British dirigible R-100 is Howard Hughes, young Oklahoma oil man and Hollywood motion-picture producer.

And as pretentious a publicity stunt as was ever conceived for a Broadway film premiere has fallen through with the refusal of the dirigible's commanders to entertain the offer.

A motion picture financed by Hughes and dealing with the air will have its first Broadway showing next week.

YOUNG SCORED OVER TAXES

City Attorney Dold of San Francisco Charges New Law Supported as Well as Signed by Governor

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—In a radio address delivered from station KYA tonight, Walter A. Dold, assistant City Attorney, struck at the "thin veneer of deception" spread by political lieutenants of Gov. Young and rapped smartly "California's disgraceful new bank and tax law."

Dold charged the men who are supporting Gov. Young's candidacy for another term are admitting in one breath the reduction of State taxes on large banks, oil companies and big corporations to $25 a year and in the next are crying, "It's all a pack of lies," in order to retain their positions in State offices at public expense.

"You all know by this time," Dold asserted, "that a political tax commission was named by Gov. Young to draft a new tax law for this State. Now, who were the politicians? Here is the list:

"Irving Martin, Stockton newspaper publisher, who is chairman of the Governor's Northern California campaign; Dr. John R. Haynes, Los Angeles, politician; Chester Rowell, publicist; William J. Carr, State job holder on the Railroad Commission; Alexander R. Heron, who was a State job holder as director of finance; R. B. Hale, active in San Francisco politics; H. L. Carnahan, appointed by Gov. Young to be Lieutenant-Governor.

"There's the political tax commission, composed of politicians and not economists or tax experts.

"There is one name the administration speakers do not mention. He also was a member of the tax commission but he would not sign their report; he would not agree to this disgraceful law favoring the banks and corporations. He is Ray L. Riley, State Controller. Now, why do not they include Riley's name? Probably because he has said that another two years of Gov. Young's way of handling the State's business will leave the State with a deficit of $12,000,000."

Dold said that after the law was enacted, the Governor attempted to saddle its responsibility on the Legislature, despite the fact it was supported in the Legislature by the administration and he himself signed the bill.

JAPAN WILL SIGN, SAYS TSURUMI

Former Legislator Believes Treaty Secure

Only Militarists Against Naval Pact, He Says

Admiral Pratt Interprets Paper to Conference

WILLIAMSON (Mass.) Aug. 8. (AP)—Prediction that Japan will ratify the London naval treaty in the near future despite opposition from Japanese naval experts and Conservative politicians was made before the Institute of Politics today by Yusuke Tsurumi, former member of the Japanese Diet.

In an address before the limitation of armament conference, Mr. Tsurumi said the present Japanese Cabinet occupies a strong position, supported by the sentiment of the people, who favor ratification, and by a strong party which has 274 members out of 466 in the House of Representatives.

JAPANESE NOT AFRAID

The Japanese people have felt there is no imminent danger of foreign invasion since the signing of the Versailles Treaty in 1919, Mr. Tsurumi stated. In addition to this, he pointed out, the increase of population in Japan, coupled with a general business depression in recent years, has intensified a demand for the lessening of military and naval expenses.

Opposition of the naval experts, he said, is based on the contention agreements in London are inadequate to meet Japan's naval requirements for protection of her safety.

ADMIRAL PRATT'S PAPER

Commander Thomas C. Kincaid, U.S.N., read a paper prepared for the institute by Admiral William V. Pratt, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet and adviser of the American delegation at the London naval conference, whose official duties prevented his attendance at the institute.

Admiral Pratt said the primary motive of the United States at the London naval conference was to accomplish agreement—by five powers if possible and, if not, by three or two. Co-operation between American and British delegates contributed materially toward the successful negotiation of the London treaty, he declared, adding that "if any sacrifices were made it was the British who made them."

STAND EXPLAINED

Equality in the submarine tonnage between the United States, England and Japan was merely a variation of the policy to abolish the submarine altogether, Admiral Pratt stated. He pointed out that despite rules adopted to humanize submarines in war their operation in accordance with international law is a matter of great practical difficulty.

Discussing air armament, he stated it is still unlimited by agreement and unregulated by the law of nations and that air forces openly proclaim "the way to wage war in the future is to attack the heart of a nation, projecting their attacks behind the lines at the civil population." The immediate demand in any future limitation of armaments, he declared, lies in "drastic limitation" in the power of air force to harm the civilization lying behind the front-line trenches.

AUSTRALIA APPROVES LONDON TREATY

CANBERRA (Australia) Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—The House of Representatives approved the London naval treaty yesterday.

J. G. Latham, leader of the opposition, stated that "though I am anxious for the limitation of armaments the outlook is unduly optimistic at a time when there are no armed conflicts.

"The empire should view with concern any steps which threaten the security of the empire. We are no longer able to contemplate Britannia as ruling the waves in the old sense of the phrase. Unfortunately, Australia is unable to disregard defense. We would welcome an agreement for more than the limitation of armaments in the Pacific. We would like disarmament in the Pacific but it is a doubted possibility. We have welcomed the treaty and would like further limitations of armaments."

Bishops Mild in Censure of Birth Control

LONDON, Aug. 8. (AP)—The Daily Herald today says the Anglican bishops at the Lambeth conference have decided not to condemn uncompromisingly the practice of birth control, refusing to go further than to suggest it has no part in "the perfect Christian married life."

The decision, the Herald adds, is considered a great victory for Lord Dawes of Penn, King George's physician, who has been striving to prevent any outstanding condemnation of the principle.

ANGELENOS TO SHARE NEW YORKER'S ESTATE

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (Exclusive) George H. Weerfelman of 6327 Lindenhurst avenue, Los Angeles, receives an interest valued at more than $25,000 in the estate of his father, Diedrich Weerfelman, under his will which was filed for probate in surrogate's court here today. Mr. Weerfelman will receive the income from the amount during the lifetime of Diedrich Strahmann and the principal in the event that he survives him. Frederick Weerfelman of the same Los Angeles address, another son of the testator, is left a life interest in a trust fund sufficient to produce an income of $3000 annually.

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Aug. 8. (AP) Asphyxiated by the exhaust fumes of his automobile engine, the body of K. J. McDonald, Oakland, Cal., was found in his car in a garage here today. A rubber tube had been placed over the end of the exhaust pipe and extended into the car.

HYSTERIA GRIPS LYNCHING CITY

Hanging of Two Negroes at Marion Stirs Feeling

National Guard Hurrying to Scene of Disturbance

Colored Prisoners Spirited Away to Save Lives

MARION (Ind.) Aug. 8. (AP)—Intense excitement over last night's mob violence, which resulted in the lynching of two Negroes, prevails in the city of Marion tonight.

As a safeguard against a recurrence of mob spirit, city, county and State police are on duty and two companies of the Indiana National Guard are en route here.

Fear is manifest in many quarters of either a new outbreak or of reprisals for the hangings of Thomas Shipp and Abe Smith last night on the lawn of the Grant County Courthouse.

TROOPS DEMANDED

The latter fear was expressed outwardly late today when Dr. W. T. Bailey and Rev. William Oglesby, State leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, appealed to Mayor Edwards for State troops to guard lives and property.

News that State troops are expected soon from Camp Knox, Ky., where they are in training, helped to bring the tenseness to a high pitch.

Meanwhile an investigation of last night's violence, in which a mob of several thousand persons stormed the County Jail, smashed the doors and dragged their two victims to their doom, was planned at a conference between Prosecutor Hardin and Dep. Attys.-Gen. Stroup and Wall.

TWO SPIRITED AWAY

Sheriff Campbell spirited two other Negro prisoners from the jail to the Indiana State Reformatory at Pendleton. They are Herbert Cameron and Robert Sullivan, held on robbery charges.

Although Shipp and Smith were the only victims of last night's violence, the mob also sought Cameron as the third of a trio accused of having fatally shot Claude Deeter, 23-year-old Fairmount youth, and having attacked his 18-year-old girl companion, Mary Ball, Wednesday night.

Prosecutor Hardin announced he will demand the death penalty for Cameron when the grand jury convenes since, he declared, this youth had a hand in the affair as well as the others. Smith is said to have confessed he attacked Miss Ball.

ENSENADA WILL BE TABULATED

Gov. Tapia's New Statistical Bureau to Work There

Romantic Mexican City Will Follow Mexicali Figures

Cosmopolitan Community Aflutter at Prospect

MEXICALI, Aug. 8.—Having "cleaned up" Tia Juana, Gov. Tapia's new statistical bureau under direction of Santiago B. Reachi has moved on to Mexicali for a similar compilation of figures, and then will proceed to Ensenada.

The latter city is all aflutter over the prospect of at last being reduced to figures, for it is said that more has happened at Ensenada the last fifty years, and less has been recorded, than in any town of comparable size on the Pacific Coast. Little Ensenada has been under several flags and more concessions. William Walker, "The Last of the Filibusters," strode proudly through it at the head of his tall Tennesseeans and Kentuckians before coming to grief in an unequal bout with the great Colorado desert.

A gold strike in 1869 at near-by Alisos caused Ensenada to rival the Sonoma mining camps of the early days of the western gold rush. The dawn of the century found the town under British concession, with what is said to be the first golf course on the Pacific Coast in active operation. Later, the place became the rendezvous of Americans who had become too popular at home and required ostracism. Such characters found Ensenada just about the right distance from the border to evade the rather overlong arm of the American law.

"TIMES HAVE CHANGED"

Only a few years ago, Ensenada attained unwelcome prominence as the host of "The Wolf of La Salle Street," but times, says Reachi, have changed, with bad men and even bad women (the latter mostly drug smugglers) going to Chicago instead of Ensenada.

Ensenada is one of the most cosmopolitan communities in existence. An Italian is apt to provide your dinner, via a Chinese waiter. Later an Irish bartender introduces you to a Scandinavian sea captain who tells Scotch jokes. Still later you have your eye bandaged by a French doctor in a German drug store, while a member of the famous Russian colony northeast of Ensenada hands you back your coat. A courteous Mexican policeman then assigns you to an American hotel controlled by English money.

While Ensenada proclaims as one of its chief charms the utter lack of railroads, street cars, newspapers and other adjuncts of "pep," it was able to follow, in most vivid style, the late great war by observing a French wife married to a German husband who did not, as do Americans, always compromise in the wife's favor.

ANGLER CATCHES CANNON

The latest anecdote bearing on Ensenada's "mystery," has to do with Gordon Mayer, architect of the new Playa Ensenada Hotel there. Mayer, fed up on living alone for months in the uncompleted structure, broke loose and declared that nothing had ever happened at Ensenada, and nothing ever would. A few days later, fishing around in an estuary near the hotel, he found a whole flock of submerged cannon. No one knows whence they came nor when, but Mayer is now busy getting permission to fish them from their watery grave so that he can mount them along the beach—visible evidence that Ensenada has a past as well as future.

Exiles, smugglers, revolutionists, gold miners, bad men, expatriates—a crew as motley as Francois Villon's—have marched across Ensenada's beautiful stage, framed by an incomparable bay, but always to an audience of quiet, cultured and amused Mexicans, who form the nucleus and the real personality of lusty Ensenada, for this town remains the capital of the northern district of Lower California and also its summer capital.

WEAKER SEX PROVES STRONGER

Girl-twin Tree-sitters Stay, Boys Quit

Russell Twins in Tree Before Boys Came Down

Two sets of Riverside twins climbed into a pepper tree with the avowed intention of staying indefinitely, but only two days had elapsed before the two boys of the quartet were ready to quit, and did so, despite the pleadings of the two little girls.

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 8.—Register another triumph for the so-called weaker sex. Once more has feminine stick-to-itiveness been vindicated. A week ago today the two sets of Russell twins, Edward and Alice, 9 years of age, and Dorothy and Ray, 6, climbed into a huge pepper tree in the back yard of the parental home on North Orange street and announced they intended breaking all tree-sitting records. But after two days Edward and Ray were ready to call it quits.

In spite of the pleadings, scoldings and tears of their sisters, the two masculine members of the quartet stated they were through. And with that determined announcement they climbed out of their perch and once more descended to terra firma.

Alice and Dorothy dried their eyes and continued the contest. At last reports they were still aloft with no immediate prospects of coming down.

The youngsters are the children of Mr. and Mrs. George Russell, who also boast a third set of twins in Agnes and Gladys, 18 years of age.

SIGNALS BY RADIO GUIDE ARMY SHIPS

Directional Broadcasting Brings Six Huge Condor Bombers to March Field

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 8.—Successfully completing half of a night-time voyage staged to test the efficiency of flying by radio signals, six huge army condor bombing planes from Rockwell Field landed at March Field last night and took off approximately half an hour later on the return trip to the San Diego post.

For most of the way the big blunt-nosed dreadnaughts were in communication with both Rockwell and March Field radio stations, and proved the value of the radio directional signals sent out from Lieut. Bowman's radio department here by flying directly to the post.

While a short distance away, Capt. Charles Howard, in command of the flight, radioed the request for the flood lights on the field. The huge lights were turned on and illuminated the landing field so perfectly that the lumbering bombers settled down as easily as though it were daytime.

After paying his respects to Commandant McNarney and other officers Capt. Howard bundled his pilots back into the planes for the return voyage.

Capt. Howard told the officers at the local post he found no difficulty in following the radio signals giving him his bearings in the blackness of the night sky.

The Condor bombers are the newest of the army's growing fleet of aerial dreadnaughts. They are equipped with two motors and carry a crew of five men and a pilot. They were in two flights of three ships each for the night trip.

Why Minor Girls Can't Can for Canneries Told

ONTARIO, Aug. 8.—Having been the target for what they considered unwarranted criticism for several days, officials of local canneries today made formal announcement why they do not employ girls under 21 years of age to work in the cannery business.

According to J. B. Southwell, manager of the local Co-operative Cannery, the law prescribes that girls under 21 shall not be employed in the cannery work. In the past it was lawful to employ girls of 18 to 21 years of age, but at a recent session of the Legislature the age limit of girl minors was raised from 18 to 21 years.

The cannery this season has not employed girls under 21 for this reason, Southwell declared. He added that some of the best workers in local canneries in past years have been girls under 21 years of age, and if the law permitted the same girls would be employed again.

"Certain people are of the opinion we are prejudiced against the girls," Southwell said, "but we certainly are not. We cannot hire them. We would like to have them, as they have been our best help, but the Legislature makes it impossible to continue employing these young girls."

The reason the agitation sprang up among the cannery workers when girls were not employed this year was due to the fact that they had not become acquainted with the recent activities of the Legislature, Southwell said.

REDONDO AIDS IN LONG BEACH JUBILEE

REDONDO BEACH, Aug. 8.—Cooperating with Charles A. Bland, general chairman of the Long Beach aviation industrial jubilee, arrangements have been made by the local Chamber of Commerce for a large representation to attend from this city. Arrangements made by J. J. Gourley, chairman of the aeronautics committee of the Chamber of Commerce, include the appointment of Mayor May B. Hopkins, Mrs. E. H. Amet, Mrs. Mary Mathis, Mrs. C. W. Kolner, Mrs. E. E. Williams and Mrs Margaret J. Frick, as patronesses of the Women's National Air Derby, which will start its Long Beach-to-Chicago grind on that date.

Boy Cyclists' Ride for Fame Nipped in Bud

GLENDALE, Aug. 8.—The paths to glory and fame are frequently strewn with thorns and other obstacles and someone is always taking the joy out of life. Four boys who had planned to start today on a bicycle endurance race at Fremont Park have been forced to cancel their plans because of the flood of protests that have poured into the Recreation Department at the City Hall since the project was announced yesterday.

The parents of the four boys were among the most vigorous protestants when they learned that the event would be conducted without official supervision, and other objectors kept the telephones jangling at the City Hall until John W. Norvell, superintendent of recreation, hunted up the four boys and asked them to reconsider their plans.

The boys who have watched their chance at fame go glimmering are William Henry Day, Charles Blake, James Johnson and William Adams, with William Jones as substitute rider.

Boy Scouts will Camp in Sierras

ONTARIO, Aug. 8.—Sixteen boys of Old Baldy Council, Boy Scouts of America, embracing Ontario, Upland, Pomona and La Verne, are anxiously waiting for August to slip by. They have been chosen to go on a ten-day camping trip in the high Sierras.

The boys, all older scouts, were selected for having had three years' camping experience at Camp Tulakes in the San Bernardino Mountains. They will camp in the Bishop country between Sabrina and North lakes. A three-day pack trip through Piute Pass into the headwaters of the San Joaquin is on the program.

Leaders will be Bob Henderson of Upland, Judge Bowen of Pomona and Lex R. Lucas, Chaffey district Scout executive.

"WILD WEST" NOISES ALARM ONTARIO FOLK

ONTARIO, Aug. 8.—Residents of the fashionable Armsley Square residential district were wondering today if the Old West has been revived, or whether some one is starting an incipient rebellion in their neighborhood. Police were notified today that during the night the entire neighborhood was alarmed by a loud explosion followed by terrible screaming. The residents rushed out to find out what was going on, but were unable to find any evidence of foul play. The screams, it was reported, were those of a woman.

SANTA PAULA AGAIN REDUCES TAX RATE

SANTA PAULA, Aug. 8.—Reducing the city tax rate for the coming fiscal year from $1.80 to $1.70 was announced at the Council session this afternoon. The rate in 1928 was $2, being reduced to $1.80 last year. It will probably be reduced again next year, it was announced.

SUICIDE LONG CONSIDERED

Letters Found in Coat of Adolph DeBerg Indicate He Had Contemplated Act for Two Weeks

MEXICO, Aug. 8.—That Adolph DeBerg, promoter of a Spanish talking film, "Virgin Gold," who took his life here Sunday, contemplated the act two weeks before, is indicated in letters found in his coat today in the Ramona Hotel, where he had registered under another name. One letter was addressed to the Coroner of Los Angeles, directing that his body be given to the University of California "for whatever price they customarily pay for bodies for purposes of dissection." He asked that the money paid be turned over to Sam Cohen of 501½ Temple street, Los Angeles, from whom he had borrowed $125.

Another letter, addressed to Mrs. Ray E. Chrisman, 2206 East Sixty-third street, Seattle, believed to be his sister, asked her to repay two debts for him. One was to Cohen and the other of $100 to Marie Parro at the same address as Cohen.

Papers and letters in his coat indicated that, as Adolfo De Berg, he had been employed as a salesman in charge of the Spanish department of Hollywood Filmograph in the Warner Brothers' Building in Hollywood Boulevard, recently. Both letters were dated July 20, last, but before he ended his life DeBerg apparently had conceived the plan of promoting a Spanish film at Mexicali where he came a few days later.

The letter to Mrs. Chrisman reminds her that she had refused to help him. An empty envelope sent from Chrisman & Snyder, 906 Smith Tower, Seattle, dated June 24, evidently had contained the refusal referred to.

SANTA ANA ARTIST DIES

Death Claims Miss May Fox, Once Arrested by Germans by Mistake for Russian Woman Spy

SANTA ANA, Aug. 8.—Death today had claimed Miss May Fox, 65 years of age, talented local artist, once mistaken for a Russian baroness and arrested by German secret service agents at the outbreak of the World War. Her identification by her traveling companion and the intercession of the American Ambassador resulted, however, in her quick release by the Berlin magistrate before whom she had been haled for sedition.

German officers apologized and proceeded to arrest the Russian baroness, who was found guilty of being a Russian agent.

As she lay dead today her friends here recalled the thrilling adventure in Berlin. A Russian noblewoman resided in the same hotel in which Miss Fox had taken rooms, they said. Because of the marked resemblance between the two women the Berlin intelligence department officers arrested her and despite her protestations hurried her off to face espionage charges. When her identity was established, however, the Miss Fox, descendant of a family which has lived in the United States since 1739, died at the residence, 616 South Van Ness street, yesterday. She came from an old Pennsylvania family. Her father's grandfather, George Fox, built the old Fox residence at Hummelstown, Pa., in 1739. Miss Fox was born there in 1863.

OLD SPANISH DAYS END

Santa Barbara's Annual Fiesta Concludes This Evening with Production of "Romantic California"

BY KENNETH GOBLE

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 8.—Santa Barbara swung into the second day of its Old Spanish Days Fiesta with more pageantry, more color more song, more dance.

The young and the old members of two of the oldest families of this community, the Botellos and the Ruizes, were hosts this afternoon in the patio of the Courthouse to nearly 10,000 persons. Singing and dancing and music was the program. An elegant touch of another day was lent to the festival when M. A. Botello, a white-haired Don, and Marie De Los Angeles Ruiz, an elderly senorita, danced one of the old fandangos they danced here together fifty years ago. Louis Frondi, noted Mexican singer, was master of ceremonies, and introduced the various local artists, many of them children, to the great assemblage.

There were young girls and young boys, school children, beautiful belles of the old families and dashing young Dons who appeared on the program.

The cowboys held sway in Pershing Park, where an old-fashioned rodeo was held, many of the participants coming here from the famous ranches of this and neighboring counties. Fine blooded horses of those great ranches were paraded before another huge assembly of nearly 5000 people.

There was fancy riding and roping, with Will Rogers, Jr., Ed Borein, the cowboy etcher, and Dell Owens, of local riding fame, taking part.

Women of the community entertained in the afternoon also with "Una Merienda," a Spanish picnic, in the delightfully shaded patios of the Santa Barbara Woman's Club.

Members of Casino Mexicano, a Mexican organization, staged a festival in the evening, giving native dances and singing native songs to the delight of a crowded auditorium, while the streets were filled with singers and dancers and informal entertainers.

Santa Barbara's Old Spanish Days Fiesta will close tomorrow with the dedication of the lines of the old Presidio's parade ground by the members of the local parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West, and another production of the great pageant, "Romantic California," written and directed by Charles E. Pressley, the local managing director of the fiesta. More than 4000 local residents in costumes trace the history of Santa Barbara in this night pageant in Peabody Stadium.

The fiesta closes as a rule with numerous smaller family fiestas in the homes, it is the custom among the members of the old Spanish families and taken up by the modern residents of visiting their various friends during the fiesta evening. All keep open house and traipse hither and thither, bringing and receiving greetings, in the spirit of Santa Barbara's old Spanish days.

Redlands May Have New Park on City Lands

REDLANDS, Aug. 8.—The possibility of development of a gem of a little park on city property between Oriental avenue and the Santa Fe tracks and east of Texas street, which is soon to be widened and paved to make a direct entrance to the business section from the west, loomed today after a conference of W. T. Ferguson, park superintendent, with members of the City Council at the meeting Wednesday.

Such a park could be developed at a comparatively small cost and would serve a section of the city in need of its own park, it has been pointed out. There has been considerable complaint recently because of the action of some Mexican boys at Sylvan Park which resulted in plans for setting aside a section of that park, lying between Sylvan Boulevard and Highland avenue, around the wading pool, for the Mexican people. This plan has not worked out as well as was expected but it is believed that the park on the city property as planned by Ferguson could be built at a small cost and relieve the congestion in Sylvan Park.

It would be built for the use of the Mexican people, could have lovely lawns and shade trees, probably a small pool, and other features to make it an ideal place for them to gather. There would be plenty of water right at hand from the wells which the city has placed there.

The matter is to be thoroughly investigated by the Council and if is probable that some plan for this development will be worked out at once, according to officials.

He'll Work on Week Days; Rest of Time in Jail

SANTA ANA, Aug. 8.—John C. Knight will spend his nights and Sundays in jail, his days at work earning money for the support of his wife, who, Judge James L. Allen discovered today, was walking the streets here with her baby in her arms, looking for a job for the husband.

"Now it will be up to you to keep working," Judge Allen told Knight. "I don't want to hear of her having to walk around the streets that way again. If you can't keep working, you'll go back to jail."

Knight is serving a year as a condition of probation granted him after he pleaded guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a girl with whom he was living here after leaving to look for work.

For every day he works the court promised him a day cut from his jail term.

Warehouse at Ventura Burns; Losses Heavy

VENTURA, Aug. 8.—In a spectacular fire which drew hundreds of Venturans from their beds, the warehouse of Hickey Brothers Company, hardware dealers here, suffered damage estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000 just before dawn today.

Firemen were forced to batter their way through windows in the front to get at the flames, which burned fiercely over the supply bins and through the heavy rafters supporting the roof.

The alarm was turned in at 3:40 a.m. by an employee of a near-by garage. The last flicker of flame was out by 5 a.m.

Spontaneous combustion, caused by a rag wet with linseed oil breaking into fire, was declared the cause of the fire. Apparently the fire started in a nail counter in the center of the building, leaped to the roof and then spread rapidly over the building.

Optimistic View of Industrial Situation Held

PASADENA, Aug. 8.—An optimistic view of industrial conditions was reflected today at the opening session of the Millwork Institute of California in the Hotel Huntington. About 100 delegates are expected to attend the two-day conference.

Speakers today included Dr. W. D. Moriarty, director of the University of Southern California, school of business; A. W. Bernhauser of Fresno, institute president; L. G. Sterret, institute secretary, and City Manager R. V. Orbison of this city.

Dr. Moriarty, an economist, suggested that legislation should be directed toward increasing efficiency of industrial workers.

City Manager Orbison expressed the conviction that the large amount of civic construction will do much to bring about a speedy return to normal business activity.

BEARDSLEY SPEAKS AT BAR DINNER

President of State Body Urges Movement to Raise Standards of Admission

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 8.—Charles A. Beardsley, president of the State Bar Association, speaking to members of the Riverside and San Bernardino county associations last night, following dinner in the Mission Inn, stated that there will be an effort made at the annual State convention next month in Pasadena to secure the indorsements of committee reports that will be designed to raise the standards of admission to practice, to improve the administration of justice, and to solve the unlawful-practice problem.

In speaking of the educational qualifications for lawyers, the speaker disclosed that the State Legislature in 1929 repealed provisions that had been in effect for fifty years, and let down the bars to the extent that there are now no general educational requirements, the only limit being placed upon age, requiring that an applicant be 21 years of age. In addition, there is a requirement of three years of legal instruction.

In contrast, it was stated that a barber, to practice his profession, must have a grammar-school education, that a midwife must have a high-school education, and a horse doctor must attend a veterinarian college. He stated at the State convention recommendations will be made that a lawyer, in addition to his legal training, must have a background of an education at least equal to a four-year-high school course.

The speaker emphasized the harm that can come as the result of ignorant attorneys giving legal advice, and stated that one poor or crooked attorney is sufficient to bring disgrace upon the profession as a whole.

Stork Assured of No Mistake

UPLAND, Aug. 8.—When the stork leaves a boy or girl at San Antonio Community Hospital, he flies away again satisfied that his little bundle is going to remain with the right mother.

Since the recent mix-up of babies in a Chicago hospital, anxious mothers have inquired about methods of identification at the local institution.

There is no danger of getting babies mixed up here, nurses declared. Although the hospital is comparatively small, as high as twenty-three babies are cared for at a time, and all are turned over to their right mothers.

The baby is marked immediately after birth, according to the nurses. Only one case is handled at a time, preventing a mix-up.

The first step in identification is placing a large strip of adhesive tape about the baby's ankle, with the child's name written on the tape in ink. There are seven to eight babies born daily at San Antonio Community Hospital, and there never has been any confusion resulting in exchange of youngsters.

Formerly the hospital placed a tiny necklace about the baby's neck, but this tended to irritate the skin, and so was abolished. The adhesive-tape method is preferred.

Principal Says Boys Loaf on School's Roof

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 8.—Boys of East San Diego have turned the flat roof of the new Herbert Hoover High School into a playground and a loafing place, where they can smoke and escape the rigor of parental or school discipline, according to word sent to the City Council by the principal of the school, Floyd A. Johnson. Johnson explains that by recent order of the city building department a ladder was placed from the second-story fire escape to the roof and that this gives the boys of the community access to the roof. The principal now wants permission of the Council to remove the ladder. He says:

"This ladder makes the flat roof of the school building accessible and it is a playground for boys of the community, being an attractive place to loaf and smoke.

"I believe this condition will result in a serious disciplinary problem and I am wondering if an appeal to the City Council would not result in permission to remove the ladder."

The city building department ordered the ladder placed as a safety measure, it was stated.

TIDELANDS DEAL CLOSED

Development of Large Frontage on San Diego Ha[illegible] Looms; Purchaser's Identity Secret

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 8.—Development of a large acreage of tidelands at the head of San Diego Bay by the Santa Fe Railroad was revealed today when it became known that the Harbor Commission has been requested to make a survey and estimate of cost of a channel 100 feet wide and thirty-five feet deep to the property, recently transferred by the Chamber of Commerce to the Union Title and Trust Company.

This deal is said to involve 300 acres of tidelands where the Santa Fe proposes to build docks, a roundhouse and railroad yards. The shipping facilities are intended to be of use in the future for shipping oil and other products of the lower part of San Diego county.

The Dollar Steamship Company intends soon to begin an intensive oil-prospecting campaign in the Chula Vista section, it is reported in business circles. WOOD, ALLISON IN NET FINALS

Rivals Capture Five-Set Semifinal Matches

Pasadena Youth Conquers New York Performer

Davis Cup Star Captures Tilt from Hunter

SOUTHAMPTON (N. Y.) Aug. 8. (AP)—Two bitterly fought five-set matches today put Sydney B. Wood of New York, and Pasadena and Wilmer Allison of Fort Worth, Tex., in the final round of singles in the Forty - seventh annual Southampton invitation tennis tournament.

Wood, who won the Seabright Bowl last week with an unexpected victory over Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena sensation, disposed of Frank Shields of New York, 1-6, 1-6, 10-8, 7-5, 6-4. Allison, who returned from Europe only a few days ago, took another spectacular battle from Frank Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y., No. 2 in the national ranking, by scores of 6-4, 9-11, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2.

Shields, who sprang the year's biggest sensation by eliminating Big Bill Tilden in the quarter-finals yesterday, apparently was headed for a straight-set victory over Wood after the first two sets of their match. The Seabright winner, utterly unable to cope with Shields's powerful strokes, could take only one game in each set. In the third set, however, Wood had determined upon a plan of battle.

The speed that had baffled him at first was his "meat" thereafter and when he took the long-drawn-out eighteen-game session, the end was in sight. Shields was tiring badly, but he gave Wood a big argument in the fourth set, taking it to deuce before Wood won it after twelve games. In the fifth set a severe leg cramp handicapped Wood badly, but Shields was so weary he could not take advantage of the break this gave him and Wood took the deciding set with the loss of only four games.

The Hunter-Allison match found the Texan running Hunter ragged when his volleys were shooting across the barrier and Hunter reversing the situation when his own forehand bludgeoned Allison into efforts in his forecourt work. Both played below their top form, Hunter especially. The New Rochelle veteran has yet this season to touch the form which brought him his No. 2 ranking in 1929.

The fourth seeded team of Richard N. Williams and J. Gilbert Hall advanced to the final round of doubles with victories over Wilbur F. Coen of Kansas City and Harris Coggeshall of Des Moines, 6-2, 7-5, and over Phil Neer of Portland, Or., and Edward W. Feibleman, New York, 9-7, 6-3, 6-3.

Tilden and Hunter were eliminated in the quarter-final round by Wood and Shields, 6-4, 6-3. The New York youngsters play Berkeley Bell, Austin, Tex., and Gregory Mangin, South Orange, in the semifinals to determine which combination shall face Hall and Williams in the finals.

MARY GREEF IN COURT VICTORY

Meets Marjorie Morrill in Final Match Today

EAST HAMPTON (N. Y.) Aug. 8. (AP)—Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, Mass., and Mary Greef of Kansas City and Los Angeles, swept into the final round of singles in the Maidstone Club's annual gold cup tennis tournament today and will meet for the championship tomorrow.

Miss Greef, ranked sixth in the national list, brushed aside Dorothy Weisel of Sacramento in easy fashion, 6-0, 6-2, but Miss Morrill, ranked eleventh, had to overcome a hard-fighting foe in the person of Sarah Palfrey of Brookline, Mass., No. 4 ranking player, to reach the finals. Miss Morrill won by scores of 6-4, 9-7.

The spark and dash which had given Miss Weisel two surprising victories over Edith Cross of San Francisco, and Midge Gladman of Santa Monica, were not on display today against Miss Greef. Perhaps it was that Miss Weisel could not get started against the coolly calculated game of the hard-hitting Kansas City girl.

At any rate, the Californian could offer no defense for Miss Greef's fierce attack in the first set which went to her rival player by a love score. Miss Weisel rallied momentarily to take the second game of the second set, but Miss Greef won the next four to lead, 5-1.

MR. ARTHUR C. (DAZZY) Vance, who has pitched for a dozen or more different ball clubs and who was, for a while, the highest-priced pitcher in the majors, has yet to realise his greatest desire and pitch in a world series. With the Brooklyn team at or near the top for a couple of months now, it looks as though the Brooklyn strike-out artist may yet achieve his biggest ambition. The Dodgers nearly got in in 1924 (some fans thought they would, because of the fact that Brooklyn had also won in 1916 and 1920,) but the best they could do was second. And, as they have finished sixth every year, except 1924, since 1921, when they were fifth, it would be a bit of a treat to some others I could mention besides the great Dazzler.

This is Vance's ninth straight year with Brooklyn. He is now 37 years of age, and requires five or six days' rest at least between pitching assignments. And, if you ask me, saving him to whip the Giants, as the Brooklyn manager did during a series with the Cardinals early in July, didn't help the Dodgers any—especially as the Giants trimmed Lil' Arthur when they met him the morning of July 4, last.

But you've got to admit that when the big red-head from Flatbush is right, he sure is a man's pitcher! That fast ball of his is a corker, whether or not it is aided by the flapping, tattered sleeve the pitcher effects, or the clay he puts on his glove and which is brought up from the south east spring and sprinkled liberally around the hurler's mound at Ebbets Field. Back in 1924, when he was voted the most valuable player in his league, Dazzy won twenty-eight games and

PASADENA PLAY WON BY GAINES

Girard Star Trims Goodwin, 8 and 7, in Finals

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Jack Gaines, long-driving champion of the Girard Golf Country Club, added the Pasadena city championship to his string of titles yesterday at Brookside Park where he defeated Harold Goodwin of Pasadena, 8 and 7, in the thirty-six-hole finals.

Goodwin gave the favorite a run for the championship in the morning round, being only 1 down at the turn, but cracked wide open in the afternoon when Gaines put on the pressure.

Gaines succeeds Dave Martin of California, who did not defend the title.

Joe Carlisle won in the first flight finals, defeating Bob Vaillencourt, 4 and 3, in the eighteen-hole finals. Anton Johnson was the second-flight victor with a 1 up victory over Jack Dunn. Leo Jessen lost in the third flight to H. Barroughs, 6 and 4. L. M. Bolter defeat-

MERCURY TRYOUTS ON TODAY

L.A.A.C. to Stage Meet at Paddock Field, Pasadena, This Afternoon

A midsummer track and field meet, something of a novelty for even Southern California, takes place at Paddock Field, Pasadena, this afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock.

The occasion is the final tryout for the Los Angeles Athletic Club team, which will attempt to bring the National A.A.U. championship back to this territory when the games are held at Pittsburgh, the 22nd to 25th inst.

As a matter of fact, the Mercury team is already practically picked, but the boys are all urged to turn out today, as some of them have yet to show Commissioner Boyd Comstock and Dean Cromwell that they deserve a trip east. Leslie A. Henry, S.P.A.A.U. proxy and chairman of club athletics, will also be on hand today. It is Henry's hand that signs the checks and he doesn't want any joy riders on this trip.

Some of today's events won't

ZAHN SKIPPERS WINNING YACHT

San Diego R Sloop Finally Scores Victory

BY FRANK ROCHE
"Times" Staff Representative

NEWPORT HARBOR YACHT CLUB, Aug. 8.—If consistency is a jewel as the wise men claim then persistency must be some sort of a diadem. At any rate persistency brought to Oswald Zahn and his R boat Zephyr the reward here today as the Pacific Coast and Southern California yachting championships came to a climax at this picturesque harbor. Zahn and his boat the Zephyr are familiar figures at almost every yachting event of any consequence on the Coast, but until today the veteran San Diego skipper and his craft have never had the spotlight on them. Zahn and the Zephyr always race but outside of winning a few minor events they have never been considered a serious threat when it came to collecting a precious yachting trophy, but that was all changed here today. Here is the story:

Oswald Zahn of the San Diego Yacht Club and his R sloop Zephyr, rank outsider, romped off in the arbitrary handicap with the feature event on the combined Pacific Coast and Southern California regatta closing program. In doing it the Zephyr and her veteran skipper defeated a crack field of thirty-three boats representing the pick of the Coast's sloops, yawls, ketches and schooners.

GREAT VICTORY

It was a great victory for the San Diego yachtsman, after years of trailing along in the wake of other yachts. Zahn not only won today's feature event, but he left the tape among others two of the finest skippers in yachting in these parts. They are in order Ted Conant, who won the King of Spain Trophy in 1929 with the Babe, and Al Rogers, the man who copped the Pacific Coast championship in the six-meter division last year. Conant skippered the Lanai, Com-

WOLGAST WINS VERDICT IN HOLLYWOOD MAIN GO

Piling up points in every round, Midget Wolgast, world's flyweight champion, won a ten-round decision from Canto Robleto, youthful Mexican boxer, last night in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium.

There were no knockdowns in the affair, although Wolgast had Robleto's left eye closed by the end of the fight. Canto's best bet seemed to be his right hand, which he landed several times on the champion's head.

Wolgast's crown was not at stake, Robleto weighing in over the flyweight limit.

Tommy Gardner was awarded the nod over Sergio Redam in the six-round semi-wind-up. Redam should have had a draw out of it, ring experts not agreeing with the referee's verdict.

Jimmy Owens took a decision over Guy McKinney in the six-round special event.

Leo Lomelli outpointed Johnny Miceli over four rounds. In the curtain-raiser Billy Papke, Jr., stopped Max Hernandez in the first round. Hernandez was on the floor twice before he took the final count. Papke's father, Billy, Sr., former world middleweight champion, was in his son's corner.

Critics Still Arguing Result of Berg-Chocolate Encounter; No Action in Offi

JUDGES' COUNTS VARY GREATLY

One Official Gave Cuban Big Edge in Battle

Winner Asks Big Percentage to Tackle Singer

Gotham Fans Pleased with Sparkling Contest

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP)—A dozen impromptu demonstrations in the halls of Madison Square Garden as to how Jackie (Kid) Berg beat "Kid" Chocolate — or how Chocolate beat Berg but failed to get the decision—failed to settle any of the arguments welling in the fight marts today over the accuracy of the decision handed down after ten furious rounds in the Polo Grounds last night.

Critics tried to demonstrate in pantomime to other experts how the White Chapel whirlwind's aggressiveness and eternal punching brought him to the finish line a nose ahead of Chocolate. But in rebuttal other critics peeled off coats and went through motions intended to convey an impression of grace and boxing ability such as the sleek Negro displayed in one of the greatest battles New York has ever seen.

These latter displays were intended to show Chocolate really won the fight even though he lost the decision. When the demonstrations were over the official verdict still stood, Berg, first, and Chocolate second.

GREAT BATTLE

Everyone, from the managers of both fighters and the promoters down to the faithful in the street, were content with the fight itself. After the miserable failures of other highly ballyhooed shows, this clean, vicious struggle of Chocolate and Berg was generally considered just the tonic boxing needed to rise from the doldrums in New York. Only the promoters at Madison Square Garden were dissatisfied with the situation.

Frank Bruen, general manager of the Garden, now contends he has a match for September among the lightweights, inasmuch as Berg is able to be paid 27½ per cent of the gate receipts to fight Al Singer, the champion, for the 135-pound title. Since Singer is entitled to 37½ per cent of the proceeds and the challenger only 17½, the wage problem may halt the match.

Bruen hopes Young Stribling, the Macon slugger, who knocked out Otto Von Porat in Chicago and Phil Scott in London all within the space of three rounds, will return from England in time to arrange a heavyweight tilt between the southerner and either Victorio Campolo, Primo Carnera or Jack Sharkey for September. If a heavyweight bout can be made, the light weights will be abandoned for the time being.

Whoever fights in the big open-air show scheduled for September 12, it seems likely there will be no radio broadcast of the proceedings. The inference is that radio broadcast defrays from the gate receipts. Chocolate and Berg fought before a paid attendance of 34,922, considerably more than the estimates from the ringside, with a total gate of $161,178.38, and net receipts, after taxes had been deducted of $152,377.18. Their fight was not broadcast. Chocolate and Berg each received 25 per cent of the net. The Singer-Mandell match, which was broadcast, grossed $163,388, with a net of $129,633.

The round counts of Referee Patsy Haley and Judges Joe Angello and Charles F. Mathison were announced today. Haley gave Berg six rounds, Chocolate two and two even. Angello gave Berg five, with three for Chocolate and two even. Mathison gave Chocolate seven, Berg two and one even. They agreed entirely only on three rounds, the fourth and the ninth for Berg and the second for Chocolate.

Berg plans a short vacation before going back to work. Chocolate will leave next week for Cuba to "mend his broken heart."

Bob Patterson shot a 74 to win the consolation prize for golfers defeated in the first round of the championship flight. In the consolation round for the remaining five flights Tom Lowry captured low gross with 79. F. H. Baker's 69 went for low net.

Gaines will play off today over eighteen holes with Harry B. Westbrook for the low gross trophy. Several golfers who were unable to play off yesterday for low net will be permitted to play their eighteen-hole round today.

COLEMAN BROTHERS PLAY IN FOX HILLS EXHIBITION

Fay and Lester Coleman of the California Country Club meet Johnny Mescall and Wally Sparks in an eighteen-hole exhibition match over the Fox Hills Country Club championship east course tomorrow at 1 o'clock. The match is open to the public and there will be no gallery fee charged.

Fay, Southern California amateur champion, is playing brilliant golf at present, and the match should be well worth while gallerying. Mescall is the Fox Hills club champion, and is expected to give the Californians a tough match. Sparks pairs up well with Mescall, while the Coleman brothers play well together, having on two occasions won the annual Scotch foursome championship held annually at Midwick.

MacDonald at Finish of His Golfing Shots

BY SOL METZGER

Here are sketches of Bob MacDonald at the finish of a pitch shot and a drive. They tell a story. The pitch is a shot of ninety. You play it to place the ball as near the pin as possible. Of course, you do that in driving. But the paramount issue in driving is to gain maximum distance on the fairway. You swing with all the power you can put into the effort.

The results, the finish of these two strokes, proves that different stances are necessary. For the pitch, with direction and placement the important issues, you stand closer to the ball and use less spread of feet. A great brace is not necessary. The reason for standing closer is not altogether due to the more compact swing the iron demands. One can see his line better.

As you descend the scale of clubs from driver to putter you gradually get more over the ball, until the eyes are directly over the line when putting. And note, too, the follow through with these shots.

Sol Metzger has prepared a leaflet on "The Art of Pitching," in which he reveals the secret of how to make the ball "bite" the green when it hits. Send stamped, addressed envelope to Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and ask for it.

Collins Wins Junior Golf Play Crown

CHICAGO, Aug. 8. (AP)—Red-headed Chuck Collins of St. Louis today completed his quest for the western junior golf championship by overwhelming Bill Chambers of Chicago, 5 and 4, in their 36-hole final match at Flossmoor.

Playing carefully from the start, Collins got the jump on Chambers and never let him up. At the morning turn he was two up and by lunch time had increased his advantage to four holes. Chambers ran into an erratic putting fever that never left him and he blew several opportunities to improve his position on the afternoon round by three-putting.

For the third straight year the medalist became the western junior champion. In 1928 Sammy Alpert, who last spring was a star member of the University of Illinois team, won both medal and title, and last year Fred Lyon of Pontiac, Ill., duplicated the achievement. Collins's 75 for the qualifying round Tuesday was the medal winner.

Collins last spring was a student at Hun School, New Jersey, and plans to enter Yale.

Big Six

Two familiar names forced their way into the Big Six yesterday as Babe Herman and Lou Gehrig took second place in the national and American leagues batting standings, respectively.

Herman's perfect day at bat in which he got four hits, including two home runs, sent his average soaring to .404 while Gehrig found his place with a .380 percentage.

Bill Terry moved up two points, getting four hits in a double-header for a grand average of .409. Klein retained his .402 percentage as did Simmons of the Athletics. Babe Ruth, however, found the range for three hits and a gain of one point.

The standing:

	G	A.B.	R.	H.	Pct.
Terry, Giants	104	433	102	177	.409
Herman, Robins	106	433	107	174	.402

OLYMPIC AFTER FEATHER CLASH

La Barba, Mastro are Sought by Local Arena

Fidel La Barba and Earl Mastro are practically sure to meet here in a fourth tilt, probably in September. The Olympic is seeking the shot after the great battle the two waged in Chicago Thursday night, which was called a draw.

The score still stands even between the pair. They fought twice here, La Barba winning in 1928 and Mastro taking a close decision in 1929. They drew a little over $35,000 for their second fight at the Grand-avenue club.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams has one open date this month to fill. Benny Miller is ready for his crucial test next Tuesday night with Sammy Jackson, a bout which is practically a toss-up. Midget Wolgast and Newsboy Brown go to the post a week later.

The Miller-Jackson bout has stirred up much the same interest that surrounded the old Mushy Callahan-Baby Joe Gans affair of 1926, when Gans took the decision.

Callahan has allied himself with the Miller training staff as an adviser. So far he has not donned the gloves with his former pupil, but may do so today.

Jackie Fields, who was also one of Miller's teachers, plans to attend the fight next week. The ex-champion is in very interested in Benny. The latter learned much of his boxing science from Fields.

Both Miller and Jackson have expressed themselves as favoring Lieut. Jack Kennedy to referee their fight. Kennedy is a firm ringmaster and well liked by boxers.

Young Sport and Ernie Hood are fighting the six-round semi-windup. The winner may be matched with Wolgast. It is Sport's first appearance at the Olympic. Chalky Wright, called the "Kid Chocolate of the West," meets Sid Tores in the special event.

bit and Miss Weisel took the seventh game, but Miss Greef won the next for set and match.

Miss Morrill started out in whirlwind fashion against Miss Palfrey, and ran up a 5-1 lead in the first set. The Brookline girl called upon all her reserves of strokes and speed to bring the count to 5-4, but Miss Morrill took the tenth game on her own service to win the set. The second set was bitterly fought as the youthful rivals deadlocked in games at 3, 5 and 7-all before Miss Palfrey weakened in the sixteenth game to allow Miss Morrill to win it and the match as well. The last game went to deuce five times before Miss Morrill could put across the winning shot.

Miss Gladman and Josephine Cruickshank of Santa Ana reached the finals of doubles by defeating Caroline Babcock of Los Angeles and Dorothy Workman of San Marino, 6-3, 7-5. They will meet in the finals tomorrow afternoon with Miss Morrill and Penelope Anderson, Richmond, Va.

Just before nightfall Miss Morrill and Miss Anderson reached the doubles finals by defeating Miss Cross and Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper, 6-3, 4-6, 12-10. The match was by far the best doubles exhibition of the tournament and was marked by the splendid net play of Miss Morrill and her consistent service, which time and again pulled her and her partner out of a tight pinch.

Strong Polo Team Picked by Hitchcock

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP)—The strongest "White" combination that Capt. Tommy Hitchcock has yet assembled for action in the international tests will ride into action Sunday at the Sands Point Club, Port Washington, Long Island.

Hitchcock at No. 3 will be supported by Eric Pedley at No. 1, Earle A. S. Hopping, No. 2, and Winston Guest, back. This is a thirty-four-goal combination, the highest possible to gather together in American polo and the one that may face the British challengers in September.

The opposing "Reds" will vary their line-up again by trying two No. 1 men, Harriman and Stephen Sanford, with Elmer J. Boeseke, Jr., of California, in a tryout at back. R. H. Williams will play No. 2 and J. Cheever Cowdin No. 3.

EXCELLENT FISHING SIGNS CONTINUING

The ideal barracuda and halibut fishing prevailing for several months off Santa Monica is continuing on into the fall, it was declared yesterday by Cliff and Jack, operators of the live-bait boats Thrush and Palisades. Along with the fishing, the live-bait situation has been wonderful, the two skippers declared. Daily, good supplies of anchovies and sardines have been available for the anglers.

ESCUTCHEON WINS RACE

SARATOGA SPRINGS (N. Y.) Aug. 8. (AP)—Marshall Field's Escutcheon today won the $12,500 Alabama stakes for 3-year-old fillies at Saratoga. W. R. Coe's Conclave ran second with the Bair stud's Flying Gal third. Escutcheon stepped the mile and a quarter in 2:04 1-5.

RACERS TANGLE TONIGHT

May to Pilot Two-Seater in Six-Race Program at Legion Ascot Speedway; Stars Entered

Whether or not the two-seater racing creations, introduced on such tracks of the East as Indianapolis and Altoona this year, will prove practical in competition on the shorter and trickier ovals of the Southwest this winter is expected to be decided tonight when Walt May is slated to wheel the $10,000 Guiberson Special in the six-race program at the Legion Ascot Speedway.

The Guiberson car, owned by Al Guiberson, wealthy local sportsman, was built last spring and taken East. At Indianapolis, Ernie Triplett qualified the car at 105 miles an hour and in the 500-mile classic was a contender throughout. He was holding third place at the 312-mile mark when mechanical trouble came along. Until that juncture, Triplett made an average of ninety-eight miles an hour. Later, at Altoona, the car was qualified at 118 miles an hour, proving one of the fastest racing chariots entered.

The mount will be driven as a two-passenger tonight, the only feature to be lacking being the riding mechanic. A. C. Pillsbury of the A.A.A. has announced that only one man—the pilot—will be allowed in cars on the five-eighths-of-a-mile Ascot saucer.

Local fans are interested in the introduction of the Guiberson Special for several reasons, one being the fact that they are anxious to see competition provided for Jimmy Sharp. The Harbor favorite has been winning with monotonous regularity lately, the only speed kings being able to provide serious opposition being Melvin McKee, Francis Quinn, "Swede" Smith, and Arvel Brummler.

If Walt May has recovered sufficiently from recent injuries to handle the Guiberson properly, he should push the mount to the limit. Along with Sharp, the Alhambra Husky is regarded as one of the two greatest young throttle thumpers in this section of the country.

The regular list of some thirty pilots is enrolled for this evening's fireworks, the list including Dewey Skipworth, Fred Cooper, and Herk Williams, whose cars smashed the fences last week. All three mounts have been repaired and the pilots are ready for new experiences.

There is a good chance of the leadership for the 1930 championship changing hands tonight. Sharp is only 14 points behind Francis Quinn in the scramble for the crown and if the former is as successful tonight as he has been on all recent occasions, he should take enough points to go into the front position.

The six-event program will get under way promptly at 8:30. The Italian Helmet dash will open the festivities, being followed by three ten-lap heats, the forty-lap Sweepstakes, and a ten-lap consolation.

Technicalities Mar Defender Yacht Event

NEWPORT (R. I.) Aug. 8. (AP)—At the start of a race with three other defender candidates today, Harold S. Vanderbilt's yacht Enterprise found herself over the line before the starting signal and was forced to put back. Her skipper did not know it at the time, but, in going back over the line to restart, the Enterprise was the only one of the four boats to start properly.

The race committee had placed the other mark on the wrong side of Brenton's Reef lightship, according to the printed circular of the contest, and the skippers started the race naturally in the direction of the turning mark fifteen miles away.

Although Weetamoe, the Morgan-Nichols candidate for defender of the America's Cup, came home some five minutes ahead of her, Enterprise was technically the victor and winner of a special cup offered by Commodore Vincent Astor of the New York Yacht Club, for she was the only boat to sail the course according to specifications.

She started the race correctly through accident and when she came down the finish line her canny skipper, then aware of the committee's error, sheered away from the line to come about and cross it at the opposite direction.

To the spectator the finish was: Weetamoe, Enterprise, Whirlwind and Yankee; but by the rules of yacht racing, Enterprise was the only boat to sail the course.

TRAPSHOOT SCHEDULED

With but three more scheduled shoots before they move to their new home at Clover Field, Santa Monica, the Los Angeles Gun Club is making elaborate preparations for tomorrow's shoot, which will be held on the Laguna ranch just off Telegraph Road. The following Sunday the third monthly shoot of the Izaak Walton Trapshooting League will be held, according to Fred H. Teeple, secretary of the gun club.

SEAL TRIUMPHS

The best winning season for a San Francisco club in the Pacific Coast League was in 1909, when "Kid" Mohler's pennant winners copped 132 games. Another big winning season for the Seals was in 1925, when the team chalked up 128 wins. The Seals have scored more than 100 wins in twenty-one seasons; a record also held by the Los Angeles clubs.

LEAD DWINDLES

The five leading swatsmiths of the Coast League were not hitting up to form in the opening games this week. The five leaders collected only three safe hits in sixteen trips to the plate, for a batting mark of .188. That was about 200 points below the combined batting power of the five leaders for the season.

Mails Pitches Win for Ducks

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 8. (AP)—Walter Mails pitched Portland to a 3-to-1 victory over Seattle tonight. He struck out six batters and gave only six hits, but was helped by two errors by First Baseman Taylor on easy sacrifice bunts in the seventh.

Portland scored all its runs off Reuther in the seventh. Taylor's errors were directly responsible for two of the runs and they put the next runner on third from where he scored on a single. Score:

Upsets Mark Tennis Events

SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 8. (AP)—The defending champion, Leon De Purenne, Seattle, was eliminated from the Washington State tennis tournament today when he was defeated by Laurason Driscoll, San Francisco, in a torrid three-set battle here today. The Californian won, 6-3, 3-6, 7-5.

Probably the biggest upset of the tournament to date was the victory of Mrs. Golda Myer Gross, veteran Berkeley net ace, over Miss Charlotte Miller, also of the California city, in the semifinals of the women's division. Mrs. Gross downed the rangy girl, who has won three titles in the Pacific Northwest this season, 3-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Through his victory today Driscoll entered the semifinals of the men's singles and will meet Henry Prusoff, Seattle, tomorrow. Prusoff advanced with a 6-2, 6-4, win over Frank Gove, Oakland.

Woods Kayos Star in Hurry

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 8. (AP)—Joe Woods, Los Angeles heavyweight, scored one of the quickest knockouts on record here tonight when he put Tony Star, San Diego, away after thirty-four seconds of fighting in the first round on a scheduled ten-round bout.

Woods landed just two solid blows. One was a right just in front of the ear, and the second landed just back of the same member. The battlers had hardly squared away when they rushed at each other and the end began. The finish came so quickly it left most of the fans stunned for a moment.

GORILLA JONES HELD EVEN BY QUINTERO

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8. (AP)—Gorilla Jones, Negro welterweight of Akron, O., and Manuel Quintero of Tampa, Fla., fought ten hard rounds to a draw here tonight. The Negro weighed 149½ pounds, six pounds more than his opponent. Some of the ringsiders thought that Jones's tenth-round finish when he speared Quintero's jaw with hard rights should have earned him the decision.

ANGEL VICTORIES

The best season for victories by a Los Angeles ball club was in 1903 when the team won 133 games. In those days, however, the schedule was much longer than now. Another big season for the Angels was in 1926, when the team won 121 games.

SEALS WALLOP SHEIKS AGAIN

COLEMAN STAR IN FIELD

Although he fanned three times and failed to get a hit, Ed Coleman, the stuttering right-fielder for the Seals, failed to show any impediment in his ball hawking, turning in two spectacular running catches to make Turpin's task a lot easier.

George Hollerson and Curt Davis are expected to be the hurlers in tonight's contest, to which ladies will again be admitted free. Vitt plans to change his line-up, benching Cleo Carlyle, who has an aggravated case of night-baseballitis and use either Harry Green or Bill Rumler. The Seals presented a shifted outfield last night, Henry Oana, the Hawaiian prince, playing left in place of Red Wings, who was called back to San Francisco because of the serious illness of one of his young sons.

OFF ON WRONG FOOT

Yde got off on the wrong foot by walking Crosetti to start the game and the Seals followed with three hits to accumulate a three-run lead in the first inning. Caveney singled to right after Crosetti was passed and Donovan then doubled to center, the Seal shortstop scoring. Brannan knocked down Sheely's line drive, but could not hold it. Caveney counting and Donovan taking third on the infield hit. Baker forced Sheely at second and Donovan came home with the third run of the round.

After going hitless for two innings the Stars broke into action in the third, bunching four hits for two runs off Turpin. The fans also put on a cushion shower to add a bit more excitement to the stanza, the bombardment coming after Ump McLaughlin had called Yde out on a close play at third.

Yde singled to left with one away and Hill followed with a poke to center. Yde tried to take third on the hit but Donovan made a perfect throw to Caveney and the Umps called Emil out. After the field had been cleared of cushions, Lee singled infield off Turpin's left leg and Brannan smashed one down the right-field line for a triple to score both Hill and Lee. Brannon might have scored also, for the ball got by Coleman, had he not halted at second base.

Yde's support faltered in the fifth and the Seals took advantage of a couple of Hollywood errors to tally twice. Turpin opened the inning by reaching first on Lee's bobble. Crosetti went out but Caveney singled to right. Donovan hit to Gazella who stepped on third to force Turpin and then got off a hurried throw to first. The ball hit Donovan and bounced out into right field, Caveney scoring and Donovan going to second on the error. Sheely was purposely walked. With the count three and two and everybody running, Baker smashed a hot single off Gazella's shins. The ball bounded over to the Seal dugout and Donovan sprinted home from second. Coleman fanned for the third time to bring the inning to a close.

YDE SHELLED AGAIN

The Seals shelled Yde for two more runs in the sixth and drove the Star southpaw to the showers. Shellenback replaced him and kept the Seals in check the rest of the route.

Carlyle made a neat running catch of Oana's smash to open the sixth, but Gaston singled to right. Turpin found a big hole in the Sheiks' outfield defense and drove one past Carlyle into the extreme center-field corner for three bases, Gaston counting. When Crosetti doubled to right to score Turpin Vitt lifted Yde and Shellenback halted the slaughter.

Barbee slapped a home run over the left center-field bricks in the home half of the sixth, but from then on young Turpin kept the Stars in complete subjugation for the remainder of the game to preserve his lead and chalk up a victory. Score:

ZEPHYR WINNER OF FINAL RACE

modore Christie's boat, and his trim six-meter sloop Sylvia is the arbitrary handicap, neither was in it with the Zephyr sailor. Conant looked sure winner when the fleet of thirty-three boats hit the B mile on the run for the taps, but she gave his Zephyr her head in a dash toward the line and the skipper just creaked her joints with everything she had and led the fleet over the finish by three lengths.

It was a great race to the taps. Conant gave his boat all he could, but the Zephyr of Zahn were said to be dismasted. Rogers took third place with the Synnove. There was but seconds between the Rogers and the Lanai at the finish.

SYNNOVE THIRD

The Synnove was a minute and twenty seconds behind the leader. The racing program today was staged in a very light wind and strange to say, three heavy-weight boats did all the real sailing. The wind, which has been very light throughout the regatta, was no different today.

Al Rogers and his Synnove took the lead on the second leg of the time around and then Zahn was on with the Zephyr to take command at the halfway mark. Conant was in the van when the boats headed for the taps on the last lap, with victory it appeared for Conant, then the Zephyr poured her stuff and came on to win. The result of today's feature will decide the thing and that is this, the first time the veteran Zahn and his boat turn up they will be sure to get their share of attention from the experts.

Paul Johnson's Seydlyn won the Dan Pratt power-cruiser race, which started last night from here and ended this morning. The event was finished at 3:10 a.m., with Seydlyn making a 10 per cent average, according to the committee, for performance. The Marlin was second and Jaysee, third. The start of the race last evening presented one of the prettiest pictures ever seen in this harbor. Fifty power cruisers dashed through the bridge neck and neck to avoid Catalinas, while all the craft in the harbor tooted fans on their way.

Tonight Commodore Leon Berman of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club, and Vice-Commodore Al Myers will present the winning trophies to the yachting champions of this year.

Before closing this account of the last day, it might be well to give due commendation to the United States Coast Guard for their hearty co-operation in supplying facilities and convoys during the regattas.

Coffield Wins Caliente Race

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) Aug. 8.—For many winters Coffield was one of the leading sprinters racing at the old Tia Juana Jockey Club race track, now abandoned, across the river. He was for most of his time the pride of a stable owned by Negroes and each time he came home there were new silk shirts in Darktown that night.

But Coffield got old and dropped down in class. This afternoon he competed in the cheapest kind of company under the colors of Miss P. Kelly, a $500 claiming race for all aged horses.

Despite his fourteen years, the old gelding still had speed left in him and won the event by a nose over Siva Man, a 5-year-old. Grogan, 3-year-old, got the show. Coffield ran the six furlongs in 1:13 4-5, slower time than he formerly clocked the distance, but good enough to win.

Coast o' Mail won the featured number of the afternoon, the 1 1-16 miles, a mile and one-eighth of fair. Rated behind Olive Dexter in the stretch. Coast o' Mail scored a driving finish under hard punishment. Shasta Nut got the show. Results:

First race, seven furlongs, claiming, purse $500—Sir Hester, Cayley (Ten Key) 1; Bar 10, 106—Al Star (C. Church) 2; Bar 10, 106—Friendship (Dyer) 3. Time, 1:28 3-5.

Second race, five and one-half furlongs, purse $500—Beth's Queen, first; West Cricket, second; Jones, third. Time, 1:07 3-5.

Third race, six furlongs, claiming, purse $500—Five Jays, first; Sam Gilbert, second; Orkin, third. Berry, 107, up. Time, 1:14 4-5.

Fifth race, one and one-sixteenth miles, claiming, purse $500—Yosemite Dear, first; Olive Dexter, second; Shasta Nut, third. Time, 1:47 1-5.

Sixth race, one and one-sixteenth miles, claiming, purse $500—Nonsame (C. Church), first; Sir Hester, second; Starlander, third. Time, 1:48 3-5.

Seventh race, seven furlongs, claiming, purse $500—Sir Hester, Cayley, first; Friendship, second; Bar 10, 106—All Star (C. Church), third. Time, 1:26 3-5.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8. (AP)—Lefty pitching by Mose Grove and Alvin Shores today gave the Athletics a split of a double-header with the Chicago White Sox and further cinched their grip on the 1930 American League pennant. The Athletics won, 6 to 1 and 4 to 1. Jimmy Dykes' home run in the first ended the winning rally in the opening game. The victory was Grove's eighteenth of the season and eighteenth for defeats. In the sixth inning of the year, with two on base, Al Simmons hit his twenty-eighth home run of the season. In the second game Al Simmons, Mule Haas and Jimmy Dykes drove in one run apiece and one run each helped the Macks to triumph.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP)—George Pipgras' brilliant pitching plus timely hitting by Harry Rice gave the New York Yanks a 5-to-3 decision over the St. Louis Browns today. It was the Yanks' fourth straight victory, and Pipgras's thirteenth of the season.

Every man in the game included in the box score had a hit, and a home run that was responsible for the second and a base hit that forced it to a third.

INDIANS BUMPED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—The Washington outfit and outpitched the Cleveland Indians, combining from behind to win the opening game of the series, 5 to 4.

After the Indians had combined two walks and two doubles in the fourth to score three runs off Fischer, rookie speedball pitcher making his debut here, the Nats began to pound Schoffner hard, finally tying the score in the sixth when Pinch Hitter Harris lashed out a double after Spencer had tripled.

Washington broke the deadlock in the eighth, when Manush doubled and was brought home by Cronin's fourth hit of the day. Porter led the Cleveland hitters, crashing out three singles and scoring two runs.

Herman Stars as Dodgers Beat Cards, 11-5

Giants Cop Twin Bill from Pittsburgh Pirates

CHICAGO, Aug. 8. (AP)—Home runs by Charlie Grimm and Clarence Blair, coupled with effective pitching by Bush, gave the Cubs a 6-to-1 victory over Boston today.

The National League champions had a 2-to-0 lead going into the seventh, when they put on a batting spree at the expense of Socks Seibold. The assault included the homers of Grimm and Blair. Boston's single run was the result of a personal effort of Berger, who found Bush for a home run in the ninth. Score:

SIZE OF COTTON CROP COMPUTED

Government Places Total at 14,362,000 Bales

Condition Rated at 62.2 Per Cent of Normal

California Given Percentage Ranking of 92

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—An indicated cotton crop of 14,362,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight was forecast today for this year by the Department of Agriculture, basing its forecast on the condition of the crop the 1st inst., which was 62.2 per cent of normal.

The 1st inst. condition indicates a yield of 155.3 pounds per acre, compared with 155 pounds last year and 155.1 pounds the 1919-28 average yield per acre.

Last year the August 1 condition was 69.6 per cent of a normal, and the 1919-28 average condition on August 1 was 67.2 per cent.

The indicated production was calculated on the basis of the area in cultivation July 1 this year less the ten-year average abandonment, or 44,252,000 acres.

The producing acreage, condition the 1st inst. and indicated total production by States follow:

State—	Acre.	Con.	Indicated Prod'n
Virginia	88,000	73	42,000
North Carolina	1,696,000	74	782,000
South Carolina	2,145,000	74	930,000
Georgia	3,450,000	72	1,380,000
Florida	100,000	72	20,000

LESS COTTON GINNED IN YEAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—Cotton of this year's growth ginned prior to the 1st inst. was announced today by the Census Bureau to have totaled 77,956 running bales, counting round as half-bales, compared with 86,074 bales to that date last year and 88,761 bales in 1928.

"During July unusually hot, dry weather prevailed in most of the belt from Alabama west, amounting to severe drought in many sections," a crop reporting board statement said. "Curtailment of the crop from this cause was particularly severe in Arkansas and Louisiana, where the forecasts are approximately 23 per cent below last year's production.

"Mississippi, Oklahoma, Alabama, Tennessee and Missouri are other States affected by drought with prospects below last year. Should the hot, dry weather continue in these States further deterioration in crop prospects will result.

"On the other hand, should rain come, more than average improvement is likely to result because of the relatively small number of weevils present. The forecast in Texas is approximately 550,000 bales above the short crop of 1929. The South Atlantic States have had ample rainfall and prospective production is larger than the crop produced last year. Because boll weevils are relatively more numerous in this section than elsewhere, frequent rains hereafter are more likely to be injurious than beneficial.

"The crop in most of the belt is a few days earlier than last year and considerably earlier than in 1928. Fruiting is more advanced than last year in the Carolinas, Georgia, Tennessee and Texas, but is less advanced in other major States."

The report said the board had made allowance for weevil damage on the basis of reports received. It added that if the usual weather prevails henceforth weevil damage would be less than last year in every State and would be about equal the damage in 1924 and 1926.

Investment Unit Holdings Show Sharp Advance

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—As of July 31, last, the inventory of Mayflower Associates, Inc., showed stocks and bonds having a market value of $10,100,000, compared with an approximate cost of $13,000,000, or a gain of nearly 25 per cent in seventeen months, the company reported today. Liquidating value as of July 31, last, is calculated at about $72.45 a share, against $58.66 on December 31, 1929.

Among the principal items were bonds and syndicate participations with an approximate value of $4,900,000 and industrial stocks with a market value of $4,600,000, both practically the same as cost. Rhodesian mining stocks had a market value of $7,000,000, against cost of $3,900,000.

Cash and call loans totaled $2,261,258 and government securities at cost $2,041,562. The company held 29,316 shares of Mayflower stock.

Burlington Rail Income Reduced

CHICAGO, Aug. 8. — Losses of revenue of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad as a result of the reduction in grain rates ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission may run as high as $1,500,000, according to H. H. Holcomb, vice-president in charge of freight traffic. This figure may be raised or lowered on further analysis of the changes the new rates will make necessary, he said, pointing out that it is as yet difficult to determine just what effect some of the new provisions will have.

The revision in class rates will not reduce the loss from grain rate reductions to any considerable extent as nearly as can now be determined, the official stated.

DETAILS OF OIL SUPPLY OFFER TOLD

U. S. Steel to Pay Cash and Stock for Business; Option Runs Until 25th Inst.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8. — United States Steel Corporation will pay $6,865,800 in cash and 64,992 shares of its common stock for the business of the Oil Well Supply Company, according to a letter sent to stockholders of the latter concern by its president, Benjamin F. Harris. The steel corporation has until the 25th inst. to reach a decision on the purchase, as its option expires on that date.

Based on the current price of 164 for Steel common, the purchase price would be $17,534,488. Oil Well Supply has 399,972 shares outstanding, so that the 64,992 shares of Steel common would be equivalent to about one share of Steel for six shares of Oil Well Supply or a value of slightly above $27 a share for Oil Well Supply.

The steel corporation will assume all debts of Oil Well Supply except $806,000 of 6 per cent debentures of Wilson Snyder Manufacturing Corporation, a subsidiary. Oil Well Supply has $6,865,800 of 7 per cent cumulative preferred outstanding and the total par value of the debenture and preferred stock is equal to the amount of cash to be paid in the transaction. The preferred is callable at $110 and the Wilson Snyder debentures at 103 and in event that these issues should be reduced by $1.61 a share to pay the premiums on the retirement of the two issues, at the option of the steel corporation, the $6,865,800 portion of the payment may be made in Steel common stock rated at its closing price two days preceding the closing of the transaction.

A special meeting of Oil Well Supply stockholders will be held September 9, next, to ratify the transaction and to approve a change in name to Pittsburgh Unit Corporation to permit the steel corporation to make use of the well-known trade name of Oil Well Supply.

Profits Survey Traces Declines

The bulletin adds that "in the face of this less favorable showing, however, a substantial number of concerns still are reporting gains over a year ago, the total of such individual increases now amounting to 104."

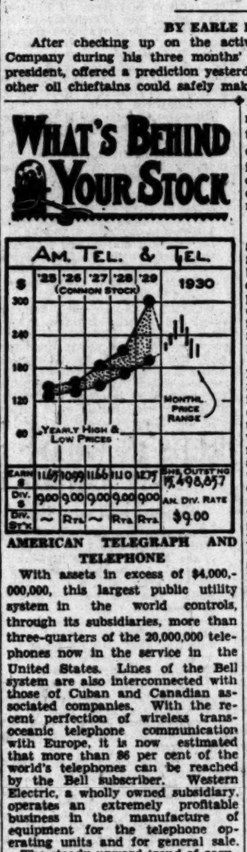
SIGNAL LEADER CHEERFUL

S. B. Mosher, Oil President, Expects Profits to Equal 1929; Returns After Extended Foreign Tour

BY EARLE E. CROWE

After checking up on the activities of the Signal Oil and Gas Company during his three months' absence in Europe, S. B. Mosher, president, offered a prediction yesterday on the year's earnings that few other oil chieftains could safely make in these uncertain times.



AMERICAN TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONE

With assets in excess of $4,000,000,000, this largest public utility system in the world controls, through its subsidiaries, more than three-quarters of the 20,000,000 telephones now in the service in the United States. Lines of the Bell system are also interconnected with those of Cuban and Canadian associated companies. With the recent perfection of wireless transoceanic telephone communication with Europe, it is now estimated that more than 86 per cent of the world's telephones can be reached by the Bell subscriber. Western Electric, a wholly owned subsidiary, operates an extremely profitable business in the manufacture of equipment for the telephone operating units and for general sale.

The steady upward trend of earnings in the past few years was continued into the first half of 1930 when a 2 per cent increase in net income over the 1929 period was reported. Due, however, to the steady expansion activities of the organization and the consequent increase in common stock capitalization, the per share figure of $5.71 decreased from the $6.15 shown last year.

CAPITALIZATION

Funded debt, $486,039,900; capital stock ($100 par), $1,549,855,700.

Current data: In his June report, Walter S. Gifford, president, stated that about 165,000 telephones had been added to the Bell system in the half-year just ended.

[All rights reserved. Cambridge Associates, Inc. Boston.]

Mr. Mosher is satisfied that Signal Oil and Gas profits for the twelve months of 1930 will at least equal last year's total. And he is inclined to believe, moreover, that developments now under way may enable Signal to surpass the 1929 record.

GAIN EXPECTED

To equal 1929 profits of $1,280,-838.71 after charges and taxes, the Signal company must turn in a better report for the last six months of the year than the first. Net profits for the first half were equivalent to $2.75 a share on 226,-940 shares, which compares with $6.12 for the full twelve months of 1929 on 209,175 shares.

With ordinary good fortune Mr. Mosher believes the company will readily make up the slight setback in the first half, attributable to the crude oil-curtailment program. Potentials in some of the fields in which Signal operates have been revised, and more new wells are scheduled for completion. These two factors alone are expected to offset the recession in the first half.

High hopes are held out, however, for materially increased profits from natural gasoline production in the Big Lake field, Texas. Within ten days Signal will place in operation a new 30,000-gallon unit to its Big Lake plant, raising the total daily capacity of the plant to about 55,000 gallons of natural gasoline.

Later, Mr. Mosher said, the company may add another unit in time to have the earnings reflect in the last quarter's result. He regards Signal's position in the Big Lake field as of immense importance to the company, since it has an exclusive gas contract on the Continental Oil Company's production, one of the two operators in the field. The Big Lake is generally regarded as a second Kettleman Hills because of its large natural-gas production and its 60-deg. gravity crude oil.

Three wells now drilling on the company's plant site at Long Beach are expected to add further income in the current half-year.

TOURIST TRAVEL OFF

While in Europe on a tour that took him into the principal countries Mr. Mosher was impressed by the relative prosperity of the French, and signs of recovery in Germany and possibly England. European countries, he said, have noticeably felt the decline in American tourist expenditures in the first half of the year, but are encouraged over recent signs of a decided pick-up in American travel.

Higher tariff agitation is urged in most countries, said the Signal president, as an answer to the new American schedule, and there appears to be a probability of a tariff wall arising in England on the wave of rising popular sentiment. In Germany and England in particular he heard many complaints of excessive taxation.

Standard Oil and Shell motor fuels are by far the most popular in Europe, said Mr. Mosher, making up about 90 per cent of the total. Especially in France are the familiar Standard signs noticeable.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—Trading in wool continues moderately active in the bulk of sales on the finer grades, including 58s-60s or better. Territory wools of 56s and lower grades have a rather limited outlet, but prices on the scattered sales reported are very firm to slightly higher. Fleece wools of similar quality are slow and prices mostly steady. The choice lines of Ohio and similar 48s-60s strictly combing fleeces show a slightly firmer tendency.

Survey Shows Slackening of Trade Activity

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP)—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

The status of agriculture, always highly important because of its fundamental bearing on the general economic situation, has attained the position of outstanding prominence. Prolonged heat and drought over much of the country have had their chief damaging results in the great corn-producing areas of the Middle West, while injury to some other crops and live stock also has been serious, and there has been a sharp reversal of the declining trend of prices for various farm staples.

It is yet too early accurately to gauge the probable effects upon business of the changed agricultural prospects, and the main response thus far has been in the sensitive speculative markets. Elsewhere, with few exceptions, activity has continued at low ebb, the normal midsummer repression of trade being accentuated by the unusual conditions prevailing this year. The numerous statistical indices have plainly revealed the extent of the commercial setback and no definite uplift was to be expected during August, but there is a logical inference in many quarters that at least some seasonal revival will come with the autumn.

Weekly bank clearings, $9,688,-290,000, a decrease of 25 per cent from a year ago.

BEATRICE CREAMERY INCREASES CAPITAL

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Stockholders of Beatrice Creamery Company today approved the increase in the authorized preferred stock from 80,000 to 125,000 shares of $100 par value and in the common stock from 500,000 to 750,000 shares of $50 par value. Directors of the company approved the acquisition of Liberty Dairy Products Corporation of Pittsburgh, Pa.

TRANSAMERICA STOCK HIT

Avalanche of Sales on Pacific Coast Markets Follows Close of New York Exchange

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8. (AP)—Transamerica took another terrific stock market pounding here today. Sellers dumped nearly 125,000 shares, while the price sank to an all-time low record figure at $18.75. The net loss for the day was 2.62½ a share, or more than $63,000,000 on the outstanding shares, numbering more than 24,000,000.

A partial recovery before the close was sufficient to lift the last sale to $19. The previous low record was $20.

The selling deluge broke about 11 o'clock in the morning—the hour when the New York Stock Exchange closes. The stock was recently listed there.

Trading in Transamerica here far exceeded the New York total today, the latter being only about 43,000 shares. The Wall-street close was at $20.37½.

The tumble of Transamerica was not independent of the general market trend. Heavy losses had been sustained by many leading stocks on the New York exchanges, and on the San Francisco Stock Exchange issues declining about as much as Transamerica included Pacific Telephone, Sherman Clay & Co. prior preferred and several slightly less affected, such as Pacific Lighting, Union Oil of California, Standard Oil of California and California Ink.

None of these stocks, however, was subjected to the violent pounding bestowed on Transamerica. The latter's sales were more than five-sevenths of the entire exchange turnover.

This condition elicited an official statement from the corporation. James A. Bacigalupi, a director, said the market action of the stock was "unjustified and deplorable."

He called upon stockholders to exhibit faith in the big bank holding company, and show fight, rather than sell their holdings. He said the company's assets were as sound as ever.

Bacigalupi attacked "self-constituted appraisers" whose comment in financial circles has followed publication of Transamerica's assets, coincident with the listing of the stock on the New York Stock Exchange. He intimated the figures shown in the statement represent only the skeleton of the corporation's real worth.

The director's statement estimated the value of the stock between $30 and $40 a share. It has sold this year between a high of $47.50 and today's low, which is somewhat more than one-third the year's top price.

MEAT RETAIL WAR LOOMS

Proposed Modification of "Big Four" Packers' Decree Raises Storm of Indignation

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Are the 130,000 retail meat market owners organizing to fight any modification of the packers' decree, which prohibits the big four meat packers from ever entering the retail distribution of meat?

The big packers want the decree modified. They have asked the government's permission. Atty.-Gen. Mitchell, before leaving on his vacation in Scotland, announced that he was opposed to modification and that he would fight against any change of any kind.

Now the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, which is meeting this week in Minneapolis, was advised by United States Senator Schall that if the "packers are allowed to go into meat retailing they will have an absolute monopoly on the entire meat industry within a few years."

"The packers' consent decree enables the individual retailer to carry on and improve his business," said the blind Senator. "If the packers are allowed to enter the retail field, they will soon control the entire industry and the retail dealers who now own their own shops will be working for some one else."

Undoubtedly, this sentiment is the sentiment of the retail meat dealers. They oppose the change and the indications are now that they will make it a political issue, if necessary, to maintain their point.

It looks as though the big four packers (for all other packers except Swift, Armour, Cudahy and Wilson can enter the retail meat-distribution field) will have to get their modification, if they ever do, from an appeal to the courts. And this is exactly what they are after now.

Reginald McKenna, former Chancellor of the British Exchequer, now head of England's largest bank, the Midland, challenges the position that the central banks of the world have little or nothing to do with the ruinous price declines of the last few years. He believes they have had a great deal to do with it.

"The world is staggering under the pressure of deflation, largely because Britain has pursued a restrictive money policy," says Mr. McKenna. "The regular expansion of money supplies which must be undertaken, if trade is to be active and the price level stable, has not been permitted; as a consequence, British prices, and with them the world level of prices, have tended steadily downward."

Sir Josiah Stamp, British industrial leader and a member of the board of the Bank of England, takes much the same position.

"World bankers meet and decide on policies—the Young plan, for example. Much of the work is involved and technical. But it doesn't mean a thing unless the world price level stops dropping. If world prices drop another 20 points, not only will Germany not be able to pay her reparations, but it is very questionable whether Great Britain could continue to pay her obligations to the United States. And yet, it's a subject that very few people have given any study at all."

In these words this British economist spoke frankly to this writer. Every student of finance knows that there has been a great deal of money fluctuations in the last few years due to manipulation and not to natural causes.

In these times such manipulations are inexcusable, spelling as they do the ruination and bankruptcy of thousands of firms and individuals.

WOOL MART FIRMS UP ON DEMAND

Worsted Manufacturers Relieve Large Portion of Current Surplus

BOSTON, Aug. 8. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin of Boston will say tomorrow:

"As the week has progressed it has become clear that the worsted manufacturers have taken a very decent weight of wool off the market again. Mostly the demand has come from the larger mills but some fine wools have gone to the topmakers. Prices are steady, except that some woolen wools are barely firm.

"The piece-goods markets continued in rather sullen mood. Business is developing slowly, as yet, although it is held to be only a matter of time until buyers must come into the market.

"The foreign markets are generally quiet.

"The drought in the West appears to be spreading. Feeding of sheep for lack of pasture is reported in several States and some growers have sold sheep because of feeding conditions.

"Mohair still is slow and prices nominal.

"The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston January 1, 1930, to August 7, 1930, inclusive, were 84,811,500 pounds, against 107,491,700 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930, to the 7th inst. inclusive, were 240,881,113 pounds, against 216,246,685 pounds for the same period last year."

Slackening of Steel Activity Depressing Factor

Slump of Cotton Also Is Liquidating Move

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP)—A terrific drubble of liquidation that had been coming into the stock market this week suddenly swelled into a flood today, sweeping away many remnants of the July rally.

The price index of stocks showing shares dropped 8.2 points, largest break since mid-June, when the market was approaching bottom of the early summer slump. At the close, the composite index stood at 161, the lowest since June 9, when it was 160.9. The peak this year is 194.

LOSSES RUN HEAVY

Losses ranged from 2 to 5 points in popular investment issues. The support was meager and the recovery attempts failed to cover, leaving prices the lowest of the day.

The market was heavy at the opening, but the decline did not become severe until public interest in the government crop estimate, which cotton had broken prices of that staple more than $3 a bale. Almost simultaneously, a financial news agency published a report that operations of the United States Steel Corporation had declined to 61 per cent of capacity, a loss of 6 per cent in less than a week. Reports of short interest, which had been increasing centering on Warner Brothers Pictures, Rock Island, Southern Pacific and Missouri Pacific, in the right way and a few other issues, were not refunded its position and the values melted away rapidly during the afternoon.

ACTIVITY SPURTS

Trading increased sharply, the total totaling slightly more than 4,000,000 shares, of which 900,000 shares changed hands in the last hour.

The break was a damaging blow to the aspiration of bull leaders, who had hoped the market would shake out of its dullness on a rising tide.

United States Steel, which on Tuesday sold as high as 172, came under severe pressure at times, deciding the trend of the whole operating figures were not news well suited to their purpose, offered the stock freely on the way down, a break below previous minor lows would open up the rear guard of the market. With only minor interruptions, Steel slumped to 165, where it closed for a net loss of 5½.

American Can tumbled 9 points under liquidation based on the assumption the drought would curtail the demand for its products. Company officials said it was too early to gauge the effect of the drought on fruit and vegetable pack, and operations were being maintained at full schedules.

TELEPHONE FALLS

American Telephone dropped 4 points to 202 3-8, against its previous low of 200 1-4. Air Reduction, Allied Chemical, Auto-Strop, B, Case, Wheeler, Ingersoll Rand, Kelly-Springfield, Goodrich, Goodyear, Greenfield Tire, Hupp, Motor, Hupmobile, Packard, Nash, Studebaker, Timken, Underwood-Elliott Fisher, United Aircraft, Vanadium, Westinghouse Air Brake, Woolworth, Diamond Match, American Water Works, Commonwealth Power and Electric Power and Light, Consolidated Gas, lost 6 points. Westinghouse Electric, Public Service of New Jersey, American Tobacco B, American Can, Houston Oil, Mathieson Alkali, Mid-Continent Petroleum, Webster 9 to more than 5, and Yellow Cab 4. Standard Brands, General Motors, General Electric, Gillette, Mack Truck, Bethlehem Steel, Columbian Carbon, Johns-Manville, Standard Oil of New Jersey, North American, Pacific Gas and Electric, Consolidated Gas and A. M. & N. dropped 3 to nearly 5. The largest loss was 7 points in J. I. Case, off 17 3-4. Yellow Truck and Worthington Pump broke 4 points.

Warner Brothers Pictures, which directors omitted the quarterly dividend, closed off 6 3-4 at 29, a new low. Southern Railway, Missouri Pacific, Rock Island, Louisville & Nashville and Corn Products made new lows.

Except for the French franc, which was firm, important foreign currencies eased.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP)—The government crop report placing the condition of the crop at 74.2 per cent, which was 1.8 per cent below the trade guess, was a very sharp break in cotton prices today. "TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Bard's, Eighth, between Broadway and Hill—"The Border Legion," Richard Arlen and Jack Holt do some plain and fancy shooting and do it well.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"One Mad Kiss," Jose Mojica director's first effort in a picture which should have been better.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Hollywood Revue of 1929," a film full of quality and delight with Ann Harding at her best in defense of youth.

Chinese, Grauman's Hollywood — "Hell's Angels." It took Howard Hughes four years and $4,000,000 to produce this colossus of the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 642 South Grand — "Our Modern Maidens," a sensitive, fast-moving story of the younger set with a heart throb or two from Joan Crawford.

Egyptian, Hollywood at Ivar—"Good Intentions," a finely made story of the underworld featuring Edmund Lowe.

Fiesta, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Dangerous Darling," Matrimonial problems well handled by Norma Shearer and Robert Montgomery.

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"Pamir." Reviewed in today's Times.

Lowe's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Song of My Heart," John Barrymore's debut is laid in Ireland and many have liked it.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Shadow of the Law."

Paramount, Hollywood at Vine—"The Unholy Three," Lon Chaney in a picture that makes room for variety. Good.

Pantages, Hill at Sixth—"The Sap from Syracuse," with Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson in a comedy with sets of Jack Oakie's clowning thrown in.

Rialto, Westlake at La Brea—"With Byrd at the South Pole." A remarkable film of a brilliant expedition.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Hell's Island," Jack Holt and Ralph Graves join the Foreign Legion and fight it out; not that it makes history.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Dixiana," Bebe Daniels in a musical comedying of the South and of very unsubtle caliber.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Dancing Sweeties," a story that's about youth. With Grant Withers and Sue Carol.

Uptown, Western at 76th—"The Shadow of the Law," a well constructed picture in which William Powell stars.

Warner Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"Scarlet Pages," a picture that appears to some advantage in an uneven story.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"The Man I Love," Raoul Walsh's virile and very entertaining film French farce with Frank Fay.

Westlake, 6th at Alvarado—"The Divorcee."

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"Rebound," Ina Claire sparkles in various moods, and the Belasco has installed a new cooler.

El Capitan, Hollywood Blvd. at Highland—"Rain for Three," a new play by Somerset Maugham becomes entertaining. Tom Brown, Gladys George and Ernest Glendinning.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1722 N. Vine—"Lysistrata," Aristophanes' bawdy charms recast in this dramatic tale by Ernest Vajda. Tom Douglas comes near to being the star of the show.

Cannery Packs Peaches from Hoover Ranch

PORTERVILLE, Aug. 8. — President Hoover will probably look for the Porterville label when he is seeking canned peaches this winter, inasmuch as peaches from his ranch near Waseo in Kern county, are being packed at the local plant of the Neuhoff Cannery Company. President Hoover's fruit is of a very fine quality, according to Manager E. J. Stuart of the local house.

The cannery is now working full-time on midsummer clings, with an increased output determined for next week. A force of about 500 men and women is now employed, but this will also be increased as the season progresses.

While a considerable tonnage is being received from President Hoover's ranch, some fruit is coming from Exeter and Selma districts, but the bulk of the peaches are a product of this district. The season's peach pack will probably reach about 160,000 cases, according to Manager Stuart. Free stones will not be canned, plenty of clings being available.

Boy Instantly Killed When Truck Hits Car

ARMONA, Aug. 8.—Eugene Clark, 12-year-old son of H. E. Clark of Terrabella, was instantly killed in an automobile accident here late today. The automobile, driven by Robert Clark, 14 years of age, a brother of the dead boy, was struck by an oil truck of the Lang Transportation Company. J. J. Phillips of Tulare was at the wheel of the truck.

Witnesses asserted that the lad was riding on the running board and that the automobile was traveling across the main intersection at a good rate of speed. They say that Phillips saw that the accident was imminent and stopped the heavy truck within about fifty yards, but not in time to avoid the collision. The impact knocked the boy from the running board directly in the path of the truck, which ran over him with instantly fatal results.

The Phillips family is temporarily living in the workers' colony of the Kings County Packing Company, while members of the family are employed in the cannery of that firm.

Besides the parents several brothers and sisters are left. Coroner Ora D. Strong investigated the accident and will arrange for an inquest some time tomorrow.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Rusia les Ha Proporcionado Armas a los Afganes

LONDRES, Agosto 8.—El gobierno británico ha estado averiguando cuál sea la fuente del armamento que han estado usando las rebeldes tribus Afridis en la frontera de Afganistán, y, por eliminación, se ha convencido de que proviene de Rusia.

Era imposible que sacaran los afridis armas de la India, cuya frontera se halla muy bien vigilada. Además, el rajá de Kashmir ha estado cooperando con los ingleses en la evitación del matute de armas. También la frontera del Beluchistán ha estado bien resguardada, y no quedan más que dos fuentes posibles de contrabando: Persia por el oeste, y Rusia por el norte.

El hecho de que se ha trastornado el orden en el norte de Afganistán indica que Rusia anda en el ajo, pues aun en el caso de que hayan entrado armas de Persia, las tribus del sur, que las necesitan tanto como las del norte, no las habrían dejado pasar de sus manos. Cuando el Haj de Turangzi llevó sus primeras ritas contra Peshawar, los aviadores británicos descubrieron grandes pilas de armas y municiones en la frontera rusa.

El sistema ferroviario soviet hace ahora posible el transporte de armas desde Moscú hasta un punto que está a dos días de marcha de la frontera afgana, y no hay duda de que procedan de Rusia las armas con que están combatiendo a los ingleses.

EX-JUROR'S CASE MEETS WITH DELAY

Mrs. Maudeen Ward

Hearing on contempt-of-court charges against Mrs. Maudeen Ward, 1247 West Sixty-first street, member of a jury which was dismissed after failing to reach an agreement as to the guilt of ten Communists, was postponed yesterday by Municipal Judge Stutesman until next Thursday. The delay was granted at the request of John Beardsley, defense attorney, who told the court that his client had not been served with the citation for contempt and that he desires to present a defense.

Mrs. Ward was cited after three jurors filed affidavits with Judge Stutesman in which they asserted that she admitted purchasing a Communist periodical and being influenced in her decision by it. The Reds on trial were charged with various offenses growing out of the Plaza riots of February 26, last.

Chain Grocery Officials Filled with Optimism

Confidence in the business outlook was expressed here yesterday by Ross McIntyre of Portland and C. E. Marr of Oakland, president and vice-president, respectively, of MacMarr, Inc., chain grocery company, upon their arrival on a business trip. They registered at the Biltmore.

McIntyre pointed to an investment of $750,000 in Pacific Coast stores in the last month and to plans to expand the company's activities as proof of his belief in the recuperative power of American business.

After a few hours in Los Angeles, the merchants went to San Diego. F. L. Sims, W. N. Haraway, Tom Parker and Ernest R. Ham, other officials of the company, were with McIntyre and Marr here. The concern owns in the neighborhood of fifty grocery stores in and about Los Angeles.

Salvation Army to Fete Officer

Brig. James C. Bell, commanding officer of the Los Angeles and South Coast division of the Salvation Army, will conduct tomorrow night the farewell service to Ensign Phil Lawton, newly assigned officer of the San Bernardino post. The scene will be the temple, 832 West Ninth street.

Ensign Lawton has served more than a year in the headquarters here as secretary of the home service department. He succeeds Commandant Heley Jones, who died last week after taking charge of the San Bernardino corps. The commandant had served some of the leading corps.

Lawton has been active in club and fraternal circles in this city. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club and past president of clubs in other cities.

FRUIT SHOWS HIGH AVERAGE

July Figures Find Crops 80 Per Cent Perfect

Olives and Figs Lead With 95 and 93 Marks

Pears and Peaches Low at 55 and 62 Rating

Fruit crop conditions in Los Angeles county for the month of July showed a general average of 80 per cent of perfect, it was revealed yesterday in a monthly report compiled by the office of Agricultural Commissioner Ryan.

According to Deputy Commissioner Wolff, in charge of crop inspection, present crop conditions as a whole may be considered good. The report, which is based on reports of inspectors of the twenty districts into which the county is divided, is made each month and sent to the California Co-operative Crop Reporting Service at Sacramento. Crops and their percentages of a perfect rating are given as follows:

Grapefruit, 88; lemons, 87; navel oranges to be harvested in the fall, 86; seedling oranges, 80; Valencia oranges, 86; almonds, 85; apples, 77; apricots, 90; avocados, 86; figs, 93; grapes, 93; olives, 95; peaches, 62; pears, 55; plums, 90; prunes, 80; walnuts, 70, and persimmons, 81.

Wolff said an unusually large avocado crop is expected this year due to a heavy yield of old trees and new plantings now maturing.

EMPLOYMENT SITUATION IMPROVES

Industrial employment in Los Angeles increased 13 per cent in July as compared to June, according to an inquiry made by E. F. MacDonough, manager of the domestic trade department, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Figuring on the basis of 100 per cent representing 100,000 wage earners, the July industrial employment here was 84 per cent of normal, as compared with 71 per cent in the preceding month.

There were about 4450 industrial establishments in the Los Angeles metropolitan area last year employing 112,000 persons with an aggregate pay roll of $173,500,000.

A new program of building throughout the Los Angeles area, as recently described exclusively in The Times, is having a large part in improving the industrial situation here. The large part of a more than $224,000,000 public and private construction program for the Southland is either under way or projected within a six months' period in the Los Angeles area. Included in it is a water project for which Los Angeles recently voted $38,000,000, the expenditure of a preliminary $10,000,000 in Boulder Dam work and the probable expenditure of more than $40,000,000 in private building work in Los Angeles during the rest of the year.

PER-CAPITA CITY COSTS ANNOUNCED

Los Angeles Outlay Less than that of Either Long Beach or Pasadena

The per-capita cost of governing Los Angeles is less than that of Long Beach and Pasadena, but greater than Glendale and Santa Monica. This was revealed by a tabulation made public yesterday by State Controller Riley. Here are the figures, based on the last fiscal year, both as to per-capita cost and total expenditures for the five cities:

Los Angeles, $83,078,372.14, $67.21; Long Beach, $9,937,783.53, $70.15; Pasadena, $7,258,321.57, $95.44; Glendale, $2,951,010.19, $47.06, and Santa Monica, $1,838,744.06, $49.70.

The per capita cost for eight cities in Los Angeles county having less than 35,000 population, but more than 14,000, is:

Alhambra, $27.55; Inglewood, $38.97; Huntington Park, $13.04; Beverly Hills, $93.42; Pomona, $31.04; Burbank, $53.41; South Gate, $43.60 and Whittier, $35.09.

PIPE LINE FRANCHISE SOLD

An oil-pipe line franchise in Forty-third avenue, Venice, was sold to the Ohio Oil Company for $500 yesterday by the City Council.

RAID AFTERMATH FILLS DAY

Police and Jail Custodians Busy Booking 200 Men Seized on Various Charges in Foray on Club

Completion yesterday of the filing of complaints disclosed that the police raid on the Italo-American Club, 1720 South Flower street, Thursday night, was the largest, in point of number of persons taken into custody in Los Angeles history.

Final tally revealed there had been taken into custody six dancing girls accused of vagrancy and lewdness, 191 men charged with gambling, seven men asserted to have been conducting gambling games and two men booked as violators of the Wright Act governing possession of liquor.

It was not until the afternoon session of court yesterday, more than sixteen hours after the raid, that the last complaint was entered in the books. The desk sergeant's office at Central station was crowded until noon with friends of persons taken into custody requesting information concerning charges to be made against the accused.

At a late hour last night 172 of those arrested had pleaded guilty to gambling in Night Court and were given the choice by Municipal Judge Miller of paying $5 fines each or spending one day in jail. Twenty-four pleaded not guilty in night court and were released on $50 bail. They will appear for court or jury trials early next week.

City Prosecutor Nix late yesterday declined to issue complaints against the six dancing girls. He said the young women were arrested in their dressing room, before some of them had removed their street clothing; no offense, therefore, could be charged against them. Three girls accordingly were released but the other three were held for treatment at a city hospital.

The raid was led by Detective Lieutenant Sears, head of the vice squad, and Police Sergeant Rogers of the Central vice division. Prosecutor Nix added he had conferred with Lee Porter, son and secretary of the Mayor, before deciding to issue the gambling complaints. Rumors that the club had been op-

CITY MAY GET TIN PLANTS

Los Angeles Visualized by Bolivia as Greatest of Smelting Centers in United States

Plans are crystallizing for the establishment of extensive tin-smelting plants in the Los Angeles area, according to authoritative information received yesterday. Leading tin-plate interests have been making close inquiry here regarding the availability of power and other conditions pertaining to the industry.

Los Angeles as the country's foremost tin smelting center and one of the leading localities of the kind in the world is asserted to be visualized by Bolivia, accredited as the second largest tin-producing country on the globe, its production ranging from 34 per cent to 40 per cent of the world's supply.

J. L. Tejada, formerly Secretary of Finance in Bolivia, and a member of the Bolivian delegation which will attend the gathering to be held here preliminary to the business sessions of the Pan-American reciprocal trade conference at Sacramento, yesterday expressed the Bolivian belief that Los Angeles is a logical tin smelting center. Lack of home-produced coal prevents smelting in his country, said Mr. Tejada, whose residence in Los Angeles has made him familiar with industrial and other conditions here. The tin mined in Bolivia is concentrated up to 60 per cent and exported to England for refining after which a large part of it is shipped to the United States, he explained.

Since this country uses 74 per cent of the world's tin supply and California uses most of the American purchases of it, or more than 250,000 tons of tin plate annually, it is uneconomic not to have the smelting done here, especially in view of this locality's abundance of fuel oil, power and other resources as well as large shipping facilities, Mr. Tejada declared. He plans to leave for Bolivia soon on important business.

Luis Perou, representing the Chamber of Commerce of La Paz, Bolivia, has arrived as a conference representative. He is a member of a prominent Bolivian family and is planning to enter a California university. Waldon Alborta, Bolivian Consul here, also represents his country as a delegate.

William A. Reid, foreign trade adviser of the Pan-American Union, has arrived here from Washington to attend the conference.

Patent Paving License Pact Given Council

The license agreement covering the use of the asphaltic process furnished by Amiesite of California, Ltd., a patented pavement, was transmitted to the City Council yesterday with the approval of the Board of Public Works. It was referred to the Public Works Committee.

Mayor Porter has had upon his desk for the past month the renewal license agreement for Warrenite, but has not indicated whether he will sign it. Recently a measure adding restrictions on the use of patented pavements was sent to the Council by the Board of Public Works and this was labeled as Mayor Porter's scheme for "passing the buck" to the Council on patented pavements.

If the license agreements are not renewed by the Mayor as they expire it means that one company will have a monopoly until 1934.

Reports False on S.O.S. Call

False reports of distress signals from a ship at sea sent broadcasting stations off the air last night for about half an hour. The same report was picked up by navy vessels in Los Angeles Harbor and their air communications were silenced while all ships awaited the "S.O.S."

Efforts were made to locate the origin of the report, but neither the United States naval station at Point Loma; the Radiomarine Corporation of America station at Wilmington, nor the MacKay Radio and Telegraph Company was able to trace the first warning. None of the official stations received signals from any source lending any substantiation to the alarm.

Stations and ships went back on the air after no official source could verify the reported distress signals.

NEW GREEK STAGE NEAR COMPLETION

Open-Air Theater Built in Vermont Canyon to Seat 5000 Persons

The ancient gods, if they still live, will look down on a rival Olympus, Mt. Hollywood, at a scene that might have been taken from their beloved Greece when, within a few weeks, the open-air theater at Griffith Park is completed.

Situated in Vermont Canyon, 300 yards from the entrance of the park and provided with a scene of exceptional beauty, this noble structure of Doric design promises to be one of the show places of Los Angeles. It will seat 5000 persons.

Col. Griffith J. Griffith left $100,000 for the erection of a Greek theater. Since his death, however, costs have risen so that it was found impossible to erect this structure for that amount. However, $65,000 from the park board funds, the original bequest and $20,000 of accumulated interest solved the problem.

Workmen are now engaged in putting the finishing touches to the grounds and to the structure. A parking place will be arranged that will accommodate 5000 cars. There will be an open-air stage 110x48 feet, also dressing-rooms, scene rooms and all the paraphernalia of a modern theater.

Rites Today for ex-Publisher

Anson J. Schaeffer, retired Iowa publisher, who died at his home here Wednesday, will be laid to rest this morning in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, following funeral services at 10 o'clock in Pierce Brothers' chapel, 720 West Washington street.

Mr. Schaeffer was editor and publisher of the Ida county (Iowa) Pioneer-Record for fifteen years prior to his coming to California in 1919. He was 66 years of age and he resided at 651 Maltman avenue. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Flora L. Schaeffer, and two daughters, Mrs. Marie Wilkerson and Mrs. Helen Eshe, all of Los Angeles.

Another Damage Filed as Sequel to Air Tragedy

Another damage suit was filed yesterday against James Grainger, Inc., owner of the airplanes which collided in the air off Point Vicente January 2, last, by Ruth Eastman, widow of George E. Eastman, cameraman, one of the victims.

Besides Grainger, Inc., Tanner Motor Livery, operator of the planes, and the Fox Film Company, employer of Eastman, are named defendants. Damages of $150,000 are demanded.

Ten persons were killed or drowned as a result of the accident, which occurred during the filming of an air picture.

Heirs of most of them have filed suits for $100,000 and up.

Death Summons Herbert Durant

Herbert Union Durant, 58 years of age, of 1554 South Manhattan Place, for fifteen years superintendent of the Baker Iron Works, died yesterday in California Lutheran Hospital of peritonitis. He had been a resident of Los Angeles nineteen years.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Carol Getts Durant, and three daughters, Eva H., Mary Jane and Roberta U. Durant. E. Clair Overholtzer Company is in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Former residents of Roswell, N. M., and vicinity now living in Los Angeles will meet at Moose Hall, 1024 South Grand avenue, the evening of the 15th inst. The guest of honor will be Marion C. Spicer, president of the New Mexico Society. There will be a diversified program starting at 8 p.m. which will be followed by dancing.

NOISELESS CROSSING RAIL TESTS TODAY

A special train is to leave from Central Station at 12:30. George Elmer Snyder will be in charge of the demonstration.

FIGURES REVEAL FITTS SHOWING

Records of Office Tell Story of Efficient Service

Total of Convictions Mounts Under His Direction

Biennial Report for State's Files Gives Details

Cold figures yesterday told the story of the administration of Dist.-Atty. Fitts since he took office December 9, 1928. And it is a story without precedent in the history of that office in Los Angeles county, according to veteran attaches of his office.

BYRON FITTS

For example, the biennial report, prepared by Daniel Beecher, chief of Fitts's trial department, shows an average of 73.4 per cent convictions under Dist.-Atty. Fitts, as compared with 55.6 per cent during the previous two years, a former administration. The records show an increase of only thirty-seven cases in the present report, as compared with the last biennial report.

The report in question is one which under the law must be submitted every two years by every District Attorney in California. It is a sworn statement which becomes a matter of State record.

GATHERING OF DATA

Since Fitts took office Frank C. Cummings, clerk of the District Attorney's office, has been compiling data on pending cases, as he did for former administrations. These figures, compared with those submitted by the complaint department, have been compiled into the biennial report.

Going into additional detail, the report shows that Dist.-Atty. Fitts has obtained 4775 convictions during the last two years, as compared with 3597 during the previous two years. The same table shows that Dist.-Atty. Fitts has permitted only 515 acquittals during that same period. During the former administration there were 427.

FEWER SETTLEMENTS

But the real story of Mr. Fitts's uncompromising war against crime in Los Angeles county is revealed in the figures showing the number of cases settled "out of court;" that is, dismissed with sanction of the District Attorney for lack of evidence.

The 1928 biennial report shows 2443 such cases dismissed by the District Attorney. The present report by Dist.-Atty. Fitts shows only 1214 dismissed with consent of the District Attorney. These figures also include cases dismissed by Superior Court judges through writs of habeas corpus, etc.

Despite the obvious increase of court trial work amounting to approximately 56 per cent, the District Attorney's office under Mr. Fitts has shown this increase in efficiency with two less men attached to the staff than under the last administration. The table discloses that 149 men were on the pay roll in 1928 and there are but 147 now.

FURTHER ANALYSIS

Further analyzing the report, it can be seen that an increase of 1178 convictions is shown in the latest report despite the fact that the total number of cases handled by the office increased only about half of 1 per cent.

And the number of defendants released by habeas corpus indicates further efficiency. Under the former administration 37.8 per cent of the defendants obtained release by this means. During the last two years but 18.6 per cents of the defendants obtained release in this manner.

The same report discloses the efficiency of the trial department with 494 more convictions by trial during the last two years as compared with the two previous years.

MOTHER SEEKS BOY HERE

His mother, who is near death, asks Elise Factoroff, 17 years of age, to communicate with her. The boy disappeared from his home, 1519 Decatur street, Denver, several months ago, and is thought to be in Los Angeles. The boy's father writes the mother wants to see her son before she dies, and that if the boy will make his whereabouts known transportation home will be provided.

FAIR FLYERS SET FOR RACE

Fourteen Entered in First "Tom Thumb" Air Derby, Scheduled for Tomorrow Morning

With nine lap prizes, a half way mark prize and a grand prize to spur them on, fourteen women flyers—many of them of international fame—will leave the starting line tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. from Long Beach Municipal Airport to compete in Southern California's first "Tom Thumb" Air Derby.

From the time they leave the beach city field until they return about 4:15 p.m. they expect to keep their ship's throttles wide open over the nine short dashes on the 150-mile route. They will land at control points on practically every major airport in the Los Angeles district and complete half the tour at Santa Paula Airport, where they will be luncheon guests and participate in dedication ceremonies at the new port.

RUTH BARRON

The woman making the best time between each airport will receive $25, the one in the lead with the shortest flying time from Long Beach to Santa Paula will collect $80, and the winner over the entire course will be awarded $50.

Seven of those in tomorrow's unique event are entered in the national annual classic for women flyers—the 1930 Women's National Air Derby, scheduled to start from Long Beach Municipal Airport one week from tomorrow and end at the National Air Races in Chicago.

The seven who will practice for the major event as entrants in the miniature derby are Florence Lowe Barnes, holder of the world's air speed record for women; Gladys O'Donnell, winner of second place in last year's national race from Santa Monica to Cleveland; Bobbie Trout, entrant in last year's classic; Ruth Barron, 18-year-old New York

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

WHEN they get me in Santa Barbara they don't need to bother about fiestas; just that Courthouse is enough.

That is the finest work of art in America; and I don't know that it isn't the finest thing in the world.

The assembly room is decorated with murals by our old friend Dan Syre Grosbeck; they are in themselves worth a pilgrimage.

THE COURTROOMS

Even the Superior Court rooms are works of art.

One is decorated with replicas of old maps of the conquistador days, when it was thought that California was an island.

The decorative scheme is so lovely and so finished in artistry that it would be a pleasure to be sentenced for something—just to feel so cultured for a few minutes.

ARCHITECTURAL TRIUMPH

William Mooser, the architect, adopted a very original idea in the building of this edifice. It is, in fact, rural Spanish architecture—the architecture of the wayside inn—of the ranch house—of the old Mexican town house—magnified in proportion. That is the reason those great doorways are so gorgeous. They are magnifications of doorways made to let in the herds and the old creaking carretas in times of Indian dangers.

AS UGLY AS WE COULD

Santa Barbara maketh the heart sick for an Angeleno. It is such a city as Los Angeles should have been.

We had a better chance than Santa Barbara—with our opportunities for broad, shaded alamedas. It could have been a dream city.

But instead we came from the Middle West in the nineties and decided that the Californians didn't know anything about their own country, and we made our city to look as much like Newton Center as possible.

Los Angeles had such gifts from God that we couldn't make it look as ugly as we had hoped to do; but we did the worst we could.

HOW MISSION WAS SAVED

Santa Barbara was saved long years ago by a Spanish grandee.

When the Mexican government seized the missions and sold them off like junk to the highest bidder, to be used for stables or storehouses, there was one mission that was not sold.

Don Jose Antonio Julian de la Guerra y Noriega—of the blue blood of Castile and comandante of the garrison—announced that whoever offered a bid for the Santa Barbara Mission would answer to his sword for the impiety. There were no bidders.

THE LOST RELIC

One thing that fills me with sorrow in Santa Barbara. The old presidio, where the garrisons of Spain and Mexico were under arms; where the Bear flag of the republic and later the Stars and Stripes were raised by Fremont, has been wiped out. Only an adobe house, occupied by an artist, marks the spot.

WILMINGTON SEWER FUNDS ALLOCATED

The City Council yesterday appropriated $149,100 from the 1922 Sewer Bond Fund for the construction of a pumping plant and intercepting sewers in the East Wilmington section. The territory involved is bounded by Anaheim and Grant streets, the Southern Pacific tracks and the east city boundary. The appropriation was made on recommendation of the Health and Sanitation Committee.

BERMAN HEARS NEW SENTENCE

Three to Forty-two Years Meted Julian Man

Strenuous Arguments Fail to Gain Rehearing

McNeil Island Term Must be Served First

Jacob Berman, business associate of S. C. Lewis in the Julian Petroleum Corporation, which crashed with a loss of more than $50,000,000 in 1927, yesteray was sentenced to San Quentin prison for from three to forty-two years by Superior Judge Schauer. The former oil promoter was convicted two weeks ago on three counts of forgery.

Represented in court by Attorney William B. Beirne, the convicted man made a desperate effort to escape sentence by attempting to file a statement charging prejudice against Judge Schauer and then by argument on a motion for a new trial. With all his legal efforts swept aside following arguments, Berman heard his sentence pronounced shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

SEVEN YEARS FIRST

According to Dep. Dist.-Atty. McCartney, who prosecuted Berman, the former oil promoter will not begin his State sentence until he has completed a seven-year mail-fraud sentence now being served by him at McNeil Island, following his conviction in Federal court some time ago. He was returned to this city more than a month ago as a prosecution witness in other cases and for trial in the one which resulted in his conviction.

During his trial on the forgery charges Berman was represented by Deputy Public Defender Hill and was found guilty on three of five counts. His case was heard by Judge Schauer without a jury.

In pronouncing sentence Judge Schauer elected that the one-to-fourteen years imposed on each of the three counts shall run consecutively.

FIGHT AGAINST FATE

The first legal move to prevent the sentencing of Berman began almost with the withdrawal of the Public Defender's office from the case and the announcement that Beirne had been retained by Berman.

A statement of prejudice charging that Judge Schauer had made numerous remarks about Berman which showed him to be prejudiced and therefore disqualified to pass on the motion for a new trial or to sentence the defendant was offered for filing by Beirne.

Lengthy legal argument by Beirne failed to convince Judge Schauer that the statement was proper, however, and it was ordered out of the record and the court clerk instructed not to file it with other court documents.

Next a motion for a new trial made by Beirne and argued for more than an hour was denied by Judge Schauer. The entire matter then continued until the afternoon session.

SENTENCE REACHED

With all of the legal objections out of the way Judge Schauer shortly before 3 o'clock went over the official records of the various cases against Berman and then sentenced him.

During all of Judge Schauer's remarks and several times while the court was sentencing the defendant Beirne broke into the proceedings with objections, stating that the court had no jurisdiction to act in the matter after being charged with prejudice.

Berman is the first person indicted on a charge directly connected with the crash of the Julian Petroleum Corporation ever to have been convicted in a State court.

Parents of Girl Pageant Victim Suing Schools

For the death of Clara Barbarus, 14 years of age, who died following burns suffered when her clothing caught fire during a pageant at Lincoln High School, January 21, last, the girl's parents yesterday sued the City High School District and members of the Board of Education for $50,000.

The girl was carrying "sparklet," a magnesium flare, sparks from which are not usually hot enough to ignite other materials, but a piece of glowing metal, it is asserted, fell on her gauzy costume, setting it ablaze. She died the next day.

Driver Robbed After Beating

The identity of three men who hit William A. Woodman, 1421 West Twenty-second street, on the head with a blackjack, robbed him of $90 and a watch, threw him from his vehicle and then fled in the vehicle, was being sought yesterday by deputy sheriffs.

Woodman, an employee of the Municipal Bond Company, said the attack occurred a short while after 5:30 p.m., but was unable to explain what he did between that time and 12:30 a.m., yesterday when he sought aid at a factory in Belvedere Gardens, the officers reported.

OFFICERS SEEKING KIN OF WOMAN WANDERER

Sheriff's office investigators yesterday were seeking to identify a foreign-born woman, apparently about 70 years of age, who is being held in the County Jail as a lodger.

The woman, according to Deputy Sheriff Wintermute, is believed to be a Syrian and is unable to speak English. She was taken to the Vermont-avenue Sheriff's substation Thursday night by a resident who found her in the vicinity. Failure of several persons who speak foreign languages to converse with her resulted in her being held while officers seek relatives or friends.

NEW YORK'S STAGE GETS TALENT HERE

Helene Carson

The tide of popularity for Southern California dancers will carry three more Hollywood girls to New York productions soon, where they will be featured in specialty dancing numbers.

The first to go will be Helene Carson of 9173-4 North Serrano avenue, who is to appear in the "Little Show," an Erlanger production scheduled to open about the 18th inst.

And then there will be Eleanor Bingham of 1426 Whitley avenue, and Louise Hanson of 622 North Genesee street, to be featured in "Princess Charming." Bobby Connelly's new musical comedy scheduled to go into rehearsal next Friday.

All three dancers were trained in Hollywood by Albertina Rasch.

Disappearance Explained by Body Recovery

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—The sea off Santa Monica today disclosed that when Andrew Yankovsky, 26 years of age, started on a swim with Miss Gratia Blakkan last Saturday, he did not turn back, as she supposed. Instead, as recovery of his body proves, he sank to his death.

Yankovsky, a recent arrival from Russia, had started with Miss Blakkan to swim to the Olson fishing barge, a mile and a half offshore. The two called to each other as they swam, but finally when the girl, who was ahead, addressed a remark over her shoulder to her companion, there was no response. She continued to the barge, thinking Yankovsky had gone back to shore.

Today his body was found seventy-five feet off-shore near Santa Monica Canyon. William Chernie of 2912 1-2 South Brighton avenue, Los Angeles, with whom Yankovsky had lived, made the identification.

Water Board Takes Steps to Sell Bond Issue

Actual launching of Los Angeles' gigantic water program authorized by the voters last May was started yesterday when the Board of Water and Power Commissioners took steps looking to the sale of the $38,000,000 bond issue.

The city purchasing agent was authorized to receive bids for the printing of 38,000 bonds of a denomination of $1000 each. The first proceeds of the bond issue, it was announced, will be used to take up and pay for Owens Valley water lands held on option by the city. A part of the first bond sale also will be used to finance Mono Basin engineering work and the construction of reservoirs. It was stated the bonds will be sold in several lots.

Engineer Post for Quackenbush

A. E. Quackenbush yesterday was elected a member of the Board of Mechanical Engineers by the City Council, and shortly thereafter was sworn into office. This is the only city commission whose members are selected by the Council, all others being appointed by the Mayor subject to confirmation by the Council.

The new appointee succeeds to the vacancy created by the resignation of Alfred E. Miller. Quackenbush has been a property owner and voter in Los Angeles for thirty-five years. He is a mechanical engineer and for twenty-nine years has been engaged in the construction, installation and operation of boilers and engines in this city.

He is married and lives at 1658 East Twenty-third street.

RAILROADS LEND AID TO CURB HIGH WATER

Arrangements with railroads the tracks of which run near the Los Angeles River flood-control levees for the location of flat cars loaded with rock at strategic points for repair work during periods of high water were announced by Flood Control Engineer Eaton yesterday.

The State Railroad Commission has approved connection between the Pacific Electric and Union Pacific tracks and the tracks of the flood-control rails laid along the levees.

He was married eighteen months ago to Miss Gertrude Miller, and was the father of a 6-month-old daughter, Gloria Elma Ralphs.

Mr. Ralphs was a member of the Casa Del Mar Beach Club, Los Angeles and Hollywood Athletic clubs, Pacific Coast, Santa Monica and Surf and Sand Clubs, and Wilshire Country Club.

FORAY ON CLUB BUSIES POLICE

erating as a gambling establishment for the last two months were repudiated by Sears.

"I never had any information to such an effect," Sears said. "Fact is, the tip I got regarding the place was that there were dancers staging a lewd show in the place. Until we broke in I was unaware that any gambling was going on or that liquor was being served."

The report that he had "made a mistake" in not holding certain gambling paraphernalia said to have been found in the clubrooms also was declared false by Sears.

"We collected cards, chips and crap tables as evidence," he said, "and are holding them. There were roulette wheels, but these were scattered and broken up and would have been of no value as evidence. Just as in a liquor raid unless you can get a still with all the operating parts intact you cannot introduce it as evidence in court. That is the reason we did not pick up this paraphernalia."

As the various squads of officers in charge of Sears and Police Sergeant Rogers of the Central vice division rushed in the hall, they said, was crowded with men seated at the tables gambling with cards, shooting craps and listening to girl entertainers on the stage. At one end of the room two men were dispensing wine and spiked beer across a small bar.

So sudden and unexpected was the entrance of the vice crusaders that the 200 and more occupants of the place were thrown into a turmoil. As Sears and Rogers shouted for order detectives rushed to guard windows and rear doorways to prevent the escape of any of the assemblage. The officers stated there were no women among the gamblers or spectators.

All available patrol cars were sent to the scene and shortly after 10:30 p.m. the first car of prisoners was on the way to the City Jail at Central Police Station.

STATION SWAMPED

At exactly 10:50 p.m. Sergt. Gruber and a hurriedly drafted squad of assistant officers began searching the prisoners and booking them. It was not until 2 a.m. that the last name was indited in the police blotter. In the meantime flocks of bail bondsmen and friends of those arrested gathered in a milling crowd in front of the station and in the hallways.

Those held for conducting gambling games were N. Digiovanni, 38 years of age, of 2820 Martin street; W. R. Watterbury, 38, of 2010 Garth street; Fred Casalichio, 36, of 315 South Avenue 21; H. D. Thompson, 31, of Burbank; Harry Bernard, 50, of 850 South Coronado street; William H. Clemenis, 36, of 6620 St. Francis street, and Carl Mancill, 34, of 5718 Franklin avenue.

NAMES OF GIRLS

The girls taken in custody were Miss Gladys Brown, 27, musician, of 1435 Echo Park Boulevard; Mrs. Jada Schwartz, musician, 20, of 1117 South Westlake avenue; Miss Cynthia Hendry, singer, 21, of 1660 South Western avenue; Miss Betty Baker, 21, singer, of 1918 North Whitley avenue; Miss Greta Lang, 25, of 10821 Lawndale avenue, dancer, and Miss Betty Evans, 25, actress, of 1760 Garfield avenue.

The two men held on liquor charges were Tony Fieca, 36, of 145 South Avenue 18, and Joe Nalia, 55, of 135 North Avenue 19.

BARITONE APPEARS AT BOWL TONIGHT

Nathan Stewart

SINGER TO BE FEATURE FOR BOWL

Nathan Stewart Appears on Variegated Program at Ampitheater Tonight

Nathan Stewart, second of the winners in the Hollywood Bowl's annual audition contests, will appear in the amphitheater tonight as featured soloist on the program which marks the end of the fifth week of "Symphonies Under the Stars."

Stewart, a baritone, is to sing the Prologue to Leoncavallo's "I Pagliacci." He formerly sang with the Seattle Civic Opera Company and has done concert work in Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Tonight also marks the end of the third week of Bernardino Molinari's four-week engagement. The Italian conductor has selected a highly contrasted program for this evening. It includes Beethoven's "Fourth Symphony," "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," by Dukas, and "The Thievish Magpie," by Rossini.

Molinari ends his local engagement next week with a program that includes two unusual features. Miss Olga Steeb, pianist, will be soloist Tuesday night, playing Saint-Saens's concerto in G minor, and on Friday the Michio Ito ballet of 125 dancers will make two appearances.

Steckel Asserts Bittinger Seeks No Police Post

Rumors that members of the Police Commission and Mayor Porter have been discussing with Chief of Police Steckel the creation of a special post of reorganizer of the police department for Guy Bittinger, said to be a former member of the Chicago and New York police departments, were described as exaggerations by Chief Steckel yesterday.

It is true, the Chief said, that he had been introduced to Bittinger by two members of the commission and that Bittinger has recently returned from a trip to San Francisco and other northern points and can confirm the report made by Senator Nelson Edwards and Justice Craemer of the Orange News to the effect that Mayor Rolph of San Francisco will carry Northern California, and that the present Governor is making a losing battle for second place with Buron Fitts in that territory.

"Edwards and Craemer made a careful canvass while working in behalf of the candidacy of another candidate, and were astounded at the strength of Fitts in San Francisco, Alameda county, Santa Clara county and other populous northern districts."

"We were told by an astute San Francisco political leader," said Edwards, "that the political campaign at this time has a perfect setting for a Southern California Governor and that there would be no doubt about that result if the voters of this part of the State should awaken to the fact that Rolph already has Young beaten and the only way in which to defeat the San Francisco Mayor is for a united Southern California Republicanism to name the fighting District Attorney of Los Angeles county as their standard bearer at the primary election."

MAYOR REHEARSES SABER CEREMONY

A preview of the saber-presentation party to be given Mayor Porter this morning at Fort MacArthur by the Nine Hundred and Seventy-seventh Coast Artillery Reserve was given yesterday afternoon in the Mayor's suite. The saber, inscribed: "Presented to the City of Los Angeles by the Mayor's Own Regiment, Nine Hundred and Seventy-seventh Coast Artillery, August 9, 1930," was offered to the Mayor by Lieut.-Col. E. A. Evans, while Capts. E. W. Hendrick and Martin Luther Thomas and Lieuts. E. E. Smith, Arthur Westermark, V. T. Wade, F. F. Holmes and Paul F. Van Amburgh stood in the background. The majority of the officers of the regiment are city employees. The regiment is in training at Fort MacArthur. Capt. Thomas, who is chaplain of the regiment, is the chief investigator for the City Prosecutor.

PAVING CONTRACT LET

Their opening number will be "La Burlesque," by Franz Donezetti. Other members will be "Every Little Movement" and a suite by Andre, "Where Nile Waters Flow." Following the Park Board concert there will be a program presented by Harold Roberts and his Golden State Band, and later in the afternoon Ernie Owens and his jazz orchestra will play from the pontoon on the lake.

The Tarzan Civic Improvement League of Reseda will meet tonight with Clyde I. Plummer as the principal speaker. Capt. Plummer has been indorsed for election as Sheriff of Los Angeles county by a large group of women at Reseda. Mrs. Hannah C. Santell, president of the Tarzana Women's Club, is an enthusiastic supporter of Capt. Plummer.

SAN BERNARDINO APPLAUDS FITTS

Record Crowd Turns Out for Campaign Talk

Tax Economy Only Issue of Election, He Asserts

Road and Liquor Promises Declared Futile

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 8. (Exclusive)—Buron Fitts, Republican candidate for Governor, was given a hearty reception here this afternoon when he spoke at Pioneer Park under the auspices of the Fitts-for-Governor Club of this county. The largest crowd that has attended any meeting here this year at which a gubernatorial candidate spoke greeted the Los Angeles District Attorney.

Fitts was guest of honor at the California Hotel following the afternoon address. The banquet was attended by more than 150 prominent citizens of the city and county. Besides Fitts other speakers were Joseph Scott and Mrs. Helen Werner, both of Los Angeles.

Fitts reviewed the history of Southern California in his afternoon talk, pointing out that this section of the State has always suffered because of its lack of representation in State government.

TAX ONLY ISSUE

"There is one outstanding issue in this campaign," he said, "and it affects every one of you. It is taxation, on which the present State administration has blundered, resulting in the most inequitable distribution of the tax burden California has ever known.

"Do not be fooled by false propaganda: The wet-and-dry question. It is not an issue in this campaign. The Governor of California can do nothing to repeal or modify the law. Do not be misled by false propaganda about highways spread by spokesmen for Gov. C. C. Young. The Governor of California does not pay for your highways. You pay for them every time you stop at a gasoline filling station.

"So you are not going to determine on the 26th inst. whether highway construction is to be continued nor will you decide anything about the wet-and-dry question; but you are going to decide whether the orgy of spending at Sacramento is to be stopped. You are going to decide whether or not California is going to stop its dangerous tinkering with our tax laws.

MACHINE POWERFUL

"You should be interested in knowing that the present State administration has expended $138,000,000 more than was spent the preceding four years.

"I do not speak of government costs from a theoretical standpoint. I know what I am talking about because I have been spending money furnished by the taxpayers of Los Angeles county, money to run the largest office of its kind in the world.

"The only way I know of to decrease the cost of government and cut your taxes is for those of us who are spending your money to stop spending it recklessly and in the building of political machines. California today has the most powerful machine this State has ever known, built up through a series of political appointments over four years."

FITTS HAILED AS SOUTHLAND'S CHANCE

Southern California's one hope of defeating Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco in the present gubernatorial campaign lies in the election of Buron Fitts, according to J. R. Gabbert, editor of the Enterprise of Riverside and former Real Estate Commissioner of California.

Gabbert holds that Gov. Young is waging a losing fight against Fitts for second place in the north.

In a signed article Gabbert says: "The writer has recently returned from a trip to San Francisco and other northern points and can confirm the report made by Senator Nelson Edwards and Justice Craemer of the Orange News to the effect that Mayor Rolph of San Francisco will carry Northern California, and that the present Governor is making a losing battle for second place with Buron Fitts in that territory.

"Edwards and Craemer made a careful canvass while working in behalf of the candidacy of another candidate, and were astounded at the strength of Fitts in San Francisco, Alameda county, Santa Clara county and other populous northern districts."

"We were told by an astute San Francisco political leader," said Edwards, "that the political campaign at this time has a perfect setting for a Southern California Governor and that there would be no doubt about that result if the voters of this part of the State should awaken to the fact that Rolph already has Young beaten and the only way in which to defeat the San Francisco Mayor is for a united Southern California Republicanism to name the fighting District Attorney of Los Angeles county as their standard bearer at the primary election."

Actress Vainly Asks Jurors to Clear Suspect

Maureen O'Sullivan

Maureen O'Sullivan, Irish motion-picture actress, yesterday pleaded vainly with a jury in Superior Judge Miller's court to free Harry O. Billhart, charged with stealing her car. The jurors convicted Billhart of driving the car without the owner's permission, and acquitted him on a charge of grand theft.

"Please don't send this boy to prison," pleaded Miss O'Sullivan, after taking the witness stand. Tears glistened in her gray Irish eyes and her voice slipped into musical brogue. "I got my car back within a few hours. It wasn't damaged."

Dramatic as was her appeal, the jurors decided that Billhart was guilty of the lesser charge. He is not eligible to probation because of a prior conviction of grand theft in 1927, when he was sentenced to San Quentin. Judge Miller set Monday for sentence.

Miss O'Sullivan came to Hollywood from Ireland last spring. Her car was taken May 26, last.

Employees Sued for Boss's Fall

The employees of Donna Hoffer, book-keeper and stenographer, installed an electric heater for their comfort during the cold snap last May, and it appeared from Miss Hoffer's damage suit on file yesterday that this will cost them $5550—if the plaintiff wins her suit.

Because, according to the complaint, directed against Carl B. Goetz and Mel E. Rogers, Miss Hoffer stumbled against the heater, and burned her feet and legs so seriously that she was in bed four weeks.

Scream Nets Suspect Trio

A woman's scream yielded the police three bandit suspects yesterday, but no explanation of the scream.

August D. Gorricho, 22 years of age, his brother Joaquin of 2120 Valley street, and Walter J. Horner, 24, of 427 North Alvarado street, are the suspects. The Gorricho brothers, according to Detective Lieutenants Milton, Williams and McCreadie, fit descriptions of two much-wanted men, and their automobiles resemble those figuring in recent crimes. Horner was arrested when found in the company of the Gorrichos.

The scream leading to their arrests roused tenants in the apartment-house at 2120 Valley street last Thursday. Yesterday the three officers investigated. They didn't find the woman or an explanation of the scream, but they did find the three men.

The Schultzes married February 15, 1928, and separated April 10, last. Attorney J. Harper Shoop appeared for the wife.

BOY SLAYER ORDERED TO INSTITUTION

LaVerne McDonald will be Confined in School for Subnormal Children

Considered a victim of "arrested mentality," LaVerne McDonald, 8-year-old Long Beach boy who, a month ago caused the death of Jimmy Ellis, 3, a playmate, by pushing him into the flood-control ditch near Long Beach and holding his beneath the water, yesterday was ordered confined in a school for subnormal children by Superior Judge Blake.

The order specifies that the McDonald boy shall be confined in the Strickland School for Boys, where he shall receive special instruction and discipline.

Ten days ago Judge Blake ordered the child taken from the care of his parents and placed under the care of juvenile officers. This order was based upon findings indicating that the child never had been given proper supervision by his parents.

Original reports of the case show that the Ellis boy was not drowned but died of asphyxiation from a constriction of the throat caused by fright. This unusual condition was made possible, autopsy surgeons explained, because of a growth in the boy's throat which, under stress of fear, became distended.

The McDonald boy had been investigated previously by Long Beach police for asserted acts of cruelty to playmates.

Chiropractors Plan Clinics at Convention

Groundwork for the most extensive clinical work reported yet undertaken in the West by a chiropractic organization was laid yesterday for the National Progressive Chiropractic Association's eighth annual convention.

Fully 500 persons, it was said by the program committee, will be treated for almost every known human ailment. The meeting of 1000 chiropractors is scheduled to open on the 18th inst. in the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic. Many delegates will arrive tomorrow.

Beautification of the back will occupy convention attention on the 21st inst., when a "perfect-back contest" will be held. Two entrants are Miss Patricia Patrick and Miss Kathryn Parker.

Clinics will number more than a score, it was said. They will be directed by Drs. Harold H. U. Cross, W. H. Sauls, Charles H. Ames, J. F. Man, W. L. Lynch, Horace S. Clay, Gustave Haas, Linnie A. Cale, and others to be appointed.

Dance Conclave will be Sought

Accompanied by a representative of the Chamber of Commerce, Ernest E. Ryan, dance instructor, will leave Los Angeles tomorrow to attend the New York convention of Dancing Masters of America, of which association he is first vice-president.

With the backing of numerous civic organizations Ryan will endeavor to obtain the 1931 convention for Los Angeles. Last year the local group failed to achieve this end by a scant three votes but gained the promise of sufficient additional votes to insure success for the coming year.

POPE ONCE OWNED HER BOOK BINDING

Actress Has Antique
June Collyer exhibits rare book binding.

An ancient as well as sacred bookbinding found its way to the library of June Collyer, film player, yesterday.

Originally the possession of Pope Pius VI (1775-1799,) this bookbinding was one of the few objects to leave the Vatican in the history of the domain. This particular binding was taken from the Vatican by Pius VI when he was exiled to Savona by Napoleon I in 1799.

Victor Merlo discovered the rare object in Italy a few years ago and brought it to Los Angeles with his large art and museum collection. Miss Collyer, Paramount player, has an interesting collection of rare volumes.

MYSTERY IN HOTEL FALL OF WOMAN

Victim Hurt Seriously in Plunge Out Window of Hollywood Hostelry

Mystery surrounded the three-story fall from a Hollywood apartment building at 6767 Yucca street, last night, of Mrs. Helen Carter, 26 years of age.

The woman was removed to Hollywood Hospital, where she was reported unconscious at a late hour, suffering from a fractured skull and other serious injuries.

Her husband, Harry Carter, told Detective-Lieutenant Dwight that Mrs. Carter had left him on the first floor where he was conversing with friends, and had gone upstairs. A short time later he heard his wife drop to the pavement.

A low French window was open in the Carters' apartment, police stated.

BUS STOPS BUT CAR BEHIND KEEPS GOING

ONTARIO, Aug. 8.—When Mrs. Helen M. King and her 14-months-old daughter Barbara are able to leave their beds, Mrs. King will probably not drive very close to Motor Transit buses. While riding with her husband, E. S. King of Yucaipa, Mrs. King and daughter were seriously injured by their car plowing into the rear of a heavy bus when it made a quick stop. According to King, he was following a bus driven by S. Davis of Los Angeles. A quick stop was necessary for the bus, and the King car crashed into it. Mrs. King was cut about the head and right leg, and the child was deeply cut about the head. None of the bus passengers received injuries.

COLLAR STYLE TREND DISPLAYED AT STORE

SUCCESS OF MIND CLINIC ANNOUNCED

Volunteer Institution at General Hospital Said to Have Proved Worth

After one year's operation the voluntary mental clinic at the General Hospital, where persons who think they are on the verge of a mental breakdown can be treated, has been officially declared a success by Supervisor Shaw, who inaugurated it.

"More than 1500 persons have attended this clinic," Supervisor Shaw said, "and many of them have been completely cured. Others are remaining at their homes and jobs during treatment, thus sparing the public the expense of their care at asylums."

More than 1,200,000 patients have visited all the clinics since they were opened in 1924. There now are 1000 persons a day receiving benefit of treatment.

'Rich Gem Man' Pose Asserted

"A big diamond millionaire from Los Angeles" was the pose of her husband while enjoying New York night life, Mrs. Esther Levine Fishbein complained yesterday in asking a divorce from Joseph Fishbein. He is a jeweler's employee, the wife asserted, in relating that her husband went to New York for two months last winter, leaving her here.

He returned on the evening after her baby was born, Mrs. Fishbein asserted, and since that time threatened to kill her and the child.

Superior Judge Falk granted the wife a divorce, and custody of the child, Gerald, 4 months of age, and ordered Fishbein to pay $30 a month for the child's support. Attorney B. J. Schelnman represented Mrs. Fishbein.

INSURANCE ADJUSTER ANSWERS HIS WIFE

Nobel Harden, insurance adjuster, replied yesterday to the divorce charges of his wife, Jane Harden, artists' model and film actress, by filing an answer and cross-complaint to her suit, which charged him with threatening to kill her, and threatening the life of their unborn child by treating her roughly. After denying the charges, Harden asserted she embarrassed him by discussing intimate family affairs in the presence of others, abusing him, and drinking liquor at parties. She also falsely accused him, he says.

DEATH OF WOMAN LAID TO DROWNING

Drowning yesterday was ascribed as the cause of death of an elderly woman partly identified as a Mrs. Seeman whose body was found floating in the ocean along the beach at Avalon, Catalina Island, last Wednesday morning. The cause was determined following an autopsy by the Coroner's office. Investigators from the Sheriff's office are seeking relatives of the woman, who is believed to have lived in Los Angeles. No inquest will be conducted, it was stated.

THE BEAST

The man was in the hospital after his first serious attempt to knock a train off the tracks.

"I fear I can be of very little assistance to you," he was comfortably assured by the doctor, "I'm a veterinary surgeon."

"Ah," exclaimed the victim, "you're just the man for my case. I was a jackass for ever attempting to cross the track ahead of that train."—[Santa Fe Magazine.

Bowl Broadcast Feature of Tonight's Presentations

World-wide News at 12:30 p.m. Judge Valentine on "Traffic." Additional news at 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Raymond Harmon, tenor, returns to the Southern California radio audience over KHJ on The Times Forum at 1:30 p.m. today after three years devoted to vocal study in Milan, Italy, and Paris. The Forum considers it an honor to reintroduce this singer, who was so well known locally several years ago. Appearing on the same program will be Celeste Hoeber, lyric soprano, whose voice two weeks ago brought an immediate response from listeners-in. The singers will be accompanied by Mona Content, whose ability as a pianiste has been recognized in radioland for the past six years. She is a member of the KHJ staff and assists in the thirty-two-piece orchestra featured by Raymond Paige daily.

RAYMOND HARMON.

POPULAR MUSIC'S SPREAD

"The sweep of popular music across the seven seas has been a startling development during my absence," said Mr. Harmon yesterday. "However, popular music and jazz, blues singing and crooning, never can supplant the ballads and light and grand opera as typifying the ideal for the singing voice," he added.

Mr. Harmon will present today "Calling Me Home to You," by Dorel; "A Memory," by Rudolph Ganz; "The Dream" from "Manon," by Massenet, and "A Morning Walk," by Jessie Bartlett Frankel. The last composition was dedicated to Mr. Harmon by the composer and the original manuscript sent to him in Paris, where he presented it. It is understood to have been very favorably received.

Miss Hoeber will sing four songs: "Deh vieni, non tardr" by Mozart; Musetta's Waltz Song from Puccini's "La Boheme;" "Shepherd, Thy Demeanor Vary," by Brown, and Becker's "Fruhlingszeit."

A handy fire extinguisher—A siphon of charged water is an excellent fire extinguisher as the siphon can be tilted so that the fluid will reach to a considerable height, such as the top of a blazing curtain, etc.

Glorified apple sauce—Wash and cut up into small pieces, without peeling, enough apples to make four cupfuls. Cook them in two tablespoonfuls of water until soft and tender, adding more water if necessary to prevent burning; when tender rub through a sieve, add one cupful of sugar and beat with an eggbeater until well mixed. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, stir into it one cupful of cake crumbs and cook one minute. Place the sauce in the serving dish, sprinkle with the crumbs and dot with whipped cream.

Nothing is half so annoying as ants in the house! You need have no trouble with them if you will only install the Calpro System around the house. Now for full information about this system you should write or call the Calpro Sales Co., 1329 Santa Monica Blvd., Beverly Hills (OXford 1211,) or 16 E. Canon Perdido, Santa Barbara.

To clean the auto upholstery, use the vacuum cleaner with the suction attachment; it is excellent for getting the dust out of crevices and will clean the seats and upholstery quickly and effectively.

Have you not often thought that you would give a picnic or a beach party much more frequently if it were not such a bother getting up a lunch? Now it is to come to the rescue of people who find this a big difficulty that I urge them to get in touch with the Sur-Val Box Lunch Company, who can solve the above-mentioned problem in the most efficient manner! Their box lunches and sandwiches are the most delicious I have ever tasted. Such care is exercised in choicy absolute cleanliness in the preparation of the lunches and the variety of food given you leaves nothing to be desired. Do get in touch with this splendid concern at once, won't you? Their telephone number is FAber 1176.

There is a swank to shirts made to your husband's individual measurements which he greatly appreciates. Why not have some made for him right away by Arthur M. Werner—the custom shirt maker of 111 S. Spring, who also does altering and repairing of all kinds. Phone MUtual 1589.

Baked pears with cocoanut—Dip halves of canned pears in fine buttered crumbs; bake in oven (350 deg.) until delicately browned. Chill thoroughly and serve with whipped cream and sprinkle with toasted cocoanut.

For gathering up papers from the lawn a stick with a spike in the end is excellent, such as the street cleaner uses. Make one from an old broomstick with a large nail hammered in one end; after driving in the nail part way, flatten the head and a few hard blows with the hammer on a hard surface will bring it to a good point.

Ask the children what kind of potato chips they want and see if they do not ask for the package with the ship on it—meaning the Mayflower brand—because children know good things when they taste them, you know that, and they, like yourself, are quick to notice the continual freshness and crispness of the Mayflower brand.

Soap bubble mixture—Into a pint bottle shave about two ounces of best castile soap; then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled and allowed to cool; shake thoroughly and let it stand until the upper part of the solution is clear; then pour off this upper part and add one-half as much glycerine as you have of the soap solution. Add a little vegetable coloring to the soap solution and children will be delighted with the colored bubbles.

Silver of any kind is replated and repaired so well by the Peerless Platers, 239½ S. Spring (upstairs,) that you really and truly can't tell it from new. If you have tablespoons, knives and forks which are badly worn, they will cost you but $3.50 a dozen to replate. Teaspoons are done for $2.50.

To test the poles of a battery—If unable to tell which of the wires leading from the dry battery of the radio, etc., are negative and positive, put a little table salt in a glass of water and place the ends of the wires in the solution. There will always be a bubbling around the negative wire while the positive wire will cause no disturbance. A used-up dry cell may be renewed for a time by punching holes in the zinc casing and placing the cell in a glass jar full of vinegar.

Let's take advantage of the beautiful weather we are having and give picnics galore! Now a picnic to be complete must have, numbered among the good things to eat, potato salad. Today I am going to give you a recipe for this samb salad which is a wonder—so remarkably delicious is it. It calls for Guasti Mint Wine Jelly, and I am sure you have never tasted a salad anything like it. Copy this recipe carefully and if you can't wait until you have a picnic to serve it, prepare it for Sunday night supper.

Potato Salad
2 cups cold boiled potatoes, diced.
1 cup chopped celery.
1 onion chopped very fine.
2 hard-boiled eggs.
½ glass Guasti Mint Wine Jelly.
3 tablespoons chopped sweet pickle.
2 tablespoons chopped parsley.
Mayonnaise.

Combine and serve with crushed ice in tall glasses, or place in thermos bottle for picnic.

Another sale of scissors at Stein-en's Cutlery Shop, 210 W. Third street! Scissors regularly priced from $1 to $1.25 now are 85 cents a pair. Then those for home dressmaking ordinarily selling for $2 are now $1.65 a pair, the all-steel kind for children are 50 cents. Now don't let this sale go by, will you.

A more elaborate swing for the older children may be made by arranging two auto tires about three feet apart; a smooth board is then laid between them on the bottom rim for a seat; the board should extend through the tires far enough to avoid any possibility of its slipping out.

Make your summer home look its best by having attractive floor coverings. To achieve a charming atmosphere have Fluff rugs made out of your old carpets by the Hoffman Rug Works, 2914 W. Jefferson. (EMoire 2048.) Their prices are very small; the workmanship being excellent.

Noninjurious paste for children's use—Mix with one cupful of boiling water three level tablespoonfuls of sugar, two level tablespoonfuls of tapioca and one teaspoonful of lemon juice; add a pinch of salt and enough cinnamon to give it a pleasant odor. Cook in a double boiler until it is very thick; when it cools it is ready for use.

Bettina used to be annoyed half to death with the job of diverting the dry cleaning from the regular washing, and phoning two different concerns to get the clothes—well, now that problem exists no longer, for she makes just one call to the Crown Laundry and Cleaning Co. and they get both kinds of work at the same time. Wouldn't you as well follow the example of this little friend of mine? The number to call is WEstmore 6351.

In case of fire a wet silk handkerchief tied over the nose and mouth prevents suffocation from smoke.

Perhaps you have innumerable discarded articles you have been wondering how to dispose of. Here then is just the news you want! Send everything you don't need to the Children's Hospital Salvage Department, 712 Maple avenue (TUcker 1262.) They will do some little boy or girl a world of good, remember. Yes, they can call for the things if you cannot send them in.

Today's Bible Text

Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight; but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.—Heb. iv:13.

COAL
A chemist says that eighty-seven different things are made from coal—money and eighty-six others.

GOOD INDIAN
The New World is shaping the sort of people who were native here before Europe arrived on the scene, says James Oppenheim. That is all right with us as long as they turn out as big-hearted and brilliant as Will Rogers.

ROAD TO ALASKA
President Hoover has named a commission of three—including one Californian—to make a survey of a possible road from Alaska to Seattle. The road will materialize some day and will be a fine thing. Also by this time it is quite important.

LADY LEGISLATOR
Agnes McPhail, a candidate on the farmers' ticket, was re-elected to the Canadian House of Commons. She is the only woman thus far elected to that body and she seems to have made good. Perhaps others will seek to follow in her footsteps.

PEANUTS
Two New Jersey policemen have been made beneficiaries to the extent of $18,000 in the will of an old peanut vender. Likely he felt they had gotten most of his store in life and they might as well have the remainder of it in death.

THE DAVIS CUP
The Davis Cup for supremacy in tennis goes to France for the third consecutive year. Bill Tilden got into the game all right, but couldn't pull the jewelry. It looks as if Uncle Sam would have to put faith in the rising generation in order to cope with the French musketeers.

MANY NAMES
There are almost as many different names for miniature golf as there are players. In some sections it is called pony or peewee golf. It also goes by the name of midget, junior, Tom Thumb, lilliputian, toy, baby, dwarf, peanut, half pint, wiener, dollie, minute and kindergarten golf. But they can take your money whatever they call it.

RADIO REACH
Germany has more radio receiving-sets than any other country in Europe, or 2,926,623. Great Britain follows with 2,776,756. Then come France with 1,190,000; Spain, 500,000; Austria, 356,000; Russia, 320,000; Denmark, 265,000. However, little Denmark leads with the largest percentage of sets per capita, or 7.7. Great Britain comes next with 6.2 per cent; Austria, 5.4; Germany, 4.5; Rumania, .08. It will not be many years until the whole world will be able to hear the same speech or program simultaneously. Radio, more than premiers or parliaments, is helping to federate the world.

JAMES D. PHELAN
Both in public and in private life James D. Phelan did much to advance the interests of his native State and city. He will be remembered as much for his efforts to advance artistic and cultural causes as for his career in public office; and in his chairmanship of the relief work after the San Francisco disaster of 1906 he displayed abilities of high order. To him also the State owes the early adoption of the Australian ballot. He served three terms as Mayor of San Francisco, one term as United States Senator, was vice-president of the California Commission to the Chicago world's fair of 1893, was European commissioner for the Panama-Pacific Exposition and was selected by President Wilson to investigate the American Minister to Santo Domingo in 1914. He served a term also as regent of the University of California.

Mr. Phelan's financial independence left him free to choose his way of life and he chose an unselfish career, in which he won the admiration and respect of all California. His death at the age of 69 years rounds out a life of great usefulness and he will be mourned with sincerity.

THE DROUGHT CRISIS
Unexampled heat and lack of rain have produced in the country east of the Rocky Mountains one of the most serious situations in the history of the nation. Losses to crops likely to cripple temporarily whole areas can hardly be avoided, it is feared, even if the long-hoped-for rainfall should come soon. In such a situation, relief measures can only be palliative, but President Hoover's prompt action in marshaling the national resources and in obtaining the help of the railroads means that everything possible to be accomplished will be done.

The railroads have agreed to do anything, virtually, that the President asks. They will reduce rates, reorganize train service and provide special facilities in shipping feed and cattle, without any consideration of immediate profit. Such co-operation on the part of the carriers deserves high praise, though, of course, they have every motive for seeing to it that millions of their customers do not suffer unnecessarily. Ruin of a large farm population would mean ruin for the carriers also. They are in the position of men caught in a common calamity and must co-operate or perish.

Though changes in the railroad rate structure customarily take a long time and involve hearings and careful study, the Interstate Commerce Commission, in the case of emergency, has power to approve reduced rates on one day's notice. The law specifically authorizes the granting of low rates to give relief in case of "earthquakes, flood, fire, famine, drought" or other calamitous visitation, even when a small area only is affected. There is even more reason for the prompt application of the principle in the present case, with virtually the whole areas of the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac valleys affected and lesser but still serious conditions existing in New England and in Texas.

Domestic water supplies of many cities in the drought region are seriously impaired, adding to the seriousness of the situation and increasing the probability of epidemic disease unless extraordinary precautions are taken.

Just as the high temperatures have set new records for a majority of the communities east of the Rockies, so the rain shortage has been the most severe and over a larger area in recorded history. Weather experts at Washington see little prospect of heavy rains for the remainder of the month in any of the drought sections and while such long-distance predictions are not dependable it is hope rather than expectation that looks for early relief. Crops in many States may still be saved in part by rain, it is declared.

Though the Federal Farm Board was created to solve a different problem, it is finding it possible through its grain co-operatives to extend financial aid, apparently without stretching the law. Doubtless any technical illegalities would be forgiven by Congress, in view of the situation, but this seems not to be necessary. The Treasury Department, through the Federal Farm Loan Board, also is taking steps to give what aid it may extend. The Department of Agriculture, the War Department and the Red Cross will do their utmost in their respective fields.

President Hoover's varied and extensive experience in organizing relief work means that the situation will be handled in his customary expert manner. The first big relief job he undertook, the Mississippi flood, was of an opposite nature; but it is essentially an engineering problem, also, that faces him now, and as such right in his line. What can be done will be done and promptly.

SANTA BARBARA'S FIESTA
Santa Barbara's fiestas are always among the most colorful of California affairs and this year its re-creation of the early days of California surpasses all previous efforts. It is, in fact, rather more than a re-creation; it is an elaboration and intensification. Here early California is not merely repeated, it is glorified. Such gorgeous spectacles would not have been possible in the simple communities of our early days.

No expense has been spared and the result is one of the most skillful efforts at decoration possible to imagine. Santa Barbara, a model city of almost wholly Spanish architecture, forms a superb setting for the spectacle and the harmony of the surroundings gives a realism to the picture which could not otherwise be obtained.

The fiesta is a community effort upon which Santa Barbara cannot be too highly complimented. The city, beautiful as it is normally, has beautified itself beyond comparison for this occasion and has assembled a wealth of costume and scenic effects which could hardly be duplicated in any other place.

The fiesta is as characteristic of Santa Barbara as the Tournament of Roses is of Pasadena, and as well worth seeing. It may seem that superlatives have been overdrawn upon in its description, but those who see Santa Barbara this week will not agree.

LOS ANGELES LANGUAGE
A recent dispatch says that the inhabitants of the republic of Panama are being rapidly Americanized. The Yankee institutions which are eating holes in the Panama hat are American chewing gum, American automobiles, American sodas, American clothes and the awful Los Angeles language.

Even Europe is menaced by these offerings. Complaint comes frequently out of England at the number of her own jaws working over American chewing gum. New models of American cars are beginning to make traffic jams. And to take care of this the American system of "Go" and "Stop" signals were recently installed in London to the consternation of the Britisher. He seemed to have difficulty figuring out what it is all about. When he should have stopped, he started; and when he should have started, he stopped. He was fascinated by the wigwags and lights that these little traffic unravelers doubly confounded confusion. American sodas are also beginning to invade continental countries. Even American skirts are beginning to trip the high heels of Paris.

But our worst crime appears to be our English. And the horror of it is, it is spreading. Hollywood is grinding it out for the world at the rate of miles and miles and miles of it every day—and night. Naturally England regards the Los Angeles language as murder in the first degree.

Then our jazz! While we shrink from it ourselves, the youngsters of London and Berlin are beginning to wiggle to it. The oldsters writhe and squirm under its distresses; but it is sweeping the continent. And our blues are curdling the classics of European capitals.

Los Angeles is blamed for contributing most largely to this delinquency. She is accused of spreading noisy clothes among the nations. While New York seeks night-club cooktails and Paris turns to absinthe, Los Angeles is introducing sodas. Her climate makes them popular at home and her movies propagate them abroad. Indeed, the films spread all these contagions. The talkies are the nefarious scamps that perpetrate the Los Angeles language upon the world.

The worst of it from the foreign viewpoint is that we do not seem to be sorry for our sins; but take pride in them and make no confession to a scandalized mankind.

BAD PRISON DISCIPLINE
On a July day a little more than a year ago 1700 convicts in Auburn Prison, New York, battled for five hours, using rifles, pistols and fire in an attempt to gain freedom. Two convicts were slain and four guards were wounded. Now comes the rather belated grand jury report on the causes of the riot, charging that there was an utter breakdown of official discipline.

Apparently the real power in control of the prison was the prisoners' "Mutual Welfare League," chiefly composed of the worst elements in the big jail. The grand jury found that liquor was freely made in the prison and served at meetings of the league. At times many members had to be carried to their cells. Other causes of the riot were bad food, overcrowding and the ease with which the inmates were able to procure or make weapons.

Recommendations which should do away with most of these evils are made in the report. It will be well if the penologists of New York as well as of other States study the findings of these investigators quite closely.

CRUISERS FOR SALE
Denmark wishes to sell its two cruisers. It doesn't care particularly about scrapping them. The Danes are thrifty and are willing to sell off their war establishment. That will take a chance on its being used against them. Anybody wishing to buy a couple of slightly used cruisers will do well to write to Copenhagen.

NIGHT CLUBS
With night golf and night baseball, there are night clubs that will suffer. And the most explosive refreshments are chewing gum and hot dogs. One of these new night clubs will have the distinct advantage of having frequent home runs. This was a rarity in the old-time institution. The only dances will be those executed around the umpire after a close decision. And the player who is put out will get three strikes instead of but one by the bouncer. Our best citizens will indulge and after the ball will not be a song in the gray morning, but a fielder chasing a liner down toward the bleachers. The girls will not wear just fans, as they do on the stage in little old New Yawk, but will be accompanied by them in great coats. There will be plenty of bases; but they will not be as low down as some things otherwheres. Here fouls will not be below the belt, and if caught, they will always be put out.

POOR INDIAN
And now it is said that the Indian on the nickel was posed by a white man, and not by an aborigine. If this debunking continues, we will not only have our history, but also our finance down on a solid basis.

THE ELEMENT OF TIME
By James J. Montague

If I were Zara Agha
Who scorns Time's hurrying flight,
I'm sure my golfing saga
Would be worth while to write.
No more the course I'd cumber,
I'd deftly ply the sticks,
If but my years could number
A full one fifty-six.

For twenty years I've puttered
On fairway, trap and green,
The grass with clods I've cluttered
And dredged the brooks between,
But when with fresh disaster
My weary soul was sore
I've said, "This game I'll master
In two or three years more."

And though still vainly groping
For the elusive ball,
I still am fondly hoping
To triumph after all.
And while I dub and blunder
And flounder in the rough,
I still might prove a wonder
If I had time enough.

Were I as old as Agha,
And played the game that long,
I know I'd not go ga-ga
When drives and putts go wrong.
I should not play in sorrow,
Emitting sighs and moans,
But write a note tomorrow
To challenge Bobby Jones.

PARIS has symphony under the chestnut trees of the Tuileries and Berlin may have symphony under the lindens. But only Los Angeles can have symphony under the stars as we have it at Hollywood Bowl. Nowhere else is there such a combination of climatic conditions, seating capacity and acoustics which make a concert enjoyable and every move of the leader and the orchestra visible to 20,000 people at once—people sitting at ease, smoking if they like, with the fresh air of all outdoors to draw on. The broad shoulders of commanding hills shut out the rest of the world, the glare, the blare, the rush and fretting, and in the Bowl you can be alone with your music-makers.

We used to think the concerts in Tuileries the loveliest popular concerts imaginable. There were forty-odd musicians then, led by the orchestra leader of the National Opera. About 3000 people could hear the concerts and if one got a seat well away from the edges there were very few distracting sounds. Of course, one nearly always could hear a little of the traffic on the Rue de Rivoli and sometimes a siren struck a discord in a harmony. But it seemed to us, then, about as near perfection as one could expect in this imperfect world.

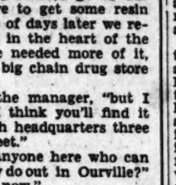
The other night, sitting so high above the shell of the Hollywood Bowl that we felt almost like an astral being looking down on another world, from which came wonderful music, every note distinct, yet sweetened as only distance can sweeten music—or distance and clear night air—we couldn't help exclaiming:

"How the people of Paris or Berlin or Vienna or Rome would rave over this wonderful place, if they could only visit it! How they would throng and overflow it if they only had the chance! Here we have something which all the cultivated people of the world must envy us, and sometimes must sigh for—and a lot of us aren't appreciating it at all!"

Confessions of a Sinner

We have to confess that we are one who hasn't been going much to the Bowl. We like Carl Haverlin's announcing. We don't know what genius writes the stuff he reads, describing and explaining each number, but he reads it in a way which is most enlightening and convincing. We like to listen to Carl while we spread out in an easy chair that's only six jumps from the dear old bed when the concert's over. But we want to say here and now that a Bowl concert by radio can't hold a candle—or a star-ray—to a concert in the Bowl. For one thing, there is the spirit which comes from the enthusiasm of thousands. There is the personality of the director rather than the personality of the radio announcer. There is the star-spangled curtain of night to shut out the world of everyday and the majestic back drop of hills which loom up as big and black and imminent as your remaining ear installments. There isn't a sound of advertising and no sign of it except the distant intermittent flashes of the great electric sign on Hollywoodland.

Blue and doldrums are things to enjoy alone, for those who really enjoy them. Happiness and enthusiasm are things to share, things which inspire each other. Sitting alone, you may hear something over the radio which is really funny, but you don't think of laughter. If the same thing were said in a crowded theater you would rock in your seat. The infection of other people's appreciation would double your own. It's the same with symphony from the Bowl. If you can't go to the Bowl, the next best thing is to take your symphony straight from the mike, with a good, stiff swig of gasoline or oil for a chaser. The company which puts that music in reach of hundreds of thousands who cannot get to the Bowl is doing a fine thing for music lovers and for Los Angeles. But unless you go to the Bowl yourself every now and then you can't appreciate what Bowl music is. Enjoyed as it should be enjoyed, it is something you will look back on in your old age, something which puts you in tune with the infinite, with starlight and mountains and the sensitive souls of the world's great masters of music.



Joshua Little Says:

Apologetic people make the most trouble.

I see that a couple wearing bathing suits were married, with their feet in water, but their rest in full view of the camera. I suppose the minister said: "Whom a love of publicity hath joined together, let no man put asunder."

Seems to me the public deserves all the honors and rewards in these airplane endurance tests. As soon as we get through reading of one three more are clamoring for our jaded attention.

One of the men charged with being a Communist leader in Los Angeles is named Frank Spector. Well, anyway, there's that much evidence that the Spector of Communism really exists here.

Just a Drug Store, Not a Pharmacy

This being stubbed-toe and stone-bruise season, we had to go to our village drug store to get some resin cerate. A couple of days later we remembered, while in the heart of the big city, that we needed more of it, and went into a big chain drug store to get it.

"Sorry," said the manager, "but I don't keep it. I think you'll find it at our big branch headquarters three blocks down street."

"Haven't you anyone here who can mix it up—as they do out in Ourville?"

"Well, no, not now."

THE GIRLS PLAY POLITICS

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Of course, you understand that all's fair in love and politics, but . . . oh, dear, weren't politics going to be purified when the women got the vote?

And, of course, purity really is the issue . . . as anyone who listened in on the district federation board meeting last week must have realized.

The pot boiled over when Kathleen Michael accepted the leadership of the women's division of the Rolph-for-Governor campaign . . . a not unlucrative undertaking. But she happens also to be the secretary of the district federation board, appointed by Mrs. H. H. Sherwood, the president. So when Mrs. Charles McKelvey felt that Kathleen should resign the district federation job, ere allying herself with the Rolph campaign, and not drag the district into politics, Mrs. Michael quite naturally responded, "How about your activities in the Porter campaign?"

Whereupon Mrs. McKelvey remarked that her activities in the mayoralty election were purely that of a private citizen and that she had received no pay.

Now Mrs. Sherwood's own election to the district presidency was largely through the support of a newspaper woman on an afternoon paper, who, through Mrs. Michael and the newspaper columns, can boast a triumph. Hence when Mrs. Sherwood was asked to invite Mrs. Michael to resign, she announced that if she did, she, the president, would resign also. No one wanted the district president to resign just now for numerous good federation reasons, so that it remains the secretary of the district federation who is running the women's division of Rolph's campaign in Los Angeles.

And, as the federation is bone dry and Rolph is regarded as extremely damp, this is proving most embarrassing. Of course, the district board passed a resolution on the subject, by which anyone wishing to take part in a political campaign in future should never, never trade on her association with the organization. But that matter cannot come up for discussion until the next convention, when the elections will be safely over.

However, early in the elections, we had all observed that Kathleen Michael was managing Oda Faulconer's campaign for Superior Court judge. We understood that Oda had paid well for her services. It seems that no one was as surprised or embarrassed as Mrs. Faulconer, when Mrs. Michael walked out on her in favor of Rolph . . . with nary a word of warning. Now Mrs. Michael's name appears on all Oda's literature, as it now does on Rolph's . . . thus linking Oda with Rolph in the campaign, a situation Oda ardently repudiates. She had no idea her money was purchasing her anything like that!

Oda's campaign was really started when she offered that music scholarship at the district convention last fall . . . aided and abetted by the aforementioned newspaper woman and Mrs. Michael.

In the meantime, of course, the district federation board, as a whole, wishes to repudiate Kathleen and Rolph and all their works and yet are equally anxious to avoid a public scandal . . . especially since it would involve the president indirectly, since she will only fire Mrs. Michael coincident with resigning herself. They can only hope Mrs. Sherwood is not a Rolph approver, but, anyway, she is an ardent Michael approver. The district federation shudders to see itself thus seemingly in the Rolph field . . . and doesn't quite know how to repudiate Rolph without involving its president.

So one way and another things are pretty exciting. At every political meeting all women attending are introduced as representing any important organization they happen to belong to, when, of course, they are there strictly as private individuals. The Ebell and Friday Morning clubs have distinct understandings that none of their officers or members shall use the organization in any way politically, but other clubs have not taken these precautions . . . and the district federation was particularly remiss in this respect.

Any number of club officers are taking paid work with the election campaigners just now . . . in fact, the candidates show a marked partiality for any woman holding an important office in women's club realms. The clubs themselves are very worried about it and seeing themselves mere stepping stones for lucrative political jobs. They don't like it . . . and wherever two or three club women are gathered together these days, they are saying some pretty piquant things about "political exploiters of club offices" . . . especially, oh, especially, when the exploitation is in favor of a "wet" candidate.

Still, you can see, if a candidate for judge pays well, a candidate for Governor should pay immeasurably better.

CLOUD AND FOG

When water vapor is condensed by chilling and made visible near the earth it is called a fog. When the operation is carried on overhead it is called a cloud. Clouds and fogs both consist of tiny drops of water condensed around some sort of nuclei, usually dust particles. These are so small that they cannot fall against the friction of the air, or, if they do fall, they descend very slowly.

Often these water particles are only one twenty-five thousandth of an inch in diameter. In a dense sea fog there may be more than 10,000 of the pin-point droplets in one cubic inch. The density of the fog depends upon the number and size of the water particles.

KEY'S BIRTHDAY

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

One hundred and fifty years ago today was born in Frederick county, Maryland, the man who gave these United States its national anthem—Francis Scott Key.

Creditable as was his career as a lawyer and public official, still in history he will ever be known for just one thing—the writing of "The Star Spangled Banner." And yet its creation occupied but a few hours.

For that immortal hymn was born full grown and complete; it knew no lengthy genesis and no midnight oil; no tortures of soul correlated its gestation and no agony of body marked its deliverance. If ever an inspiration crystallized into actuality at a magic touch in what might be called "a moment of time," this anthem of America did. It was accouched amid the travail of battle, and came forth in a symphony of shot and shell, but it saw the first light a perfect whole—one and indivisible, like the land whose lyric it has become.

At the time when "The Star Spangled Banner" was penned Key was 34 years of age; he was born the year that the British captured Charleston, S. C., in the Revolution—almost, one might say, within sight and sound of the scene of his epic's enunciation. He is reputed to have been an excellent lawyer, though given much to the writing of verse and that fondness for fine literature hampered somewhat his legal career. Yet in later years he served as United States District Attorney in Washington under two presidents for three terms and tried there many notable cases. He was also prominent in church affairs, and even at one period considered a ministerial career, as his letters to John Randolph disclose. He was the government agent in Alabama in settling the Creek Indian controversy successfully and seems to have been a man of fine parts and high ideals, capable of participating creditably in large affairs, which he often did. Though his tendencies toward poetic and imaginative writing may have limited his value in some respects, he had a long, useful and honorable public life.

The writing by Key of what is now our national anthem took place in September, 1814, on a British ship off Fort McHenry, as plans were put in effect for the capture of Baltimore. Key, a volunteer from Georgetown, Va., in Peter's Light Artillery, had gone aboard the enemy's vessel under a flag of truce to secure the release of a captured friend, with President Madison's approval. The request was refused lest plans for the proposed sortie become known, and Key was held aboard also. For several days preparations went on; then the night assault on Fort McHenry, key to the defense of Baltimore, began. And it was "through the perilous fight" of that attack that Francis Scott Key paced the deck of the tender on which he was held, and waited to know if "our flag was still there." With the coming of dawn he could dimly see the riddled Stars and Stripes, "so gallantly streaming."

And then and there, in his metrically molded mind, his anthem took form. He began to write down his lyric lines on the back of a letter he found in his pocket. Not all of them—the page would not hold them—but his memory did. And in the midst of his creative ardor came the British retreat and the order for his release. But his soul was aflame with fervor, and his words would not be stayed; even in the small boat that transshipped him to shore he made furtive notes; when he reached Baltimore his first act was to shut himself up in a hotel room and round into perfection the stanzas that had seen their birth during the recent carnage—that hymn of exaltation born amid the fluctuating uncertainties of battle and carried to a ringing conclusion as a triumphant dawnbreak revealed in all its splendor that "our flag was still there!"

Set to an old air, the song became popular at once. Handbills were struck off in a Baltimore print shop and the entire populace took it up in a delirium of delighted deliverance. It spread throughout the nation, and the nation made it its own. Francis Scott Key was immortalized by that one act; his elegant literary dilettantism brought him a fame that all his legal and civic abilities never approached.

Yes, it's our national anthem. We don't know its words, many of us, and even fewer of us can sing it—which is all characteristically American, if you please. But our bands play it and our Army and Navy revere it; it hails our flag as we raise it at sunrise and bids it farewell as we lower it at eve. It has been called anachronistic in phrase and irritable in sentiment to our friends (now) across the seas. Reds sneer at it; Communists parody it, pink parlor Socialists politely pity it—but real, red-blooded Americans stand up for it and love it. More than a century has passed since it was penned, in an hour of tremendous emotional exaltation, by a man to whom its presence meant liberty if not life. And who, in all these years, has given us a better anthem, or one more expressive, in the last analysis, of America's highest standards, hopes and aspirations?

The old-time girl who was usually pensive now has a daughter who is usually expensive.

KNIGHTS GIRD FOR FIGHT

United Effort to Combat Bolshevism Urged by State Leader of Catholic Order

Urging united effort to combat Bolshevism, which he declared is menacing this country, Harry W. McGowan of Willows, State Deputy of the Knights of Columbus, arrived here yesterday to attend a banquet at the Breakfast Club tonight at which the order's citizenship program will be described.

"The Knights of Columbus stand ready to co-operate with the American Legion and other serious groups in an attack against Communism," said McGowan at the Biltmore.

At tonight's banquet, McGowan continued, promotion of better understanding between the people of the country, removal of prejudice between Catholics and non-Catholics and the fostering of a nonsectarian citizenship program will be placed before the several hundred persons expected to attend.

McGowan said that the redistricting of the Knights of Columbus councils in Southern California has been completed. One new district has been created and the councils in the other districts rearranged. The districts as they are now comprised and the newly named district deputies are as follows:

The newly created district is No. 19, made up of the Pasadena, Glendale, Hollywood and Junipero Serra councils.

McGowan will leave Sunday for Boston to attend the supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus from the 11th to the 21st inst.

she had a lover who she was afraid might shoot her husband.

Klumb's testimony was subject to bitter cross-examination by Defense Attorneys Giesler, Davis and Willner. Klumb was forced to admit that he had not told anyone about Mrs. Oesterreich's purported statement about her lover until about the time he testified at the Sanhuber trial, approximately eight years after the murder.

WARRANT FOR SHAPIRO

"Isn't it true that you gave this testimony when you knew that you were about to be accused of the murder yourself?" demanded Giesler.

Klumb denied he was motivated by this knowledge.

At the request of the prosecution, Judge Hardy yesterday ordered a bench warrant issued for Attorney Herman S. Shapiro, who once testified that he discovered Sanhuber in the Oesterreich garret and that the attic man told him that he (Sanhuber) had lived in various garrets for ten years to be near Mrs. Oesterreich. Since Sanhuber's trial, in which the garret ghost charged Shapiro had influenced him to take the blame for the murder, Shapiro went to St. Louis and has refused to return unless the State pays his expenses via airplane.

Nickel-Making Charges Filed Against Pair

Numerous counterfeit nickels found in slot machines and telephone coin boxes have recently mystified local police. Why, they asked, should anyone manufacture nickels these days, taking into consideration the possible penalty?

Yesterday Detective Lieutenant Lloyd arrested two men on suspicion of being the nickel-makers. They described themselves as Curtis Boyle, 30 years of age, of 683 South Catalina street, and Robert E. Kline, 26, of 6322 Selma avenue. They were locked up in City Jail.

In addition to nickels they are accused of manufacturing half-dollars.

SPOUSE OF "GENIUS" PLEADS FOR DIVORCE

B. Harrison Orkow, writer for the films, was so occupied with the task of being a "genius" that he made life miserable for his wife, Mrs. Evelyne A. Orkow, she asserts in her divorce complaint, on file yesterday. Orkow not only referred to himself as a "genius," but "went around patting himself on the chest" and informed his wife that it was her duty to the arts to support him as such, she says. He also remarked that many women were in love with him, and told his wife he could marry anyone he wanted to, she asserts. She left him May 29, last, after being married one month.

Ford to Reopen Plant at Beach

After a lay-off of two weeks, the Ford Motor Company's assembly plant at Long Beach will resume operation Monday morning. During the vacation period inventory of stocks was taken and preparations made for resuming full production.

Several thousand employees have been summoned to return to work. The factory, it is stated, has orders ahead that will demand full production for some time owing to the depletion of dealers' stocks during the shutdown period. Every department of the large plant will resume work at full speed.

CHAMBER OPPOSES TIDELANDS DRILLING

The Western Avenue Chamber of Commerce yesterday made public a resolution it adopted the 4th inst., opposing the leasing of tidelands in the Santa Monica Bay district for oil development. Copies of the resolution were ordered sent to the Playground Commission, City Council and Mayor.

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfitt for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

DOES DISCIPLINE MEAN PUNISHMENT OR TRAINING?

Discipline has two legitimate meanings. To some it means chastisement for disobedience. To others it means training for obedience. If two parallel lines can never meet, neither can the ideas of two parents, one of whom holds the idea that discipline means punishment and the other that discipline means training.

Looking upon discipline as training, one realizes that while the child undoubtedly needs discipline to learn obedience, hands, rods or hair brushes have nothing to do with it. One doesn't take a hair brush to a young struggler trying to learn that two and two are four. Sticking to the problem until he admits the reality and rightness of the answer is far more educational than for the teacher to whack the child over the head with a ruler in the hopes that the answer will miraculously fly into it.

WHY WE HAVE UNRULY CHILDREN

The mischief and disobedience of children are really mistakes in problems of conduct, for which the parent has the right answer and the child has to learn what it is. Much of the conflict which arises between parents and children is that the child can't seem to learn the answers quickly enough to suit an impatient parent. The reason for this may be that the child is so confused by constant punishment that he actually doesn't know what is expected of him. Or he is not being told the right thing to do, but only that he shouldn't do this other thing which doesn't seem to please the parent.

The tiny child learns to hesitate at his mother's commands. Sometimes this hesitation is a real pleasure to the small child because it shows that he understands what the mother is saying. Later on this satisfaction isn't as strong as his overwhelming desire to become acquainted with the things around him and to imitate the conduct of his elders. Then at the parent's "no" he says "no" in return, having found that in most cases his "no" is just as effective as his mother's.

HARDENED TO SLAPS

If he is hurt repeatedly when he doesn't please his mother this will probably temporarily prevent a repetition of the act. But only for the moment. A child gets used to slaps. He gets used to whippings. He never gets used to not being able to act in all kinds of ways in the world in which he is living.

Since prevention of action is literally impossible, the thing to do is to teach him to act in a way that isn't harmful to himself nor annoying to his parent. Everything the child wants to do he can do in some way. We should turn our attention to trying to find the way that the child can act which will satisfy his desire to act, thus teaching him right conduct, rather than hurting him physically when he perpetrates wrong conduct. The parent who believes that the infliction of physical pain teaches the child anything is fastening her faith on shifting sands. The moment her back is turned the child is busy pursuing the line of conduct which the punishment has stopped for the moment. All the child has learned is that it is better for him if his mother doesn't catch him. He hasn't learned what is the right thing to do.

A Test

Just for a trial, lay a sheet of fly paper under the kitchen sink over night. You will be surprised at the number of insects that will be stuck to it in the morning, no matter how clean your house may be. Motto: Leave no food uncovered over night exposed to these pests.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

The Times' free cooking school conducted by Chef Wyman has been discontinued for the summer. Date for resuming has not been set but will be announced later.

LEMON FRUIT SHERBET

One-fourth cupful of orange juice, one-half cupful of lemon juice, two and one-half cupfuls of sugar, four cupfuls of milk, one cupful of any of the following fruits, crushed strawberries, mashed bananas, or mashed peaches. Mix the sugar, orange and lemon juice together, slowly add the milk to the mixture, then add the fruit pulp. Mix well and freeze, if the mixture curdles, it will freeze smooth.

SWEET CUCUMBER PICKLES

Select even-sized small cucumbers, scrub and wash them, place a layer of them in a dish, and sprinkle with salt, continue until all have been used, then cover with cold water, using a cupful of salt to a gallon of water. The next day, drain, and rinse in cold water, and pack them in jars. Sprinkling in between them a small amount of black-and-white mustard seed, small pieces of ginger root, cinnamon bark and small red peppers. To each quart of vinegar add a half a cupful of sugar, and heat to the boiling point, fill the jars to overflowing, adjust the rubber rings, sterilize the covers, and eighten. Keep in a cool, dry place.

ORANGE PIE

Mix one cupful of sugar with five level tablespoonfuls of sifted flour, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of grated orange rind, and one cupful of strained orange juice, place the mixture in a double boiler and allow to cook slowly for ten minutes, stirring constantly. Remove to the side of the fire, and stir in the well-beaten yolks of two eggs. Two tablespoonfuls of butter, and the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs stir over the fire for two minutes, but do not boil. Cool, pour into a baked pie shell, sprinkle with powdered sugar, and finely chopped toasted almonds.

GRAPE-JUICE SOUP

To one quart of grape juice, add one-fourth of a cupful of lemon juice, place in a sauce pan two cupfuls of water and a half a cupful of sugar, add to the grape juice, one tablespoonful of tapioca, and let the grape juice and tapioca simmer slowly until clear, then combine the two mixtures, and let cook for two minutes longer. Remove from the fire and cool, place in the ice box for several hours before serving.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

In the Kitchen File

It is nice to paste the picture of the dish on the reverse side of the recipe card whenever possible. Then you are not apt to forget the suggestions for garnishing.

Odorless

Don't put away a frying pan that smells of onions, fish, etc., when all you have to do to eliminate that odor is to put some vinegar in the pan and bring to a boil. Then wash as usual and all odors will be gone.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

JUST IN TIME

"Just in time!" How much they mean,
Those little words so often seen.
—Farmer Brown's Boy.

It just happened that Farmer Brown's boy saw Jim Crow when the other crows forced him to fly over to the Green Forest. Farmer Brown's boy had happened to be looking down on the Green Meadows when the other crows arrived. He saw them surround Jim Crow and presently he saw Jim Crow fly away with them.

"I do believe," said Farmer Brown's boy, talking to himself, "that those crows made Jim Crow go with them. That's the way it looked to me. Now, I wonder why. I wonder what they are up to. I do hope they don't mean any harm to Jim Crow. It looks to me as if Jim is trying to get away from them. I believe I'll follow to see what's going on."

So Farmer Brown's boy waited until the crows had disappeared in the Green Forest. Then he hurried after them. Farmer Brown's boy knew that they probably had sentinels on watch. You see, he knows a lot about crows. So when he reached the Green Forest he moved very cautiously. It didn't take him long to discover where those crows were. As he had expected, he discovered a sentinel on duty. Then Farmer Brown's boy moved more cautiously than ever.

Farmer Brown's Boy at last got to where he could see the whole show

He didn't want to give the alarm. Presently he discovered that the sentinel was not paying attention to his business. He was too much interested in what was going on among the other crows. So, moving very, very carefully, Farmer Brown's boy at last got where he could see the whole performance. There sat Jim Crow. Yes, sir, there sat Jim Crow in the middle of a circle of crows and Jim Crow looked most forlorn and unhappy. In fact, Jim Crow looked frightened.

Every now and then a crow would lean forward and jabber in crow-talk. When he had finished, another would do the same thing. Farmer Brown's boy suspected that Jim Crow was the subject of that crow-talk. Yes, sir, that's what he suspected. Once, and once only, did he hear Jim Crow say anything. Meanwhile, the voices of those crows sounded more and more angry. They did so. They sounded very angry indeed. Farmer Brown's boy began to feel uneasy. He didn't like the sound of those angry voices. He had a feeling that things were not going altogether too well for Jim Crow. However, he didn't want to interfere.

"I'll wait," said Farmer Brown's boy. "I won't interfere until there seems to be real need of it; but I won't let anything happen to Jim Crow. It looks to me as if this is a trial. Yes, sir, that's what it looks like. If it is a trial, I want to know what they're going to do to Jim Crow."

So Farmer Brown's boy remained hidden where he was and listened to all that went on. The crows became more and more excited; they did more and more jabbering. Finally, at a signal from one old crow, who seemed to be the leader, they all started for Jim Crow. Poor Jim Crow. He was in the middle of a whirling black crowd. Feathers began to fly and they were Jim Crow's feathers. Farmer Brown's boy waited no longer. With a loud yell he sprang forward.

Such a scattering of crows as there was then! They beat the air frantically with their big, black wings. Forgotten was Jim Crow. There was but one thought and that he was to get away. As for Jim Crow, he was a sorry looking sight. In just that minute or two before Farmer Brown's boy had interfered, feathers had been pulled out from all over him. If birds could cry, Jim Crow would have cried from pure joy at the sight of Farmer Brown's boy. He jumped up on the shoulder of Farmer Brown's boy and crowded against his face, all the time doing his best to tell him all about it. You see, he knew that Farmer Brown's boy had stepped in just in time to save his life.

Health and Diet

ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

WATERMELONS ARE COOLING

"It's Watermelon Time in the Old Home Town," might be the theme song of summer. For the peak of the summer heat and the delicious cooling juice of the watermelon arrive together. In fact, the watermelon may be considered as almost being a drink. It is 90 per cent water and this is the purest water nature is able to produce. This is a thirst-quencher, put up in nature's own soda fountain with an attractive cool color, fruit sugar, mineral salts, vitamins and a pleasantly sweet pulp.

The watermelon originated in Africa, where it has been since the beginning of history, so that the Negro's fondness for watermelon must be an inherited instinct. Its refreshment value on a hot day has made it popular not only in Africa, Egypt and in the Orient, but in South America, Mexico, Europe, Canada, the United States and, in fact, every place where man has traveled.

Not alone is man fond of this food but also every animal, including elephants and lions. Watermelons are alkaline-forming foods, the main elements which they supply being lime, iron and potash. They should be eaten when fully ripe, as then the natural sugar is completely developed. Dietetically, the safest rule to follow is to make a complete meal of the melon, using as much as desired at one time and nothing else. Thus, a meal of watermelon will make a delicious luncheon in summer and easy to prepare.

Used alone, watermelon will not only taste the best but give the best results from a health standpoint. In the summer months there is always the chance of using too much of the heavy foods. You will find that a luncheon of watermelon will balance the heavy foods used at breakfast and dinner, as the melon itself is very easily digested, being mostly water and fruit sugar.

Many of my patients have taken exclusive watermelon fasts, using no other food but watermelon for several days. In each case they reported feeling much better and cleaner.

People who are fond of this delectable and lucious summer fruit may sit down to a cold slice of melon and proceed to eat until they cannot hold any more. If no other food is eaten at the same time, this will not be injurious, as quite a large quantity can be eaten at one time with only beneficial effect. When eaten in this way the watermelon is cooling, satisfying and wholesome.

Those who are especially fond of watermelon, cantaloupe or casaba melon, and wish to use these melons with meals, may easily satisfy their appetite by adding a small amount of melon to a salad. An attractive way to use melon with a salad is to add small balls of melon to the salad. These balls are made with a potato baller, which is the same instrument for making Parisian potatoes. This instrument can be secured in any hardware store or restaurant supply house. Another way of using watermelon at the meal is to use a very thin slice with ice cream. Slice the melon fine, remove the seeds, and serve the ice cream on top of the piece of melon. This may be used as an entire luncheon, or as a desert at the end of the meal providing only a small amount of melon is used.

SHOOTING CASE INQUIRY BALKED

Police Report Hands Tied in "Chicago Style" Gunplay

Board Reported to Bar Any "Undercover" Tactics

Wounding of Man on Street May Never be Solved

Unless the body of the supposed victim is found or one of the assailants surrenders voluntarily, the mystery surrounding the "Chicago style" shooting of a man at Pico and Santee streets early yesterday morning will, perhaps, never be solved. Police detectives declare that their hands are tied in using the only means of investigating such a case by the reported attitude of the Police Commission forbidding any association between police officers and underworld characters.

Three witnesses, two women and a man, reported seeing the gunmen's victim shot down and carried away in an automobile, but they were not able to catch the license number of the car or to obtain a detailed description of any of the men. No pistol shells or any other article which might have provided a clew to the identity of the victim and his supposed slayers were found at the scene.

NOT A SINGLE CLEW

"There is not one single clew we can work upon," Inspector of Detectives Davidson, head of the central homicide squad, declared.

Chief of Police Steckel, while declaring he is not in any position to make a statement regarding the prevalent rumor that detectives visiting underworld haunts are being watched by investigators from the Police Commission and Mayor's office, admitted that unless the investigating members of the police department are free to frequent such places, their chances of rounding up any gang of criminals are cut to a minimum.

"Burglars, bandits and gunmen hang around bootleg joints," he explained. "They have certain underworld places where they gather. They associate with women of the street and spend their money in such places. Naturally, then, detectives have got to find these places and do a great deal of undercover work if they are going to get anywhere with their work."

SHOOTING DESCRIBED

The shooting yesterday occurred shortly after midnight. First report of it was telephoned to police by Mrs. Lena Prondtey of 1303 Santee street. She said she was looking out of her apartment window and saw two men chasing a third man. As they ran the men in pursuit fired two shots from pistols. The fleeing man pitched headfirst to the sidewalk in front of 321 East Pico street. The next moment a fourth man drove up in either a coupe or roadster. The victim was picked up and shoved into the car, one of his assailants climbing in afterward and the other running away on foot in another direction.

As the car sped away Mrs. Prondtey said she heard the victim groaning loudly and the sound of a third shot. From Mrs. B. Graham, also of 1303 Santee street, and Cyrus Pettigrew, a colored street sweeper of 1248 East Ninth street, who was walking near the intersection, the police received the same story.

"REBOUND" CLOSES TONIGHT

The last two performances of the charming comedienne, Ina Claire, in Donald Ogden Stewart's comedy, "Rebound," will be given today at the Belasco Theater.

Monday at the Belasco and branch box offices seats will be placed on sale for the limited engagement of David Belasco's production, "It's a Wise Child," the comedy by Laurence E. Johnson that has run for more than a year in the East.

"It's a Wise Child" was brought to the Coast direct from its Broadway run with no intervening stops en route, and will return directly East as soon as the engagement at the Belasco is concluded.

There will be the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees during the short engagement of "It's a Wise Child," but no performances Sunday.

Girl Reported for Late Hours Drinks Poison

Despondent because she had been reported to the City Mother's Bureau for having kept too late hours one night, according to police, Miss Mary Schwan, 15 years of age, attempted to end her life yesterday by swallowing poison in her home at 1305 Ingraham street. She was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where police surgeons stated she has a good chance for recovery.

The girl was found by her brother Victor. Policewoman Proffitt of the Police Juvenile Bureau, declared that until after the girl was taken to the hospital she had not been apprised of the asserted complaints against the girl's conduct, but learned, she said, that the case had been investigated by the City Mother.

STARS PLAN RETURN TO STAGE

John Murray Anderson Back from European Journey; Joe E. Brown Leaves for Trip Late in Fall; Joyzelle, Dancer, Signs for Fox Role

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

With a lull of production at First National, following the completion of a very full season's program, several contract players there are contemplating a return to the stage at least until the reopening of activities at the studios, slated for November 1, next.

OTIS SKINNER

Otis Skinner, star of "Kismet," will return to New York today, where he is to look into some stage offers and where he will also enjoy a short vacation with his family. The star has been so much interested in the mechanics of talking pictures, it is said, that he can pretty nearly take the apparatus apart and put it together again. He will return to First National for another picture by spring at the latest.

Ona Munson, who is said to have distinguished herself in "Going Wild" and "The Hot Heiress," First National films, is returning shortly to New York, where it is expected that she will appear shortly in a musical stage play to be produced by Warner Brothers.

Sidney Blackmer is leaving soon for New York, where he will very likely play opposite his wife, Lenore Ulric, in her new play, being produced by Erlanger and entitled "God's Own." In case he does not play the role he will probably return to Hollywood, where he has received many picture offers. "God's Own" is by William Du Bois and will be directed by John D. Williams, who directed Maude Adams and who also was responsible for the stage presentation of "Rain" and other successes. Blackmer, as is remembered, played opposite his wife in "Mima."

ANDERSON TO DIRECT UNIVERSAL SPECIALS

John Murray Anderson has returned to Hollywood from a three months' tour in Europe to embark upon a permanent motion-picture career as a director, under the Universal banner. Due to the brilliant success scored by Anderson's production of "King of Jazz," featuring Paul Whiteman and his band, the former New York stage producer was signed to a long-term contract by Carl Laemmle, Jr., before he departed for Europe on his annual vacation.

Under the terms of his present contract Anderson will direct two special productions during the coming year. It is probable that he will direct one of three successful stage plays before he embarks on another musical production.

"American talking pictures are still the most popular in Europe despite the improvements to be made in our foreign talking versions," said Anderson. "In London, for example, the critics deplore the fact that the theatergoers walk right by theaters showing home-made pictures to patronize the Hollywood-made production."

Joe E. Brown to Travel

That popular young comedian, Joe E. Brown, isn't going to let any more time elapse before taking in the sights of Europe.

JOE E. BROWN

He and Mrs. Brown, accompanied by their two boys, are leaving here the last of September, and will sail for Europe on October 15, to be gone three months. The comedian has been working hard during the past year or two, and feels he needs a vacation. He is to visit some baths in Germany, among other places.

"Nobody can bother you in a bath," he grinned yesterday.

Brown's itinerary will include, of course, London and Paris.

Joyzelle Signs With Fox

That charming young person, Joyzelle, dancer, has been signed by Fox for a featured role in "Just Imagine," we learned yesterday.

Miss Joyzelle has been building an enviable reputation for herself in pictures of late. Now she is to join a cast which includes as principals John Garrick, Maureen O'Sullivan and Frank Albertson.

Fox is introducing some color photography into "Just Imagine," and expects to make the feature a special.

Maurice Chevalier Departs

The popular Maurice Chevalier is seeking once more his native land—partly, he declares, in order to insure retention of his accent, which really is an asset in his case. He left last night for New York and France.

He was preceded by Mme. Chevalier, who left a week ago in order to be near her mother, who is ill. The Chevaliers' home is in Cannes, and there, once a year, the popular player appears in a benefit performance.

Carmelita Geraghty In It

It looks as though "Fifty Million Frenchmen," which Warners are to produce as a picture, will have 50,000,000 actors in it before they get through. It has one of the largest casts boasted by any picture production in a long time.

CARMELITA GERAGHTY

Carmelita Geaghty is the latest charmer to be signed for the picture. She is to be given a featured role, that of the French girl, Marcelle.

Miss Garaghty has made a steady rise in pictures, starting two or three years ago.

George Stone With R.-K.-O.

After two-score tests for the role of Sol Levy in R.-K.-O.'s "Cimarron," Georgie Stone has won the part. He affixed his signature to a contract yesterday, according to the announcement of William Le Barron.

Gladys George Claims Lengthy Stage Career

Like Topsy, Gladys George "just growed up" into the acting profession. This youthful actress is now at El Capitan Theater, costarring with Tom Moore and Ernest Glendinning in "Tea for Three," a sophisticated society comedy by Roi Cooper Megrue.

Miss George has been on the stage since childhood with the exception of the time she was in school, running the gamut from the naivete of Little Lord Fauntleroy, and Little Eva in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" to such roles as Norma Besant in "Coquette" and Sadie Thompson in "Rain."

In "Tea for Three" the actress has the role of the wife around whom the plot revolves. Tom Moore and Ernest Glendinning are cast as the friend and the husband, respectively.

Blystone to Be Director of 'Tol'able David'

One of the season's important directorial assignments was made known when Harry Cohn of Columbia Pictures announced that John G. Blystone had been borrowed from the Fox Film Corporation to direct the new all-talking version of Joseph Hergesheimer's gold medal story, "Tol'able David," which is scheduled for early production at the Columbia studios.

No announcement has yet been made as to the selection for the title role.

Costly Objects Used in Film

Rare Chinese art objects, costumes and furniture valued at $250,000 are used by Universal in making "East is West," which Monta Bell is now directing with Lupe Velez, Lewis Ayres and Jean Hersholt.

These properties, all of which are imports from the Orient, are the property of Tom Gubbins, internationally known art collector and dealer, who maintains a large art importing house in Los Angeles.

FOLKLORE DELIGHTS AT BOWL

Percy Grainger Proffers Pleasing Compositions on Evening's Program

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

An evening of folk lore pleased thousands at the Bowl last night. The great musical playground was crowded to the top with Percy Grainger's admirers and they were rewarded with his most characteristic compositions. Molinari conduct folk songs, Italian in the Rossini opera overture and Scandinavian in the Peer Gynt Suite.

"Mr. Bruschino's" overture was extremely familiar music from the pen of Rossini, but the Bowl program notes did not enlighten us as to the origin of this opera which is so obscure as not to be found in any of the standard opera lists which surround Rossini's name. After hearing it one suspected either Mr. Rossini or Mr. Molinari of a pleasant musical joke.

The "Symphonic Variations" by Cesar Franck were interpreted by Grainger in his own style. Commanding clarity of piano tone, blended with the scholarly accompaniment offered by Molinari, and Grainger was not above a virtuoso flourish here and there. Later, the pianist proffered a new composition for piano and orchestra, "Lord Peter's Stable Boy." The meaning of this title was not explained in the notes, but one gathered from its musical content that it was an old English folk song set in Grainger rhythms and orchestrated with charming effect, not far removed from his popular "Shepherd's Hey." He then played the MacDowellesque "Spoon River" and added for encores the "Morris Dance" and "County Derry." The audience was entranced.

Grainger has changed slightly in the past two years, become a bit more conservative and a little less daring. The old charm and rather Whitmanish appeal is still there, however, and he is well able to sway an audience with his simple, gay, swinging music.

The Peer Gynt Suite No. 1, closed the program, with a fitting tribute to Grainger's benefactor and friend, Edward Grieg. Molinari played it with care, but the pure Nordic composer seemed unaccustomed under his hands.

FILMARTE SCREENS CINEMA TRAVELOGUE

"Pamir" Pictorial Record of Territory Between Tibet and Siberia

BY ELENA BOLAND

The second importance of the motion-picture camera, that of education, is everywhere exemplified in "Pamir," the travelogue now at the Filmarte.

What the film record, "With Byrd at the South Pole," accomplished for posterity in its preservation of an heroic achievement, this cinematic account has also tried to attain. Unfortunately, the one essential necessary to even a travelogue, that is, a sense of drama, is totally lacking.

There are views in this of an unexplored land somewhere high between Tibet and Siberia, that are unbelievable as well as unearthly in beauty. They are amazing, but they fail to hold interest, simply because there is no connection which would establish a meaning.

"Pamir" is an account of an expedition which set out in June of 1928 to scale the mountain of Pamir, some 21,000 feet in height. This ascent, which first comprised long travel across endless deserts, skirting vast salt seas, took five months of stern endurance and privation.

This expedition was under the supervision of the U.S.S.R. The party was made up of Germans and Russians under the direction of Waldimir Schneider. The film companies responsible for the pictorial result were the Mejrabpomfilm Copany of Moscow and the Prometheusfilm organization of Berlin.

What "Pamir" does accomplish is an insight to a hitherto unseen land with its lone and primitive peoples. The various mountain tribes which are shown, their homes (which look like English buns lost in a field) and the grand fiesta given to the explorers by all the clans, are all of great interest.

The expedition was a scientific one and specimens of strange bugs and animals add to the feeling of adventure and remoteness.

In many places the photography is remarkable. Elias Toltshau handled the camera. He has obtained extraordinary effects through startling splotches of white in the foreground contrasted to a concentrated, eerie blackness in the distance. Had he used a bit more judgment in piecing his "shots" together, he could have had an exceptionally fine chronicle.

Theda Bara in the full splendor of her olden glory slithers through "The Clemenceau Case," a revival which also features Stuart Holmes. Alexander Dumas was responsible for the story, but time is responsible for the many laughs, which are aided considerably by the organist's choice of suitable accompaniments.

Hamilton Has New Schedule

Lloyd Hamilton has started to work on the first of his new series of Educational comedies for the 1930-31 season. It is evident that Educational studios is assuring Lloyd of greater possibilities on the new schedule than in his previous productions.

The company has signed some competent players to appear in support of Hamilton in the first picture, which William Goodrich is directing. These include such well-known actors as Ruth Hiatt, Ed Brady, Dan Wolheim, Peggy Doner—a vaudeville headliner for a number of years—William McCall and Al Thompson.

DORIS LLOYD TO PLAY

Doris Lloyd has been signed for the feminine lead in "The Champion," which is coming to the Hollywood Playhouse with Grant Mitchell as star.

FOY DIRECTS

Bryan Foy is directing a series of two-reel Vitaphone Varieties featuring Joe Frisco for Warner Brothers.

Film Romance in Capable Hands

Lila Lee

And Elliott Nugent dominate the sentimental scenes of "The Unholy Three," the M.-G.-M. picture now showing at the new Pantages Theater. Lon Chaney is the star of the production.

AMATEURS TO APPEAR AT LOEW'S

Two Bands will Furnish Music for Gala Midnight Performance

The flavor of the old-time amateurs, including the impromptu "ad libs" of the audience, and the well-known hook, will be brought back to Loew's State Theater patrons tonight as a feature of the midnight matinee.

Accompanying the current Fanchon and Marco stage revue, "Busy Bee" idea, for tonight's late revel, two bands will play on the stage. Besides the regular orchestra a troupe of talented girls will present songs, dances and instrumental selections. Others featured in the stage revue are Cooper and Orren, Paul Howard, Liana Galen, Phil Arnold, Cherry Green and the Sunkist Ensemble.

John McCormack in "Song o' My Heart," in its first popular showing, is the screen attraction.

AIR DRAMA COMING TO ORPHEUM

"Dawn Patrol" Starts Run Wednesday; Barthelmess in Starring Role

Wednesday has been set as the date for the local premiere of "The Dawn Patrol," starring Richard Barthelmess, at the Orpheum Theater. The First National production is now playing at the Winter Garden in New York.

"The Dawn Patrol" is said to further the success of Barthelmess in "Weary River," "Drag," and "Son of the Gods."

In the air drama the list of players in support of Barthelmess is imposing. Included are Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Neil Hamilton, William Janney, Clyde Cook, Gardner James, James Finlayson, Frank McHugh, Jack Ackroyd and Harry Allen. Howard Hawks directed. One of the unique features of "The Dawn Patrol" is that there are no women in the cast.

Film Farce to Commence Last Week's Showing

"The Matrimonial Bed," the film farce with Frank Fay, Lilyan Tashman, James Gleason, Beryl Mercer and Arthur Carew, starts its second and last week at Warner Brothers' Hollywood Theater today.

This story of a man's trouble in finding his rightful home and wife after an absence of five years is causing a deal of laughter.

On the stage is the Larry Ceballos revue of 100 people, featuring the California Collegians and Florence Robinson, both direct from New York. This is their only engagement on the Coast.

Fawcett Has Many Roles

George Fawcett was "discovered"—he admits it himself—by Von Stroheim. The actor, who has had a run of foreign characters and is playing another as a Russian count in "The New Moon" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, did his first screen foreigner in "The Merry Widow." Von Stroheim, who directed the picture, saw Fawcett as the king. The actor enacted the part, and following this picture played nearly every nationality.

"The New Moon" costars Lawrence Tibbett and Grace Moore and is directed by Jack Conway.

NAMED BY AUNTS

ZaSu Pitts, appearing in Paramount's "Monte Carlo," got her name from her two aunts, Eliza and Susan. In order to appease both, her mother took the last of one's name and the first syllable of the other's when she christened the baby.

FESTIVITIES PLANNED AT LATE SHOW

Chinese Theater Arranges Special Program; Notable Personages to Attend

At tonight's midnight matinee gala festivities will mark the celebration of the 150th jubilee performance of "Hell's Angels," Howard Hughes's aerial film, in Grauman's Chinese Theater, with Jean Harlow as mistress of ceremonies.

Special features are being planned for the late-hour celebration at which the feminine star of the picture will officiate. Several celebrities are planning to attend the matinee, it is announced.

Arrangements are being made to accommodate large numbers of visitors from near-by cities who have found in the midnight matinees an opportunity to sit with the stars in a carnival atmosphere.

'Storm' Date Definitely Set for Thursday

The premiere of "The Storm," starring Lupe Velez and featuring William Boyd, has been definitely set for Thursday at the Million Dollar Theater.

Just off the production calendar of Universal studios, "The Storm" has won a place with the outstanding releases of the new season by the Laemmle organization, according to the theater.

The feature picture will be augmented by an assortment of five vaudeville acts and the regular short subjects. William Powell in "Shadow of the Law" is the current offering.

DIRECTOR WILL ATTEND OLSEN'S

Earl Burtnett, popular orchestra leader, will be guest of honor at George Olsen's club tomorrow night. Burtnett will be the third director guest at Olsen's, Gus Arnheim and Abe Lyman having been previously honored.

Several new features will be introduced in Olsen's summer revue, including "Good Time Charlie," a night club comedy skit, and "The Four Volga Boys," a Russian travesty.

THEATER MART TO PRESENT NEW PLAY

Miami Alvarez

Sophisticated drama, atmospheric in manner of approach, is "The Blue Peacock," by Katherine T. Von Blon, which features as the leading lady Miami Alvarez, seen recently here in the role of the wife in Porto-Riche's "L'Amoureuse." The new play is one of four one-acts to be given at the Theater Mart beginning Wednesday.

Elly Malyon, who appeared with Pauline Frederick and Lenore Ulric here, is to take an important part, while Shizu Okajima will play the serving maid. Dayton Lummis has been assigned the leading male role. Francis Josef Hickson will direct.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

THE fall season has begun to take form. There ought to be some very good theaters in these parts before very long, judging from talk—and serious talk—along the rialto. All sorts of things are in the air.

There is for one, a production of "Young Love," Samson Raphaelson's play. George Holland, smart young eastern showman who invaded Los Angeles when he brought Schwab and Mandel's "Follow Thru" to town last fall, and who followed that piece with "June Moon," will produce.

The plan is now to put Tom Douglas, actor now appearing with Elsie Ferguson in "Fata Morgana," into his original role. Douglas played in "Young Love" with James Rennie and Dorothy Gish when it was presented in New York.

An important woman star will be secured to fill the role Miss Gish had. For that matter, there are two other important parts, one for a man and one for a woman.

Pauline Frederick at Belasco

Messrs. Edward Belasco and Homer Curran are diligently combing the horison for a play for Pauline Frederick, whom they have under contract. They hope to have one in time to present Miss Frederick as soon as the run of "It's A Wise Child" is over. That comedy incidentally, arrives here from San Francisco, its first stop after New York, a week from this coming Monday.

The Gilbert Seldes version of "Lysistrata" which the Belasco management has tied up, will not come until, perhaps, October. For one thing, A. Leslie Pearce, who is to direct, is out of town.

"Pickwick" Coming to Town

News from the East puts "Pickwick," which showed in New York in the fall of 1927, on the road and into Los Angeles this winter. William Danforth, of operetta note, has been engaged for the leading role. The tour will begin in Washington in October.

"Orchid Annie" Again

Somebody who should know about this broke down yesterday and told that there is a plan afoot to revive "Little Orchid Annie," the gold-digger play which had its start here a season or so ago. It was tried in New York last season. If the revival takes place—sometimes these things come off and sometimes they don't—it will be at the Hollywood Playhouse.

Two Shows Depart

Meantime two shows are departing this evening. "Rebound" with Ina Claire, after filling the Belasco coffers (the past week's business has been tremendous, sellouts in the evening and an extra matinee yesterday) passes into history. Miss Claire goes to New York for a picture. The cast disbands.

"Fata Morgana," with Elsie Ferguson and Tom Douglas, wends its way northward. It goes into Erlanger's Columbia Theater, San Francisco, Monday evening.

"El Dorado" Starts Tonight

The first performance of John Steven McGroarty's new play, "El Dorado," will be given this evening at McGroarty Park, Tujunga. It is a historic drama dealing with the discovery of gold in California. Hanley Stafford will play the leading role, while supporting him will be Elwyn Eaton, James Neil, Lee Morris and others. Edwin N. Wallack directed the rehearsals.

Pasadena Play to East

"The Man, Saul," which closes its run at the Pasadena Community Playhouse tonight, will open in New York on October 13, according to a news dispatch from the East to this desk last night. Paul Muni will retain his leading role. Mike Donlin, former baseball player with the New York Giants, and Morgan Farley are possible substitutions in the current cast. Robert Milton will probably be the director. Despite its ten-day tryout locally, "The Man, Saul" will play a week out of town before going into New York.

"Dumb" Roles Turn Trick for Player

Trying to analyze motion-picture success is like tackling a Chinese puzzle.

Voice gets some players to the top. Beauty does it for others and personality furnishes the success key for more.

Acting "dumb" turned the trick for Stuart Erwin.

In defying all rules for success by capitalizing on dumbness, Erwin has proved himself smart to the extent of a long-term contract with Paramount which brings him excellent comedy roles. He now is taking the part of a not-too-bright bell boy in "Social Errors," with Leon Errol, Richard Arlen and Mary Brian as his partners in comedy.

BLOSSOM ROOM TO HONOR FILM CAST

Honoring members of the cast of First National's comedy, "Top Speed," a special night will be dedicated to them in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel Monday evening.

Joe E. Brown, star of the film, will be guest artist on the entertainment program, heading a group of performers, including Laura Lee and Frank McHugh.

MACKENZIE SIGNED

M. H. Hoffman, president of Liberty Productions, announces the employment of Aneas MacKenzie, English sportsman. MacKenzie will assist Victor Halperin and George Draney in the technical details of English society life during the hunting season. These are to be shown in "East Lynne," which goes into production next month.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Seizing the Emperor by the shoulder, Tarzan lifted him from his throne and wheeled him about. Then grasping him by the scruff of the neck and the bottom of his cuirass, he lifted him from the floor just as several pikemen leaped forward to rescue Sublatus. Tarzan whirled about with the Emperor in his grasp.

Using the body of the screaming Sublatus as a shield so that the soldiers dared not attack for fear of killing their Emperor, Tarzan held them at bay. "Tell them," said Tarzan to the interpreter, "that if any man interferes with me before I reach the street, I shall wring the Emperor's neck."

When this message was given to Sublatus, he stopped screaming orders to his people to attack the ape-man and instead warned them to permit Tarzan to leave the palace. Carrying the Emperor above his head, Tarzan leaped from the dais, and, as he did so, the soldiers fell back in accordance with the commands of Sublatus.

The Emperor ordered everybody to turn their backs so that they would not witness the indignity that was being done their ruler. Down the long courtroom, through the corridors to the outer court, Tarzan of the Apes carried Sublatus Imperator above his head, and, at Tarzan's order, the interpreter went on just ahead of them.

Rich Garageman Given Sentence

Paul F. Hill, wealthy garage man, was sentenced to five days' imprisonment by Superior Judge Crawford yesterday after he had three times refused to pay his wife alimony, telling her he would "rot in jail first."

Mrs. Emily Hill, the wife, obtained a divorce after testifying he and a woman slipped away to a cabin from a camping party.

Judge Crawford said he had reduced Hill's alimony once because he testified he was unable to pay, but that his continued refusal was a "clear case of contempt."

CEMETERY REZONING DEBATE POSTPONED

Decision in the matter of permitting the Hollywood Cemetery Association to develop a 600-foot strip of its Santa Monica Boulevard frontage for business purposes is now scheduled for Monday morning, the City Council having postponed debate until then. Arguments for the proposed change in zone were heard yesterday from Charles T. Sutton, attorney, and Frank Heron, general manager, of the association, while Attorney James Donovan and Mrs. F. M. Hotchkiss opposed the measure. The postponement was taken on motion of Councilman Ingram.

The same court ordered Robert Fox, 17, of 1349 Muirfield Road, transferred to the Juvenile Court for leaving a campfire burning in a national forest. Henry E. Fritz, 13, of 1012 North Harvard Boulevard, admitted building a fire outside of a regular camping grounds and surrendered his driver's license for three months.
